T2 Corporation – Income Tax Guide 2016

Is this guide for you?

In this guide, we give you basic information on how to complete the T2 Corporation Income Tax Return. This return is used to calculate federal income tax and credits. Corporations that have a permanent establishment in any province or territory other than Quebec or Alberta also use this return to report provincial and/or territorial income taxes and credits. Corporations with a permanent establishment in Quebec or Alberta must file a separate provincial return.

If you are blind or partially sighted, you can get our publications in braille, large print, etext, or MP3 by going to cra.gc.ca/alternate. You can also get our publications and your personalized correspondence in these formats by calling 1-800-959-5525. If you are outside Canada and the United States, call us at 613-940-8497. We accept collect calls by automated response. You may hear a beep and experience a normal connection delay.

The law allows Statistics Canada to access business taxpayer information collected by the Canada Revenue Agency (CRA). Statistics Canada can now share with provincial or territorial statistical agencies, for research and analysis purposes only, data concerning business activities carried out in their respective province or territory.

This guide uses plain language to explain the most common tax situations. If you need help after you read this guide, call our Business Enquiries line at 1-800-959-5525.

La version française de ce guide est intitulée Guide T2 – Déclaration de revenus des sociétés.

What's new?

Online services for businesses

You can now:

- submit supporting documents on a formal dispute; and
- register to receive online mail for your T2 account when you file your T2 Corporation Income Tax Return online. To view your mail online, you must be registered for My Business Account. For more information, see page 20.

To access our secure online services, go to:

- My Business Account at cra.gc.ca/mybusinessaccount, if you are a business owner; or
- Represent a Client at cra.gc.ca/representatives, if you are an authorized representative or employee.

Service Renewal Initiative

Most corporations now file their taxes electronically. In order to continue offering world-class services, the CRA will be consolidating its processing activities in fewer sites.

Internet filing for insurance corporations

Insurance corporations are able to file their T2 return electronically as of October 2016. See page 10.

Form T1135, Foreign Income Verification Statement

Corporations can Efile Form T1135 for the 2014 and later tax years as of May 16, 2016. The completed Form T1135 must be filed either electronically (Efile) or attached to the corporation's paper return.

2016 federal, provincial, and territorial budgets

New items such as changes introduced in the 2016 federal and various provincial/territorial budgets are outlined in colour in this guide. This guide may contain changes that had not yet become law at the time of publishing.

Abusive tax avoidance and international taxation

Changes were announced concerning abusive tax avoidance, including back-to-back arrangements, base erosion and profit shifting, cross-border surplus stripping, debt parking, valuation for derivatives, and life insurance policies:

Back-to-back arrangements – Existing back-to-back loan rules will be expanded. These rules prevent taxpayers from inserting an intermediary between a Canadian borrower and a foreign lender in an attempt to avoid the tax consequences that would result from a direct loan.

Base erosion and profit shifting (BEPS) – The Government announced it is moving forward with a number of initiatives to address base erosion and profit shifting by:

- introducing country-by-country reporting for large multinational enterprises;
- applying revised international guidance on transfer pricing;
- addressing treaty abuse;
- providing spontaneous exchange of tax rulings.

Cross-border surplus stripping – For dispositions that occur after March 21, 2016, the application of an anti-surplus stripping rule will be generally expanded to prevent a non-resident shareholder of a Canadian corporation from extracting (either now or in the future), free of withholding tax, the corporation's retained earnings that exceed the amount of capital that has been contributed to the corporation by the shareholder.

Debt parking – For foreign currency debt that meets the conditions to become a parked obligation after March 21, 2016, rules will be introduced so that any foreign exchange gain on a foreign currency debt will be realized when the debt becomes a parked obligation. A parked obligation is a transfer of a debt by an initial creditor to another creditor that does not deal at arm's length with the debtor, to avoid the tax consequences related to the settling or extinguishing of the debt.

Valuation for derivatives – A derivative that provides rights to a corporation and is held on income account is considered to be inventory property, and the corporation could therefore choose to value it at the lower of its cost and its fair market value at the end of the year (inventory valuation rules). For agreements entered into after March 21, 2016, derivatives will still be treated as inventory, but will not be eligible for these inventory valuation rules.

Life insurance policies – Some taxpayers have structured their affairs so that the insurance benefit limit may not apply, resulting in an artificial increase in either a corporation's capital dividend account balance or the adjusted cost base of a partnership interest. For policy benefits received as a result of deaths that occurs after March 21, 2016:

- the legislation will be amended to ensure the insurance benefit limit applies as intended;
- the capital dividend account and paid-up capital rules for private corporations and the adjusted cost base rules for partnership interests will be amended where an interest in a life insurance policy was disposed of after 1999 and before March 22, 2016, for consideration in excess of the proceeds of the disposition determined under the policy transfer rule.

For dispositions that occur after March 21, 2016, the legislation will be amended to ensure that amounts are not inappropriately received tax-free by a policyholder as a result of a disposition of an interest in a life insurance policy.

Emissions allowances

Specific rules will be introduced to clarify the tax treatment of emissions allowances and to eliminate the double taxation of certain free allowances.

Emissions allowances will be treated as inventory for all corporations. However, the “lower of cost and market” method for the valuation of inventory will not be available for emissions allowances because of the potential volatility in their value.

If a regulated emitter receives a free allowance, there will be no income inclusion when receiving the allowance. Also, the deduction for an accrued emissions obligation will be limited to the extent that the obligation exceeds the cost of any emissions allowances that the corporation has acquired and that can be used to settle the obligation.

If a corporation disposes of an emissions allowance otherwise than to satisfy an obligation under the emissions allowance regime, any proceeds received in excess of the corporation’s cost, if any, for the allowance will be included in computing income.

This measure will apply to emissions allowances acquired in tax years beginning after 2016. It will also apply to emissions allowances acquired in tax years ending after 2012 if a corporation makes an election in its income tax return for the 2016 or 2017 tax year.

Extended reassessment period

Under proposed changes, beginning with tax years that end after October 2, 2016, the CRA may at any time reassess an income tax return beyond the normal reassessment period where:

- the corporation does not report on their income tax return a sale or other disposition of a real or immovable property that is capital property of the corporation;
- the corporation does not file an income tax return but the CRA issues an assessment of tax (for example, after a review of a corporation who did not file a return); or
- the corporation owned the capital property directly or indirectly through a partnership and the partnership did not report the sale or other disposition in the partnership information return.

Under this extended reassessment period, the reassessment is limited to amounts reasonably relating to the unreported or previously unreported disposition of real or immovable property that is capital property of the corporation or partnership, as the case may be.

For more information, go to cra.gc.ca/gncy/bdgt/2016/qa13-eng.html.

Capital cost allowance

Under proposed changes, for property acquired for use after March 21, 2016, that has not been used or acquired for use before March 22, 2016:

- accelerated capital cost allowance (CCA) will be allowed for electric vehicle charging stations that meet certain power thresholds; and

- the range of electrical energy storage property that is eligible for accelerated CCA will be clarified and expanded.

See page 39.

Eligible capital property

On January 1, 2017, the eligible capital property regime will be replaced with a new CCA class available to businesses. Transitional rules will be provided. See page 46.

Small business tax rate

For tax years ending after 2016, the small business tax rate will remain at the 2016 rate of 10.5%. See page 57.

Avoidance of the business limit and taxable capital limit

For tax years that begin after March 21, 2016, rules will be strengthened to keep some Canadian-controlled private corporations (CCPCs) from multiplying their small business limit and reducing their taxable capital limit (and consequently increasing their small business deduction). See page 57.

Preventing multiplication of the small business deduction

For tax years that begin after March 21, 2016, to prevent the multiplication of the small business deduction (SBD), the specified partnership rules will also apply to partnership structures in which a CCPC provides services or property to a partnership during the tax year of the CCPC, where the CCPC or a shareholder of the CCPC is a member of the partnership. A similar measure will also apply for corporate structures that multiply access to the SBD. See page 57.

Assignment of the business limit

For tax years that begin after March 21, 2016, CCPCs can assign all or part of their business limit under subsection 125(3.2) or specified partnership business limit to another corporation. See page 59.

Tax on personal services business income (section 123.5)

For tax years that end after 2015, a corporation must add to its Part I tax payable for a year an amount equal to 5% of the corporation’s taxable income for the year from a personal services business. See page 65.

Newfoundland and Labrador higher rate of corporation income tax

Effective January 1, 2016, the higher rate of Newfoundland and Labrador corporation income tax is increased from 14% to 15%. See page 81.

Newfoundland and Labrador capital tax on financial institutions

Effective January 1, 2016, this tax is increased from 5% to 6%. See page 82.

Newfoundland and Labrador manufacturing and processing profits tax credit

This credit is eliminated effective January 1, 2016. See page 82.

Nova Scotia food bank tax credit for farmers

Effective January 1, 2016, corporations that carry on a farming business in Nova Scotia may claim a non-refundable tax credit equal to 25% of the amount of the qualifying donation that is deducted the same year under section 110.1 of the federal Income Tax Act for the donation. A qualifying donation is a donation of one or more agriculture products to an eligible food bank. See page 86.

New Brunswick corporation income tax rates

Effective April 1, 2016, the lower rate decreases from 4% to 3.5% and the higher rate increases from 12% to 14%. See page 86.

Ontario political contributions tax credit

Effective January 1, 2017, this credit is eliminated for corporations. They will have up to 20 years to claim their unused credits. See page 89.

Ontario research and development tax credit

For eligible expenditures incurred in tax years that end on or after June 1, 2016, the rate for the non-refundable Ontario research and development tax credit decreases from 4.5% to 3.5%. The rate reduction is prorated for tax years straddling May 31, 2016. See page 90.

Ontario interactive digital media tax credit

A corporation has to apply for a certificate for this credit by the later of 18 months after the end of the tax year in which development of the eligible product was completed or May 15, 2017. See page 95.

Ontario innovation tax credit

For eligible expenditures incurred in tax years that end on or after June 1, 2016, the rate for the refundable Ontario innovation tax credit decreases from 10% to 8%. The rate reduction is prorated for tax years straddling May 31, 2016. See page 98.

Manitoba small business venture capital tax credit

This credit is extended by three years, from December 31, 2016, to December 31, 2019. See page 102.

Manitoba interactive digital media tax credit

Effective on June 30, 2016, the limits of 24 months and $500,000 labour expense per project from the existing 40% credit are eliminated. And a new 35% credit is added for a corporation that pays less than 25% of its wages to Manitoba employees, but pays wages of at least $1 million each year to Manitoba employees working on eligible projects. See page 103.

Manitoba green energy equipment tax credit

The Province introduces a new component of the tax credit of 8% for manufacturers of green energy transmission equipment sold before July 1, 2023. This measure is effective on November 5, 2015. See page 104.

British Columbia farmers' food donation tax credit

The Province introduced a 25% non-refundable credit for corporations in the business of farming in British Columbia that donate a qualifying agricultural product after February 16, 2016, to a registered charity that provides food to those in need or helps to operate a school meal program. The tax credit must be claimed in the same year that a deduction for charitable gifts under section 110.1 of the federal Income Tax Act is claimed for the donation. See page 108.

British Columbia film and television tax credit

For productions that start principal photography on or after October 1, 2016, the digital animation, visual effects and post-production (DAVE) tax credit is decreased from 17.5% to 16%. For productions that start principal photography after June 26, 2015, the regional and the distant location tax credits for animated productions are calculated differently than for live action productions. See page 109.

British Columbia production services tax credit

For productions that start principal photography on or after October 1, 2016, the basic production services tax credit is decreased from 33% to 28% and the digital animation, visual effects and post-production (DAVE) services tax credit is decreased from 17.5% to 16%. For productions that start principal photography after June 26, 2015, the regional and the distant location production services tax credits for animated productions are calculated differently than for live action productions. See page 111.

British Columbia mining exploration tax credit

This credit, which was scheduled to expire December 31, 2016, is extended three years to the end of 2019. Starting January 1, 2017, the period for claiming the credit for a tax year is reduced from 36 to 18 months after the end of that tax year. See page 112.

References in this guide

When we mention parts, sections, subsections, paragraphs, and subparagraphs in this guide, we are referring to the Income Tax Act and Regulations of Canada, unless otherwise specified. This guide does not replace the Income Tax Act and its regulations.

We also refer to information circulars (ICs) and interpretation bulletins (ITs) that we publish to give you more technical information. A new series of technical publications, called the Income Tax Folios, is progressively replacing the IT Bulletins. This process is taking several years. To be notified of new or updated income tax folios, subscribe to our electronic mailing list at cra.gc.ca/lists.

Many of our publications, including forms, schedules, ICs, ITs, and folios are available at cra.gc.ca/forms. A table at the end of this guide lists the forms by number.

AgriStability and AgriInvest programs

The CRA is not involved in administering the AgriStability and AgriInvest programs for corporations. For more information on these programs, go to agr.gc.ca/agristability and agr.gc.ca/agriinvest.

Our service pledge

The CRA will process 90% of T2 corporation income tax returns within 45 days for the electronic version and 90 days for the paper version.

Who has to file a T2 return?

Resident corporations

All corporations—including non-profit organizations, tax-exempt corporations, and inactive corporations—have to file a T2 return for every tax year, even if there is no tax payable. The only exceptions to this rule are tax-exempt Crown corporations, Hutterite colonies, and corporations that were registered charities throughout the year.

Non-resident corporations

A non-resident corporation has to file a T2 return if, at any time in the year, one of the following situations applies:

- it carried on business in Canada;
- it had a taxable capital gain; or
- it disposed of taxable Canadian property, unless the disposition meets all the criteria listed below in the section “Dispositions of taxable Canadian property (certificates of compliance).”

This requirement applies even if any profits or gain(s) realized are claimed by the corporation to be exempt from Canadian income tax due to the provisions of a tax treaty.

The meaning of “business” is defined in subsection 248(1) and the extended meaning of “carrying on business [in Canada]” is defined in section 253.

The references to taxable capital gain do not include any gain resulting from the disposition of shares that are listed on a designated stock exchange (other than taxable Canadian property).

A non-resident corporation also has to file a T2 return in a number of situations, including:

- when it has filed Form NR6, Undertaking to File an Income Tax Return by a Non-Resident Receiving Rent from Real or Immovable Property or Receiving a Timber Royalty, to pay Part I tax on the net amount of timber royalty income or rental income from real property under subsection 216(1) for the current year and we approved it; or
- when it has filed Form T1288, Application by a Non-Resident of Canada (Corporation) for a Reduction in the Amount of Non-Resident Tax Required to Be Withheld on Income Earned from Acting in a Film or Video Production, to pay Part I tax on the net amount of acting services under subsection 216.1(1) for the current year and we approved it.

Even if neither of these requirements applies, a non-resident corporation may still want to file a return if any of the following situations apply:

- when it wants to claim a refund;
- when it wants to elect to pay Part I tax on the net amount of timber royalty income or rental income from real property under subsection 216(1) for the current year; or
- when it wants to elect to pay Part I tax on the net amount of acting services under subsection 216.1(1) for the current year.

Note

Non-resident corporations must file their T2 return, schedules, and the General Index of Financial Information in Canadian funds only. They are not eligible to file in a functional currency per section 261.

If you have questions about non-resident returns, go to cra.gc.ca/tx/nrrsdnts/bsnss.

Dispositions of taxable Canadian property (certificates of compliance)

A non-resident corporation that disposes of taxable Canadian property must notify the CRA and may be required to get a certificate of compliance under section 116. For details, see Information Circular IC72-17, Procedures Concerning the Disposition of Taxable Canadian Property by Non-residents of Canada – Section 116.

A non-resident corporation that has a taxable capital gain or disposed of taxable Canadian property, including a corporation that may have received a certificate of compliance from the CRA, has to file a return, unless the disposition meets all the following criteria:

- no tax is payable under Part I for the tax year;
- the corporation is not liable to pay any amount under the Act for any previous tax year (other than an amount covered by adequate security under section 116 or 220); and
- each taxable Canadian property disposed of in the tax year is:
 - excluded property under section 116; or
 - property for which a certificate was issued under section 116.

Taxable Canadian property excludes shares of corporations, and certain other interests, that, during the 60-month period ending at the time of determination, do not derive their value mainly from real or immovable property situated in Canada (including Canadian resource property and timber resource property).

Non-resident corporations claiming treaty exemption

If you carried on a “treaty-protected business” in Canada, had a taxable capital gain, or disposed of a “taxable Canadian property” that was “treaty-protected property” during the year (as defined in section 248), you have to complete the following lines on your return:

- lines 001 to 082 of page 1;
- lines 164, 170, and 171 of page 2;
- lines 270 to 289 of page 3; and
- lines 780 to 990, if applicable, of page 9.

For each of the questions asked at lines 164, 170, and 171 on page 2 of the return to which your response is yes, complete the appropriate form or schedule and attach it to your return. In addition, you have to complete Schedule 91, Information Concerning Claims for Treaty-Based Exemptions.

Rental income from Canada

Rental income from Canada is subject to a 25% withholding on the gross rental income under Part XIII, unless the rate is reduced by a reciprocal tax treaty. A non-resident corporation can elect to be taxed under Part I on its net rental income by filing a T2 return under subsection 216(1) within two years of the end of the tax year. If the non-resident corporation has filed Form NR6, Undertaking to File an Income Tax Return by a Non-Resident Receiving Rent from Real or Immovable Property or Receiving a Timber Royalty, it must file a T2 return under subsection 216(4) within six months of the tax year end. For more information, see IT393R2 – Election Re: Tax on Rents and Timber Royalties Non-Residents.

Note

If you file a T2 return under section 216, include only rental income. If you have any other income, file a second T2 return.

Services rendered in Canada (withholding amount)

A non-resident corporation is subject to a 15% withholding under Regulation 105 on any fee or other amount paid to it for services rendered in Canada (regardless of whether the services are provided by an employee of the corporation or are sub-contracted to another party). This withholding is held on account of any potential tax liability that the corporation may have to Canada. The corporation’s tax liability is determined upon the assessment of its Canadian income tax return.

A corporation related to a non-resident actor is subject to a 23% withholding tax under Part XIII on all amounts it receives for the acting services of the actor in a film or video production in Canada. This withholding tax represents the final tax liability for these acting services. The corporation may elect NOT to be taxed under Part XIII at the 23% rate by filing a return of income under Part I for the year. A non-resident corporation that has received a reduction (filed Form T1288) of this withholding tax from the CRA still has to file a return.

Note

Send your Canadian T2 return that you elected to file under section 216.1 to the tax services office that processed application Form T1288 and issued the reduction. Write “Actor’s election” at the top of page 1 of the return.

Section 153

How do you file your return?

Using tax preparation software

If you are preparing your return using tax preparation software, you must use CRA-certified software. We certify commercial software to ensure that it meets our specifications. You can then file your return electronically using CRA’s Corporation Internet Filing service; My Business Account, if you are a business owner; or Represent a Client, if you are an authorized representative or employee; or you can print the T2 Bar Code Return and mail it to the CRA.

Note

Do not send the T2 bar code by fax. We do not accept it.

If you file through an electronic transmitter, you have to authorize the transmitter by completing a T183 CORP, Information Return for Corporations Filing Electronically, for each tax year. Do not send this form to us, but keep it in case we ask for it later.

Mandatory Internet filing

All corporations with annual gross revenue of more than $1 million have to Internet file their T2 return, except for insurance corporations, non-resident corporations, corporations reporting in functional currency and corporations that are exempt from tax payable under section 149 of the Income Tax Act. Corporations are subject to a penalty for non-compliant returns. For more information see page 15.

Corporation Internet filing

Most corporations, including non-resident corporations and corporations claiming an SR&ED amount, can file their return electronically using the Internet.

Insurance corporations are able to file their T2 return electronically as of October 2016.

You must use CRA-approved software that has been certified for Corporation Internet Filing. By filing electronically, you will receive immediate confirmation that the CRA has received your return, enjoy faster processing and refunds, save on mailing costs, and help the environment by reducing paper consumption.

If you are filing your T2 return electronically, and you have to file a paper certificate or election with your return, send the document(s) to your tax centre (see “Where do you file your paper return” on page 12), except certificates for film and media tax credits. Clearly identify your corporation’s name, business number, and the applicable tax year-end on the documents. If you are filing an election that does not have a prescribed form or prescribed manner, include it with the notes to your financial statements on the General Index of Financial Information (GIFI) to transmit the election electronically with your return, unless otherwise specified on a T2-related form.

For film and media credits, send a paper copy of the certificates to the appropriate Film Services Unit (FSU). The location of the production corporation's books and records usually determines which FSU will handle the review of your claim. A list of FSUs is available at cra.gc.ca/tx/nnrstdnts/flm/mm-eng.html. If the books and records are maintained outside Canada your claim will be reviewed by the FSU located at the Fraser Valley and Northern tax services office.

For information on your eligibility, available software, and more, go to cra.gc.ca/corporation-internet.

Filing without a web access code

You can file corporation returns online without a web access code using the "Transmit a return" service through:

- My Business Account at cra.gc.ca/mybusinessaccount, if you are the business owner; or
- Represent a Client at cra.gc.ca/representatives, if you are an authorized representative or employee.

2D bar code

CRA-certified software produces two-dimensional (2D) bar codes that contain the information needed to assess your return. We use bar code scanners to capture the information on our processing systems.

CRA-certified software produces a T2 Bar Code Return that contains the corporation's identification information, a summary of the financial data, bar codes, and a certification area.

The paper quality and print legibility of your T2 Bar Code Return have to meet our standards and must be printed on one side only. Use paper that is as durable as the 32M paper. The print quality has to be clear and dark enough to read and photocopy easily.

If the T2 Bar Code Return you file was not generated by software that we certified or does not meet our requirements, we will contact you to re-file the return, either in an approved format or using a copy of our forms available on our website.

Generally, in addition to the T2 Bar Code Return, certified software produces a client copy of the T2 return, which looks like a CRA T2 return available on our website. Keep the client copy for your files and send the T2 Bar Code Return to us. Do not send the T2 bar code by fax. We do not accept it.

North American Industry Classification System (NAICS) codes

All certified tax preparation software for T2 returns uses self-identified NAICS codes.

NAICS codes are hierarchical numerical codes used by the member countries of the North American Free Trade Agreement designed to provide common definitions and descriptions of our industries and business activities. NAICS codes are up to six digits long. The Government of Canada as well as the governments of the provinces and territories use the data provided by NAICS codes for economic analysis and fiscal policy responses.

The integration of NAICS codes into T2 commercial tax preparation software packages means that corporations have to pick their main revenue-generating business activity directly from a drop-down list or a simple search. Active corporations that file their T2 returns either by Internet or on paper using 2D bar codes must choose the appropriate codes to describe their main revenue-generating business activity.

Corporations using the return available on our website do not have to enter a NAICS code.

Avoid errors

It is important that you select the most accurate business activity the first time, since the first year's code is carried forward to following years, allowing for a simple validation of the description when there is no change in the main business activity.

If you do not select the business activity, problems and errors will result when you prepare the T2 return to be transmitted electronically or printed in bar-coded format.

If you have any questions on selecting NAICS codes to describe your corporation's main revenue generating business activity when filing your T2 return, call the Business Enquiries line at 1-800-959-5525.

Using the returns available on our website

We produce two different returns.

T2 Corporation Income Tax Return

The T2 Corporation Income Tax Return has nine pages. Any corporation can use it.

T2 Short Return

The T2 Short Return is two pages plus a Schedule 1, Net Income (Loss) for Income Tax Purposes, a Schedule 8, Capital Cost Allowance (CCA), and a Schedule 50, Shareholder Information. It is a simpler version of the T2 Corporation Income Tax Return. Two categories of corporations are eligible to use this return:

1. You can use this return if the corporation is a Canadian-controlled private corporation (CCPC) throughout the tax year and this year, it has either a nil net income or a loss for income tax purposes.
2. You can also use this return if the corporation is exempt from tax under section 149 (such as a non-profit organization).

In addition, the corporation must meet all of the following conditions to use this return:

- it has a permanent establishment in only one province or territory (see page 79);
- it is not claiming any refundable tax credits (other than a refund of instalments it paid);

- it did not receive or pay out any taxable dividends;
- it is reporting in Canadian currency;
- it does not have an Ontario transitional tax debit; and
- it does not have an amount calculated under section 34.2.

If the corporation does not fit into either of the above categories or does not meet all of the above conditions, file a regular T2 return.

When do you have to file your return?

File your return within six months of the end of each tax year. The tax year of a corporation is its fiscal period.

When the corporation's tax year ends on the last day of a month, file the return by the last day of the sixth month after the end of the tax year.

When the last day of the tax year is not the last day of a month, file the return by the same day of the sixth month after the end of the tax year.

The CRA offers a mobile app that lets you create reminders of dates that are important for your business. For more information on the CRA Business Tax Reminders app, go to cra.gc.ca/mobileapps.

Examples

Tax year-end	Filing deadline
March 31	September 30
June 30	December 31
August 31	February 28
September 23	March 23
October 2	April 2

When the T2 filing deadline falls on a Saturday, Sunday, or a public holiday recognized by the CRA, we will consider the return filed on time if it is sent on the first business day after the filing deadline. For more information, go to cra.gc.ca/importantdates.

You must file your return on time. If you do not, we can charge penalties on any return that was not sent by the filing due date. See page 15 for details.

Note

You must file a return no later than three years after the end of a tax year to receive a tax refund.

Re-appropriation of T2 statute-barred credits

Under subsection 221.2(1), the minister of National Revenue may use discretion to re-appropriate T2 statute-barred credits to an established debt on an account associated with the same business number and administered by the CRA.

To request the re-appropriation of a T2 statute-barred credit, send us a completed Form RC431, Request for Re-appropriation of T2 Statute-barred Credits, with all the supporting documents. Complete a separate form for each unique business number.

You can also use the "Enquiries service" in My Business Account at cra.gc.ca/mybusinessaccount. You will have to provide the same details requested on Form RC431 in your enquiry. Keep the requested documents in case we ask for them later.

For more information, see the form or go to cra.gc.ca/t2reappropriation.

Where do you file your paper return?

Under CRA's Service Renewal Initiative, over the next two years, we will be consolidating our tax centres. The tax centres in Winnipeg, Sudbury, and Summerside will continue processing corporation tax returns. To determine where to mail your return, go to cra.gc.ca/cntct/t2ddr-eng.html or call 1-800-959-5525.

Film and media tax credits

Film Services Units at the CRA provide services to corporations that may be entitled to receive the Canadian film or video production tax credit, the film or video production services tax credit, or other available provincial or media tax credits. For more information, including the location and contact numbers for the Film Services Unit serving your area, go to cra.gc.ca/filmservices.

When and how do corporations pay income tax?

Corporations have to pay income tax in monthly or quarterly instalments when the total of Part I, Part VI, Part VI.1, and Part XIII.1 taxes payable for either the previous year or the current year is more than $3,000.

The balance of tax the corporation owes for a tax year is due within either two or three months of the end of that tax year, depending on the circumstances of the corporation.

Interest and penalties apply to late payments. To be on time, you have to make instalment payments and other payments on or before the due date by using one of the several methods of making online payments:

- Pay online by using your financial institution's online banking or telephone banking services;
- Pay online by using CRA's My Payment service at cra.gc.ca/mypayment;
- Pay by setting up a pre-authorized debit agreement using the My Business Account service at cra.gc.ca/mybusinessaccount.

You can also pay in person at your financial institution in Canada. To do so, you have to use a remittance form, which you can request by logging in to My Business Account.

For more information, go to cra.gc.ca/payments or contact your financial institution.

We consider the payment to have been made on the day we receive it, and not on the day you send it.

Your payment due date may fall on a Saturday, Sunday, or a public holiday recognized by the CRA. If so, we will consider the payment as being received on time for calculating instalment interest and penalty if we receive the payment on the first business day after the due date.

For more information, go to cra.gc.ca/importantdates.

Note

Sometimes, penalties and interest on late payments can be cancelled or waived. For more information, see “Cancel or waive penalties or interest” on page 16.

Instalment due dates

Instalment payments for Parts I, VI, VI.1, and XIII.1 taxes are due on the last day of every complete month of a corporation's tax year. The first payment is due one month minus a day from the starting date of the corporation's tax year. The rest of the payments are due on the same day of each month that follows.

Eligible small-CCPCs can make quarterly instalment payments, instead of monthly ones. For more information, see Guide T7B-Corp, Corporation Instalment Guide.

You can view your instalment due dates by using the “Calculate instalment payments” service through:

- My Business Account at cra.gc.ca/mybusinessaccount, if you are the business owner; or
- Represent a Client at cra.gc.ca/representatives, if you are an authorized representative or employee.

Balance-due day

Generally, all corporation taxes (with the exception of Part III and Part XII.6) are due two months after the end of the tax year. However, the tax is due three months after the end of the tax year if the following conditions apply:

- the corporation is a CCPC throughout the tax year;
- the corporation is claiming the small business deduction for the tax year, or was allowed the small business deduction in the previous tax year; and either
- the corporation's taxable income for the previous tax year does not exceed its business limit for that tax year (if the corporation is not associated with any other corporation during the tax year); or
- the total of the taxable incomes of all the associated corporations for their last tax year ending in the previous calendar year does not exceed the total of their business limits for those tax years (if the corporation is associated with any other corporation during the tax year).

The business limit is provided at “Line 410 – Business limit” on page 59. For more information about allocating the business limit among associated corporations, see Schedule 23 on page 28.

Note

For determining balance-due days, the taxable income for the previous year of corporations and associated, subsidiary, and predecessor corporations means taxable income before applying loss carrybacks.

Special rules apply to determine the balance-due day of a new corporation formed after an amalgamation or of a parent corporation after it receives the assets of a subsidiary corporation that is winding-up. For more information, go to cra.gc.ca/tx/bsnss/tpcs/crprtns/pymnts/menu-eng.html or see Guide T7B-Corp, Corporation Instalment Guide.

Sections 125 and 157

Partnerships – Deferral of corporation tax

Under subsection 96(1), income earned by a corporation as a member of a partnership is included in the corporation's income for the corporation's tax year in which the fiscal period of the partnership ends. If the partnership has a fiscal period that ends after the end of the corporation's tax year, taxation of the partnership earnings can be deferred by up to one year. The rules in sections 34.2, 34.3 and amended section 249.1 were introduced to limit the deferral of tax that arises because of this misalignment. The two main aspects of section 34.2 are the rules related to the adjusted stub period accrual and those related to the transitional relief. These rules do not affect a corporation's capital dividend account which is to be determined without reference to section 34.2.

Adjusted stub period accrual (ASPA)

For tax years of a corporation that end after March 22, 2011, some corporations may have to accrue additional income in respect of the partnership (other than dividends for which a deduction is available under section 112 or 113), when the fiscal period of the partnership begins in the tax year and ends in a following tax year. The corporation will be required to accrue income (ASPA) for the portion of the partnership's fiscal period that falls in the corporation's tax year (the stub period).

As the ASPA income inclusion in a tax year is an estimate of the stub period income, the corporation is entitled to claim that same amount in the immediately following tax year. Both the ASPA income inclusion and the treatment of that same amount in the following year are subject to the characterization rules under subsection 34.2(5). As such, the claim in the immediately following tax year may be a deduction or a deemed allowable capital loss, whichever applies. A corporation may have ASPA in respect of more than one partnership and, in such cases, the ASPA rules apply to the corporation on a partnership-by-partnership basis.

In general, a corporation (other than a professional corporation) has to include in its income for a tax year its ASPA in respect of a partnership if:

- the corporation has a significant interest in the partnership at the end of the last fiscal period of the partnership that ends in the tax year;
- another fiscal period of the partnership begins in the tax year and ends after the tax year of the corporation; and
- at the end of the tax year, the corporation is entitled to a share of an income, loss, taxable capital gain, or allowable capital loss of the partnership for the fiscal period referred to in the preceding bullet.

A corporation has a significant interest in a partnership if the corporation, or the corporation together with affiliated or related parties, is entitled to more than 10% of the partnership's income or loss (or assets, net of liabilities, if the partnership were to cease to exist).

These rules apply to any corporation (as described above), that is a member of a partnership, even if the partnership has as a member an individual or a professional corporation that is subject to the 1995 rules limiting deferral for unincorporated businesses.

The definition of adjusted stub period accrual in subsection 34.2(1) gives the formulas for calculating a corporation's ASPA in respect of a partnership. The ASPA formula allows the corporation to designate two reductions. The first designation concerns qualified resource expenses incurred by the partnership during the corporation's stub period. The second allows a corporate partner to make a discretionary designation to reduce its ASPA to reflect its knowledge of the actual partnership income for the stub period. Once filed, the designations cannot be amended or revoked. If the amount of the discretionary designation is too high, creating an income shortfall, the corporation may be subject to an additional income inclusion. The additional income inclusion may increase if the shortfall is above a 25% threshold.

If the corporation is a member of a partnership subject to a multi-tier alignment (see below), the ASPA inclusion does not apply to the corporation in respect of the partnership for tax years before the tax year that includes the end of the first fiscal period of the partnership that is aligned under the multi-tier alignment.

Under certain conditions, a corporation (other than a professional corporation) that becomes a member of a partnership in a tax year may make a designation to apportion its income from the partnership between two tax years – the tax year in which the fiscal period of the partnership began and the tax year in which the fiscal period of the partnership ends.

Transitional relief

The ASPA rules generally apply to tax years of a corporation that end after March 22, 2011. In many cases, these rules could result in an income inclusion of a significant incremental amount of partnership income for a corporation's first tax year ending after March 22, 2011. The rules providing transitional relief will generally result in no additional taxes being payable for that first tax year. Instead, the additional income will generally be brought into the corporation's income over the five following tax years.

Qualifying transitional income

Whether a corporate partner is eligible for transitional relief depends initially on whether the corporation is a member of the partnership on March 22, 2011 and whether it has qualifying transitional income (QTI) in respect of the partnership. A corporation's qualifying transitional relief in respect of a partnership could be made up of:

- ASPA arising in the corporation's first tax year ending after March 22, 2011;
- eligible alignment income, which can result from a single-tier alignment or a multi-tier alignment of the fiscal period of a partnership; or
- both ASPA and eligible alignment income (in other words, the fiscal period of a partnership may be aligned, but that alignment may not coincide with the tax year-end of all its corporate members).

Alignment elections and eligible alignment income

Under certain conditions, a single-tier partnership was allowed a one-time election to change its fiscal period, for example to align with the tax year of one or more corporate partners. For partnerships in a multi-tier partnership structure that would otherwise be forced to have a December 31st fiscal period end, a one-time election allowed them to align to a common fiscal period if certain conditions were met. The eligible period to make an election has ended.

A corporate partner may have additional income as a result of single-tier or multi-tier alignment election that may represent eligible alignment income, which qualifies for transitional relief. Unlike adjusted stub period accrual, a corporation may have eligible alignment income in respect of a partnership even though its interest in the partnership is not a significant interest.

Transitional reserve

Generally, corporations will have up to five calendar years to report the QTI following the tax year in which the QTI initially arose. For example, if the first tax year in which the QTI arose ended in 2011, the effective QTI inclusion is: 0% in 2011, 15% in 2012, 20% in each of 2013, 2014 and 2015, and 25% in 2016.

This is done by claiming an amount, as a reserve, for a declining specified percentage of the QTI each year (subject to certain limits). Like other reserves, the amount claimed in a tax year is brought into income in the following tax year. Both of these amounts are subject to the characterization rules under subsection 34.2(5). The QTI amount that is initially calculated may be required to be adjusted in the second or subsequent tax year to accurately prorate the income for the stub period.

There is no adjustment to QTI if it includes only eligible alignment income. If the QTI is adjusted, it is a one-time adjustment. Although this adjustment to QTI does not affect a corporation's reserve for the first tax year (or the amount included in its income for the following tax year in respect of the reserve), it does change the QTI in respect of the partnership for the purpose of claiming a specified percentage of that QTI for the year in which it is adjusted and each following tax year in which a reserve is claimed in respect of QTI.

Note

The first tax year the transitional reserve can be claimed may end in 2011, 2012, or 2013. The first tax year in which the QTI arises may be 2013 only if a multi-tier alignment occurs and the corporation's first tax year that includes the aligned fiscal period of the partnerships ends in 2013. Then the corporation has only up to four calendar years to report the QTI following the tax year in which the QTI initially arose.

This transitional relief applies on a partnership-by-partnership basis if a corporation is a member of two or more partnerships.

The availability of transitional relief depends on certain conditions being met. For example, a corporation generally must be a member of a partnership for which the corporation has QTI continuously since before March 22, 2011 until the end of the tax year in which the corporation is claiming a reserve in respect of QTI. A continuation rule is provided for cases where a corporation transfers its partnership interest to, and which is held by, another corporation that is related to, or affiliated with, the corporation.

Generally, the ASPA and related amounts are deemed to have the same character and be in the same proportions as the partnership income that they relate to.

To calculate the income inclusion under 34.2 and, if applicable, the income shortfall adjustment and additional amount under 34.3, use Schedule 71, Income Inclusion for Corporations that Are Members of Single-Tier Partnerships, or Schedule 72, Income Inclusion for Corporations that Are Members of Multi-Tier Partnerships. These are worksheets and you do not have to file them with your return. To report the amounts, file a completed Schedule 73, Income Inclusion Summary for Corporations that Are Members of Partnerships, with your return.

Note

Schedules 1, 6, and 7 are affected by the various rules in section 34.2 and the amounts reported on Schedule 73 (as applicable). For example, the amount entered on line 275 of Schedule 73 reporting the total taxable capital gains under section 34.2 must also be entered on Schedule 6.

Penalties

What happens if you file your return late?

If you file your return late, a penalty applies. The penalty is 5% of the unpaid tax that is due on the filing deadline, plus 1% of this unpaid tax for each complete month that the return is late, up to a maximum of 12 months.

The corporation will be charged an even larger penalty if we issued a demand to file the return under subsection 150(2), and if we assessed a failure to file penalty for the corporation in any of the three previous tax years. The penalty is 10% of the unpaid tax when the return was due, plus 2% of this unpaid tax for each complete month that the return is late, up to a maximum of 20 months.

Subsections 162(1) and 162(2)

Non-resident corporations

A non-resident corporation will be subject to a failure to file penalty equal to the greater of:

- $100; and
- $25 for each complete day that the return is late, up to a maximum of 100 days.

This penalty applies if the amount calculated is more than the amount of penalty usually applied under subsections 162(1) and (2), as discussed above.

Subsection 162(2.1)

Large corporations

A large corporation has to file the T2 Corporation Income Tax Return and, if applicable, a Schedule 38, Part VI Tax on Capital of Financial Institutions. If a corporation fails to file these returns, in addition to any other penalty as applicable, we will charge a penalty for each complete month that the returns are late, up to a maximum of 40 months. The penalty will be calculated as follows:

- 0.0005% of the corporation's taxable capital employed in Canada at the end of tax year; and
- 0.25% of the Part VI tax payable by the corporation [before the deductions in subsection 190.1(3)].

To identify the corporation as a large corporation, answer yes to the question at line 233 on page 2 of the return.

Notes

A corporation is a large corporation if the total taxable capital employed in Canada at the end of the tax year by it and its related corporations is over $10 million.

To determine if the total taxable capital employed in Canada of the corporation and its related corporations is greater than $10 million use whichever one of the following schedules that applies:

- Schedule 33, Taxable Capital Employed in Canada – Large Corporations;
- Schedule 34, Taxable Capital Employed in Canada – Financial Institutions; or
- Schedule 35, Taxable Capital Employed in Canada – Large Insurance Corporations.

A corporation with a permanent establishment in Newfoundland and Labrador that is a financial institution, as defined under provincial legislation, has to file Schedule 305, Newfoundland and Labrador Capital Tax on Financial Institutions. See "Newfoundland and Labrador capital tax on financial institutions" on page 82.

What happens if you do not comply with mandatory Internet filing?

We will charge a $1,000 penalty for non-compliance if a corporation that is required to Internet file does not comply with the requirement.

Reference

Subsection 162(7.2)

What happens if you do not report income?

We will charge a penalty if a corporation does not report an amount equal to or greater than $500 that is required to be included in computing its income on its return in a tax year and any of the three previous tax years.

This penalty will not be applied if the corporation is liable under subsection 163(2) in respect of the same unreported amount.

The repeated failure to report income penalty is equal to the lesser of:

- 10% of the amount you failed to report on your return for the tax year; and
- 50% of the difference between the understated tax payable (and certain overstated refundable tax credits) related to the amount you failed to report and the amount of tax withheld related to the amount you failed to report.

False statements or omissions

We will charge a penalty if a corporation, either knowingly or under circumstances of gross negligence, makes a false statement or omission on a return. The penalty is the greater of either $100 or 50% of the amount of understated tax.

Reference

Subsection 163(2)

Note

If a corporation is charged a penalty for making a false statement or omission under subsection 163(2), the corporation cannot be charged a penalty on the same amount for failing to report income under subsection 163(1).

Misrepresentation in tax matters by a third party

We will charge a penalty if a person counsels or assists another person in filing a false return or knowingly allows a taxpayer to submit false tax information.

Cancel or waive penalties or interest

The CRA administers legislation, commonly called the taxpayer relief provisions, that gives the CRA discretion to cancel or waive penalties or interest when taxpayers are unable to meet their tax obligations due to circumstances beyond their control.

The CRA's discretion to grant relief is limited to any period that ended within 10 calendar years before the year in which a request is made.

For penalties, the CRA will consider your request only if it relates to a tax year or fiscal period ending in any of the 10 calendar years before the year in which you make your request. For example, your request made in 2017 must relate to a penalty for a tax year or fiscal period ending in 2007 or later.

For interest on a balance owing for any tax year or fiscal period, the CRA will consider only the amounts that accrued during the 10 calendar years before the year in which you make your request. For example, your request made in 2017 must relate to interest that accrued in 2007 or later.

To make a request, fill out Form RC4288, Request for Taxpayer Relief – Cancel or Waive Penalties or Interest. For more information about relief from penalties or interest and how to submit your request, go to cra.gc.ca/taxpayerrelief.

Voluntary Disclosures Program

Under the Voluntary Disclosures Program, you can correct inaccurate information or disclose previously omitted information. You will not be penalized or prosecuted if you make a full disclosure before we start any enforcement action or investigation against you. You will only have to pay the taxes owing plus interest.

For more details get Information Circular IC00-1, Voluntary Disclosures Program. You can also call the Voluntary Disclosures officer in the Individual and Returns Compliance Division of the Shawinigan-Sud National Verification and Collections Centre. If you wish, you can discuss your situation first on a no-name or hypothetical basis.

Information reporting of tax avoidance transactions

Taxpayers, advisors and promoters who engage in or who are entitled to certain fees in relation to certain tax avoidance transactions are subject to reporting requirements.

The measures apply to certain avoidance transactions entered into after 2010, and avoidance transactions that are part of a series of transactions that started before 2011 and was completed after 2010.

Under provincial legislation, Ontario corporations are subject to the same requirements for reportable transactions entered into after May 1, 2014, or reportable transactions that are part of a series of transactions completed after May 1, 2014.

A transaction will be reportable if it is an avoidance transaction as defined in subsection 245(3) of the Income Tax Act for purposes of the general anti-avoidance rule (GAAR) and has at least two of the following three characteristics:

- the advisor or promoter has or had an entitlement to certain types of fees;
- the advisor or promoter has or had confidential protection with respect to the transaction; and/or
- the taxpayer or the advisor or promoter (including any non-arm's length parties) has or had contractual protection for the transaction (other than as a result of certain types of fees).

A reportable transaction does not include a transaction that is, or is part of, a series of transactions that includes the acquisition of a tax shelter or issuance of a flow-through share for which an information return has been filed with the minister under subsection 237.1(7) or 66(12.68), respectively.

Information return RC312, Reportable Transaction Information Return, must be filed on or before June 30 of the calendar year following the calendar year in which the transaction first became a reportable transaction for the person.

If the RC312 is not filed as and when required, the reassessment period will be extended by three years after the date, if any, that the information return will have been filed. A waiver for this extended reassessment period may be filed with the CRA within this additional three-year period. The scope of an assessment, reassessment, or additional assessment during the extended reassessment period for a taxpayer's tax year is limited to the extent that it can reasonably be regarded as relating to the deduction, claim, or tax benefit.

Failure to report could result in suspension of the tax benefit and/or a penalty for failure to report.

File this return separately from your tax return. Before you file it, make a copy for your records. Mail the original or amended return, and any related information to:

What happens after you have filed your return?

After we receive your return, we send it to Corporation Services of the responsible tax centre for processing. A list of the tax centres is on page 12.

After having assessed your return, we:

- send an email notification that there is mail for you to view in your secure online account, if you registered to receive online mail by using the "Manage online mail" service through My Business Account at cra.gc.ca/mybusinessaccount; or
- mail a notice of assessment.

As soon as you view or receive the notice of assessment, compare it to your copy of the corporation's return. Contact us if you need us to clarify or explain any part of the assessment. You can call the telephone number provided in the CRA's correspondence. If you do not have contact information, go to cra.gc.ca/contact.

Enquiries service

You can ask an account-related question online and we will provide an answer online. You can also view answers to common enquiries online.

We will try to respond within 10 business days, depending on the complexity of the question. To view the response, select the "View mail (correspondence)" service.

With the "Enquiries service," you can also make various online requests (for example, to order additional remittance vouchers).

To access these online services, go to:

- My Business Account at cra.gc.ca/mybusinessaccount, if you are a business owner; or
- Represent a Client at cra.gc.ca/representatives, if you are an authorized representative or employee.

When can we reassess your return?

Within certain time limits, we can reassess your return or make additional assessments of tax, interest, and penalties. These time limits vary, depending on the type of corporation and the nature of the reassessment.

Normal reassessment period

We can usually reassess a return for a tax year:

- within three years of the date we sent the original notice of assessment for the tax year, if the corporation was a CCPC at the end of the year; or
- within four years of the date we sent the original notice of assessment for the tax year, if the corporation was not a CCPC at the end of the year.

Extended reassessment period

The normal reassessment period can be extended for an extra three years for any of the following reasons:

- if you want to carry back a loss or credit from a later tax year;
- when a non-arm's length transaction involving the corporation and a non-resident affects the corporation's tax;
- if the corporation pays an amount or receives a refund of foreign income or profits tax;
- when a reassessment of another taxpayer's tax for any of the above reasons affects the corporation's tax;
- if a reassessment of another tax year (it must be a prior tax year if the reassessment relates to a loss or credit carryback) for any of the above reasons affects the corporation's tax;
- if the reassessment results from a non-resident corporation's allocation of revenue or expenses for the Canadian business or from a notional transaction, such as "branch advance," between the non-resident corporation and its Canadian business; or
- to give effect to the application of the non-resident trust rules in section 94 or to the application of the foreign investment rules under sections 94.1 and 94.2.

If the reassessment results from a provincial income reallocation, the normal reassessment period can be extended for one year from the later of:

- the day on which the CRA is advised of the provincial reassessment; and
- 90 days after the notice of the provincial reassessment was mailed.

Unlimited reassessment period

We can reassess a return at any time if:

- the corporation has made a misrepresentation because of neglect, carelessness, wilful default, or fraud in either filing the return or supplying information required by the Income Tax Act;
- the corporation filed Form T2029, Waiver in Respect of the Normal Reassessment Period or Extended Reassessment Period, with a tax services office before the normal reassessment period expires. The waiver can be filed up to three more years after the end of the normal reassessment period if the waiver applies to one of the situations previously described under "Extended reassessment period";
- the reassessment is to carry back losses or certain tax credits and deductions where a prescribed form requesting the amendment has been filed on time; or
- a court instructs us to reassess.

Note

If you want to revoke a waiver that was previously filed to extend the normal reassessment period for a certain tax year, file Form T652, Notice of Revocation of Waiver, at your tax services office. The revocation will take effect six months after you file Form T652.

IC75-7, Reassessment of a Return of Income

How to request a reassessment

You can electronically transmit a request for a reassessment to your corporation income tax return using the latest commercial tax preparation software packages, or send a letter to the tax centre that serves the corporation. If you send a letter, state the name of the corporation, the business number, the tax year, and any details that apply. With your letter, include any relevant supporting information, such as revised financial statements and schedules. If you are preparing your return using tax preparation software, submit the bar codes that contain the information needed to reassess your return. Do not send the entire T2 return.

To ask to carry back a loss or tax credit to a prior tax year, file whichever of the following schedules apply:

- Schedule 4, Corporation Loss Continuity and Application, to ask to carry back a loss;
- Schedule 21, Federal and Provincial or Territorial Foreign Income Tax Credits and Federal Logging Tax Credit, to ask to carry back foreign tax credits on business income;
- Schedule 31, Investment Tax Credit – Corporations, to ask to carry back an investment tax credit; and
- Schedule 42, Calculation of Unused Part I Tax Credit, to ask to carry back a Part I tax credit.

You can file these schedules with the return on which you report the loss or earned the credit, or you can forward them separately to the tax centre that serves the corporation.

How to register a formal dispute

If you disagree with an assessment or a determination, you can make a formal objection.

Filing an objection is the first step in the formal process of resolving your dispute. You have 90 days after the date of the notice of assessment or determination to file an objection.

You can file an objection:

- online at My Business Account or Represent a Client by selecting "Register a formal dispute (Notice of Objection)" under "Corporation Income Tax"; or
- by mail, using Form T400A, Objection – Income Tax Act; or writing to the chief of appeals at your Appeals Intake Centre (see appendix B of pamphlet P148).

In all cases, you have to explain why you disagree and include all relevant facts and supporting documents.

For large corporations, your objection must:

- reasonably describe each issue;
- specify for each issue the relief you are seeking, expressed as the amount of a change in the income, taxable income, loss, taxes payable, refundable amounts, and overpayments or balance of unclaimed outlays, expenses, or other amounts of the corporation; and

- provide facts and reasons the corporation relied on for each issue.

Reference
Section 165

A large corporation that objects to an assessment will have to pay 50% of the disputed amount. A corporation is a large corporation if the total taxable capital employed in Canada at the end of the tax year by the corporation and its related corporations is over $10 million. The corporation also has to pay the full amount of taxes not in dispute.

Reference
Subsection 225.1(7)

For more information about objections and appeals, see Pamphlet P148, Resolving your dispute: Objection and appeal rights under the Income Tax Act or go to cra.gc.ca/resolvingdisputes.

Disputing loss determinations

The formal process of resolving a dispute does not usually apply to loss amounts under dispute, because there is no tax, interest, or penalty involved.

However, a corporation may request a loss determination if it does not agree with the amount of the losses assessed by the CRA. The CRA will determine the amount of the loss and confirm in writing by issuing Form T67AM, Notice of Determination/Redetermination of a Loss.

Once the corporation has received the notice of determination, it can file an objection within 90 days after the date of the notice.

Note

You cannot request a loss determination if the CRA assessed your loss to be the same as what you reported.

If the corporation asks, we will make determinations of the following amounts:

- a non-capital loss;
- a net capital loss;
- a restricted farm loss;
- a farm loss; or
- a limited partnership loss.

Send any requests for loss determinations to your tax services office or tax centre.

Keeping records

Keep your paper and electronic records for a period of six years from the end of the last tax year to which they relate. If you file your income tax return late, keep your records for six years from the date you file your return.

Certain records must be kept longer. These include minute books, which have to be kept until sometime after dissolution. However, if you want to destroy your records early, complete Form T137, Request for Destruction of Records.

For more information, go to cra.gc.ca/records.

Identification

Accurately complete page 1 of your return, so we can properly identify the corporation and process the return more quickly. You cannot use the Corporation Internet Filing service to change the corporation’s head office address or mailing address.

You can change the mailing, physical, and books and records address of the corporation by:

- using the “Manage addresses” service through Represent a Client at cra.gc.ca/representatives, if you are an authorized representative or employee; or in My Business Account at cra.gc.ca/mybusinessaccount, if you are the business owner; or
- calling 1-800-959-5525.

Signing up for online mail when filing your T2 return

Corporations that use tax preparation software have the ability to register for online mail by submitting an email address and agreeing to electronic delivery of correspondence when they file their return.

If you register for online mail for your T2 account, the CRA will send you an email when eligible notices, letters, or statements are available for viewing in My Business Account (separate registration is required). The CRA will not send these documents to you through Canada Post.

Once we have processed your return, we will send you a registration email notification to the email address you have provided, confirming your registration for online mail.

To view your correspondence you must be registered for the CRA’s My Business Account service. To register, go to cra.gc.ca/mybusinessaccount. You will also find information on how to register, manage, and view online mail, and much more.

Line 001 – Business number (BN)

The BN is a 15-character number composed of three parts. The first nine characters identify your business. The “RC” identifies the corporation income tax program. The last four characters identify the particular program account.

On line 001, enter your BN for income tax purposes. Enter “0001” as the program account identifier unless we have advised you to use a different one. You will find the corporation’s BN on previous notices of assessment, account statements, or remittance forms.

Note

If you are a non-resident corporation requiring a BN, see Guide RC2, The Business Number and Your Canada Revenue Agency Program Accounts, on our website at cra.gc.ca/forms.

Line 002 – Corporation’s name

Enter the full name of the corporation. Do not use abbreviations, and make sure the punctuation is correct.

Lines 010 to 018 – Address of head office

Line 010 – Has this address changed since the last time we were notified?

If you answer no, do not complete lines 011 to 018.

Lines 011 to 018

Enter the new head office address of the corporation, including the street number, street, city, province/territory/state, and postal code or zip code in the appropriate area. Complete line 017, if it applies.

Lines 020 to 028 – Mailing address

Complete this area if the corporation’s mailing address is different from its head office address.

Line 020 – Has this address changed since the last time we were notified?

If you answer no, do not complete lines 021 to 028.

Lines 021 to 028

Enter the new mailing address of the corporation by completing lines 021 to 028. Complete line 027, if it applies.

If the corporation's mailing address changes, you can change this address:

- online through My Business Account at cra.gc.ca/mybusinessaccount or through Represent a Client at cra.gc.ca/representatives; or
- by writing to your tax centre as soon as possible.

Lines 030 to 038 – Location of books and records

Complete this area if the corporation's books and records address is different from its head office address.

Line 030 – Has the location of books and records changed since the last time we were notified?

If you answer no, do not complete lines 031 to 038.

If this is your first year of filing after incorporation or amalgamation, you must tick yes and complete lines 031 to 038.

Lines 031 to 038

Enter the address of the location where the corporation keeps its books and records by completing lines 031 to 038. Complete line 037, if it applies.

Lines 040 and 043 – Type of corporation at the end of the tax year

Line 040

Tick the box that describes the corporation type at the end of the tax year. The corporation type determines whether or not the corporation is entitled to certain rates and deductions. See the following for details.

IT-391, Status of Corporations

Box 1 – Canadian-controlled private corporation (CCPC)

The corporation is a CCPC if it meets all of the following requirements at the end of the tax year:

- it is a private corporation;
- it is a corporation that was resident in Canada and was either incorporated in Canada or resident in Canada from June 18, 1971, to the end of the tax year;
- it is not controlled directly or indirectly by one or more non-resident persons;
- it is not controlled directly or indirectly by one or more public corporations (other than a prescribed venture capital corporation, as defined in Regulation 6700);
- it is not controlled by a Canadian resident corporation that lists its shares on a designated stock exchange outside of Canada;
- it is not controlled directly or indirectly by any combination of persons described in the three previous conditions;
- if all of its shares that are owned by a non-resident person, by a public corporation (other than a prescribed venture capital corporation), or by a corporation with a class of shares listed on a designated stock exchange were owned by one person, that person would not own sufficient shares to control the corporation; and

- no class of its shares of capital stock is listed on a designated stock exchange.

Note

A CCPC that has elected under subsection 89(11) not to be a CCPC for certain purposes should tick box 1 when filling line 040.

Box 2 – Other private corporation

The corporation is an other private corporation if it meets all of the following requirements at the end of the tax year:

- it is resident in Canada;
- it is not a public corporation;
- it is not controlled by one or more public corporations (other than a prescribed venture capital corporation, as defined in Regulation 6700);
- it is not controlled by one or more prescribed federal Crown corporations (as defined in Regulation 7100); and
- it is not controlled by any combination of corporations described in the two previous conditions.

Box 3 – Public corporation

The corporation is a public corporation if it is resident in Canada and meets either of the following requirements at the end of the tax year:

- it has a class of shares listed on a designated Canadian stock exchange; or
- it has elected, or the minister of National Revenue has designated it, to be a public corporation and the corporation has complied with prescribed conditions under Regulation 4800(1) on the number of its shareholders, the dispersing of the ownership of its shares, the public trading of its shares, and the size of the corporation.

If a public corporation has complied with certain prescribed conditions under Regulation 4800(2), it can elect, or the minister of National Revenue can designate it, not to be a public corporation.

Box 4 – Corporation controlled by a public corporation

The corporation is a corporation controlled by a public corporation if it is a Canadian subsidiary of a public corporation. This type of corporation does not qualify as a public corporation for determining the type of corporation.

Box 5 – Other corporation

The corporation is an other corporation if it does not fall within the other categories. Examples of other corporations include general insurers and Crown corporations.

Note

Credit unions or co-operative corporations should tick box 1 at line 040 if they meet the definition of a Canadian-controlled private corporation under subsection 125(7) (without reference to subsections 137(7) or 136(1) respectively).

Line 043 – If the type of corporation changed during the tax year, provide the effective date of the change

Indicate the effective date of the change. Do not include other types of changes in this section, such as the change from active to inactive status.

A change of corporation type may bring significant tax consequences. For example, certain calculations on the return depend on whether the corporation was a private corporation or a CCPC throughout the tax year, at any time in the tax year, or at the end of the tax year.

Note

If the corporation changed from, or to, a CCPC, see line 066. Do not complete line 043 if you answer yes at line 066 and you are filing a tax return with a deemed tax year-end because of subsection 249(3.1).

Lines 060, 061, 063, 065 – To which tax year does this return apply?

Lines 060 and 061 – Tax year start and tax year-end

The corporation's tax year is its fiscal period. A fiscal period cannot be longer than 53 weeks (371 days).

In the spaces provided, enter the first and last days of the tax year. If the particular time of day applies, enter the hours and minutes to specify the time. The first day of this tax year has to be the day after the last day of the previous tax year. You have to file a return for every calendar year.

A new corporation may choose any tax year-end as long as its first tax year does not exceed 53 weeks from the date it was either incorporated or formed as a result of an amalgamation.

Make sure the financial statements or the General Index of Financial Information (GIFI) you attach to the return match the tax year of the return.

Note

A professional corporation that is a member of a partnership and that carries on business in Canada has to have a December 31 year-end.

Generally, unless you have received approval to change the fiscal period, the corporation's fiscal period is the same from year to year. To change an established fiscal period, write a letter to your tax services office asking for approval and explaining the reasons for the change.

However, you do not need approval to change the fiscal period in some situations, including the following:

- the corporation has wound-up and you are filing its final return with an abbreviated fiscal period;

- the corporation has to end its tax year at a certain time because it is emigrating to another country, becoming exempt from tax, or ceasing to be exempt from tax; or
- a person or group of persons acquired control of the corporation under subsection 249(4).

Note

A corporation that becomes bankrupt must get our approval to change its fiscal period.

Lines 063 and 065 – Has there been an acquisition of control resulting in the application of subsection 249(4) since the tax year start on line 060?

If you answer yes, enter on line 065 the date the control was acquired.

There is an acquisition of control when, during the tax year, a person or group of persons acquired control of the corporation.

When control is acquired, subsection 249(4) provides that the tax year of the corporation ends immediately before that control is acquired. You do not need approval for the changed tax year.

File a return for the tax year that ends immediately before control is acquired. The next tax year starts at the time control is acquired, and the corporation can choose any tax year-end within the next 53 weeks.

If control is acquired up to seven days after the end of an established tax year, generally a corporation can choose to extend the tax year up to the time control is acquired. In this case, attach a letter to your return that says you are making an election under paragraph 249(4)(c).

Where shares of a corporation are transferred to an estate because of a death, there is no acquisition of control. In general, this also applies when the transfer is made to a related person. As a result, there is no deemed tax year-end and no tax return is required to be filed. For more information, see subsection 256(7).

Notes

The acquisition of control under subsection 256(9) of a corporation is usually deemed to occur at the beginning of the day on which the acquisition takes place. However, the particular time of day that the acquisition of control took place will be recognized if the corporation makes an election under subsection 256(9). To elect under subsection 256(9), include a note with your return for the tax year ending immediately before control was acquired and enter the hours and minutes that specify the time of day at line 065.

This deeming rule does not apply when determining the status of a corporation as a small business corporation or a Canadian-controlled private corporation at the time of the transaction that caused the change of control. The status of the corporation will not change until the actual time of the acquisition.

Line 066 – Is the date on line 061 a deemed tax year-end according to subsection 249(3.1)?

If at any time a corporation becomes or stops being a Canadian-controlled private corporation (CCPC) for any reason other than an acquisition of control, subsection 249(3.1) provides that the tax year of the corporation is deemed to end immediately before that change. You do not need the minister's approval for the changed tax year.

File a return for the tax year that ends immediately before the change. The next tax year is deemed to start on the date that the corporation type changed, and the corporation can choose any tax year-end within the next 53 weeks.

If the change occurs up to seven days after the end of an established tax year and there has not been an acquisition of control and the corporation has not become or stopped being a CCPC, within those seven days the corporation can choose to extend the tax year up to the time the change occurred. In this case, attach a letter to your return that says you are making an election under paragraph 249(3.1)(c).

Line 067 – Is the corporation a professional corporation that is a member of a partnership?

A professional corporation is a corporation that carries on the professional practice of an accountant, dentist, lawyer, medical doctor, veterinarian, or chiropractor.

Line 070 – Is this the first year of filing after incorporation?

If you answer yes, you have to file Schedule 24, First-Time Filer After Incorporation, Amalgamation, or Winding-up of a Subsidiary into a Parent, with your return. If you do not file Schedule 24, the processing of your return may be delayed.

See chapters 2 and 3 for other schedules you may have to attach to your return.

Note

The tax year of a new corporation cannot be longer than 53 weeks from the date it was incorporated.

If this is your first year of filing after incorporation, you must tick yes at line 030 and complete lines 031 to 038.

Line 071 – Is this the first year of filing after amalgamation?

If you answer yes, you have to file Schedule 24, First-Time Filer After Incorporation, Amalgamation, or Winding-up of a Subsidiary into a Parent, with your return. If you do not file Schedule 24, the processing of your return may be delayed.

Note

The tax year of a new corporation cannot be longer than 53 weeks from the date it was amalgamated.

If this is your first year of filing after amalgamation, you must tick yes at line 030 and complete lines 031 to 038.

Line 072 – Has there been a wind-up of a subsidiary under section 88 during the current tax year?

If you answer yes, you have to file Schedule 24, First-Time Filer After Incorporation, Amalgamation, or Winding-up of a Subsidiary into a Parent, with your return. If you do not file Schedule 24, the processing of your return may be delayed.

Reference

IT-126, Meaning of "Winding up"

Line 076 – Is this the final tax year before amalgamation?

Predecessor corporations filing their last returns have to answer yes to this question on their final returns.

When two or more corporations amalgamate, each of the predecessor corporations has to file a return for the period ending immediately before the effective date of amalgamation. The effective date of amalgamation is governed by corporate law. Generally, the effective date is on the certificate of amalgamation or the letters patent of amalgamation.

Note

We cannot accept returns filed for the period ending just before a date that is not the effective date of amalgamation.

Reference

S4-F7-C1, Amalgamations of Canadian Corporations

Line 078 – Is this the final return up to dissolution?

You have to answer yes if you have already permanently dissolved your corporation with the incorporating authority and you are filing your final return for a tax year ending on the date of dissolution. You will find the date of dissolution on the articles of dissolution.

The responsible representative has to get a clearance certificate from the tax services office before distributing any of the corporation's property under his or her control. By getting the certificate, the responsible representative will avoid being personally liable for the unpaid taxes, interest, and penalties. Include Schedule 100, Balance Sheet Information, with the final return, which shows how the assets were distributed.

Notes

If you want to dissolve your corporation, you should send an application for dissolution to the government body that governs the affairs of your corporation.

Taxpayers wishing to dissolve an Ontario jurisdiction corporation should contact Business Enquiries and not the Ontario Ministry of Finance.

Once the corporation has been dissolved, you should send us the articles of dissolution. Otherwise, we consider that the corporation still exists, and it will have to file a return even if there is no tax payable.

Once the corporation is dissolved, any refunds to which the corporation would be entitled revert to the Crown and cannot normally be issued to the corporation or its representatives unless the charter is reinstated.

If the charter is not reinstated, a refund can be issued if all returns have been filed up to the date of dissolution for all revenue lines (T2, GST, and other levies returns) and the refund is issued to:

- the sole shareholder of the corporation; or
- a legal representative of the corporation when there are multiple shareholders.

If these conditions are not met, the refund will remain with the Crown.

Line 079 – If an election was made under section 261

If the return is not reported in Canadian currency, indicate the functional currency used.

Corporations resident in Canada throughout the tax year can elect to report in a functional currency, except for:

- investment corporations;
- mortgage investment corporations; and
- mutual fund corporations.

A functional currency is a currency of a country other than Canada that is:

- a qualifying currency (currently, the British pound, the euro, the Australian and the U.S. dollar); and
- the primary currency in which the taxpayer maintains its records and books of account for financial reporting purposes for the tax year.

To elect to report in a functional currency, file Form T1296, Election, or Revocation of an Election, to Report in a Functional Currency, within the first 61 days of the tax year to which the election applies.

Note

Even if you elect to report in a functional currency, you still have to complete line 840 in Canadian currency.

You cannot change functional currency. If you cease to qualify as a functional currency reporter, you must revert to determining your Canadian tax results in Canadian dollars. You cannot make the election again.

Lines 080 to 082 – Is the corporation a resident of Canada?

If you answer no, enter the country of residence on line 081 and file Schedule 97, Additional Information on Non-resident Corporations in Canada. Non-resident corporations have to mail their returns to the International and Ottawa Tax Services Office (IOTSO). See page 126 for the address and telephone and fax numbers.

Note

Certain non-resident corporations can file electronically through Corporation Internet Filing and do not have to mail their returns to the IOTSO.

Line 082 – Is the non-resident corporation claiming an exemption under an income tax treaty?

If you answer yes, file Schedule 91, Information Concerning Claims for Treaty-Based Exemptions.

For more information about the filing obligations of non-resident corporations, see page 9.

Line 085 – If the corporation is exempt from tax under section 149

If the corporation is exempt from tax under section 149, tick one of the boxes following this line.

These corporations, which include non-profit organizations, do not usually have to pay any corporation income tax because they are exempted by one of the following paragraphs:

Box 1 – Exempt under paragraph 149(1)(e) or (l)

Tick this box if one of the two following paragraphs applies:

- Paragraph 149(1)(e) exempts the following types of organizations, as long as no part of the income of these organizations was payable or otherwise available for the personal benefit of proprietors, members, or shareholders:
 - agricultural organizations;
 - boards of trade; and
 - chambers of commerce.
- Paragraph 149(1)(l) exempts a club, society, or association that is not a charity and that is organized and operated solely for:
 - social welfare;
 - civic improvement;
 - pleasure or recreation; or
 - any purpose other than profit.

No part of these organizations' income can be payable to, or otherwise available for the personal benefit of, any proprietor, member, or shareholder, unless the proprietor, member, or shareholder was a club, society, or association that promotes amateur athletics in Canada.

You may have to file Form T1044, Non-Profit Organization (NPO) Information Return, if the organization meets the definition in paragraph 149(1)(e) or 149(1)(l) and if one of the following conditions applies:

- the organization received or was entitled to receive taxable dividends, interest, rentals, or royalties in the tax year totalling more than $10,000;

- the organization's total assets were more than $200,000 at the end of the immediately previous tax year; or
- the organization had to file Form T1044 for a previous tax year.

If you have to file an information return for any tax year, you will have to file a return for all future tax years. Form T1044 has to be filed in the six months following the end of the tax year. See Guide T4117, Income Tax Guide to the Non-Profit Organization (NPO) Information Return.

Box 2 – Exempt under paragraph 149(1)(j)

Tick this box if paragraph 149(1)(j) applies. Paragraph 149(1)(j) exempts a non-profit corporation for scientific research and experimental development (SR&ED) if it meets all the following conditions:

- the corporation is constituted exclusively for carrying on or promoting SR&ED;
- no part of the corporation's income is payable to or otherwise available for the personal benefit of any proprietor, member, or shareholder;

- the corporation did not acquire control of any other corporation;
- the corporation did not carry on any business during the period for which exemption is claimed; and
- the corporation must, in each period for which it claims exemption, have spent amounts in Canada that are either:
 - expenditures on SR&ED directly undertaken by it or on its behalf; or
 - payments to an association, university, college, or research institution to be used for SR&ED.

Box 3 – Exempt under 149(1)(t)

Tick this box if paragraph 149(1)(t) applies. Paragraph 149(1)(t) exempts certain insurers who receive at least 20% of their premiums from insuring residences of farmers or fishers, farm property, or property used in fishing.

Box 4 – Exempt under other paragraphs of section 149

Tick this box if the corporation is exempt under any other paragraph of section 149.

In this case, the corporation has to attach to the return all relevant information on this exemption and specify under which paragraph it is exempt.

Schedules can be organized into two categories:

- information schedules, including general information schedules and those relating to transactions with non-residents; and
- calculation schedules, including schedules used to calculate net income, taxable income, deductions, taxes, and credits.

We provide a complete list of the schedules at the end of this guide. The schedules are available at cra.gc.ca/forms. You can also get them by calling 1-800-959-5525. To file the schedules we do not publish, such as Schedule 92, gather the requested information and label it with the schedule number in the top right-hand corner of each page.

On pages 2 and 3 of the return, we list the most common schedules you may have to attach to your return. If you respond yes to any of the questions on these pages, attach to your T2 return the schedule that applies, unless otherwise instructed.

Financial statements or General Index of Financial Information (GIFI)

Each corporation should include complete financial statement information for the tax year of the return using the General Index of Financial Information (GIFI).

Note

Certain non-resident corporations do not have to file using GIFI. For more information, see Guide RC4088, General Index of Financial Information (GIFI).

GIFI schedules include:

- Schedule 100, Balance Sheet Information;
- Schedule 125, Income Statement Information, and, if necessary, Schedule 140, Summary Income Statement; and
- Schedule 141, Notes Checklist. Schedule 141 is a set of questions designed to determine who prepared the financial statements and the extent of their involvement, and to identify the type of information contained in the notes to the financial statements.

Note

Include any notes to the financial statements and the auditor or accountant's report, if they were prepared. You should include this information even if you are filing your return using tax preparation software. For more information, see "Using tax preparation software" on page 10.

When preparing the first return for a new corporation, attach all of the following documents:

- Schedule 101, Opening Balance Sheet Information;
- copies of all relevant agreements or the full details on shares issued for anything other than cash consideration, if they apply; and
- if it applies, the closing balance sheet of the proprietorship, partnership, or corporation if the new corporation acquired the assets or business, or assumed the liabilities of a former proprietorship, partnership, or corporation.

Corporations that are inactive throughout the tax year and that do not have balance sheet or income statement information to report do not have to attach schedules 100, 125, and 141 to their T2 return. However, they will be accepted if filed.

The GIFI schedules are to be completed with information from the corporation's financial statements. These schedules are laid out with a "column A" where the appropriate GIFI code is entered, and a "column B" where the corresponding dollar amount is entered.

The GIFI is included in all tax preparation software packages certified by the CRA and in most accounting software.

For more information on the GIFI, see Guide RC4088, General Index of Financial Information (GIFI).

Information schedules and forms

The following section describes the various general information schedules and forms you may have to complete.

Schedule 9, Related and Associated Corporations

Complete Schedule 9 if the corporation is related to or associated with at least one other corporation.

Sections 251 and 256

When is a corporation associated?

Association is based on control. Control can be exerted either directly or indirectly in any way. A person or a group of persons can control a corporation. Keep in mind that, in this context, a person can be either an individual or a corporation.

Control includes both de jure control and de facto control. De jure control is the right of control that depends on a person owning enough shares of a corporation to give that person a majority of the voting power. De facto control occurs when a corporation is subject to any direct or indirect influencing that, if exercised, would result in actual control being exerted.

In general, a corporation is associated with another corporation if it meets one of the following six conditions at any time in the tax year. Remember that controlled means directly or indirectly in any way.

Condition 1

The corporations are associated if one corporation controls the other.

Example

Corp X owns 100% of the voting shares of Corp Y, which in turn owns 51% of the voting shares of Corp Z.

Corp X is associated with Corp Y, because it exerts direct control over it.

Corp X is associated with Corp Z because it exerts indirect control over it.

Condition 2

The corporations are associated if both corporations are controlled by the same person or group of persons.

Corporations may be associated because the same group of persons controls both corporations, but the members of this group do not act together and have no other connection to each other.

CCPCs that are associated only because of this definition of a group will NOT be considered associated when:

- calculating the refundable investment tax credit on eligible SR&ED expenditures;
- calculating the expenditure limit; and
- allocating the expenditure limit.

For this exception to apply, one of the corporations must have at least one shareholder who is not common to both corporations.

The corporations will continue to be associated for all other purposes of the Income Tax Act.

Example

Bob owns 40% of the voting shares of Corp ABC and 30% of the voting shares of Corp XYZ. Ike owns 20% of the voting shares of Corp ABC and 40% of the voting shares of Corp XYZ.

As a group, Bob and Ike control both companies. Corps ABC and XYZ are associated.

Condition 3

The corporations are associated if:

- each corporation is controlled by one person;
- that person is related to the person controlling the other corporation; and
- one of those persons owns at least 25% of the issued shares of any class, other than shares of a specified class, of the capital stock of each corporation.

Example

Billy owns 100% of the issued share capital of Corp AB. He also owns 25% of the class A shares (other than shares of a specified class) of Corp CD, whose controlling shareholder is Billy's brother.

Corps AB and CD are associated.

Condition 4

The corporations are associated if:

- one corporation is controlled by one person;
- that person is related to each member of a group of persons who controls the other corporation; and
- that person owns at least 25% of the issued shares of any class, other than shares of a specified class, of the capital stock of the other corporation.

Example

Buddy controls Corp AY. His two daughters control Corp AZ. Buddy also owns 50% of the class A preferred shares of Corp AZ.

Corps AY and AZ are associated.

Condition 5

The corporations are associated if:

- each corporation is controlled by a related group;
 - each of the members of one of the related groups is related to all members of the other related group; and
 - one or more persons who are members of both related groups, either alone or together, own at least 25% of the issued shares of any class, other than shares of a specified class, of the capital stock of each corporation.

Example

Anne and her two daughters control Corp One. Anne and her two sons control Corp Two. Anne owns 33% of the common shares in each corporation.

Corps One and Two are associated.

Condition 6

- Two corporations that are not associated with each other will be considered associated under subsection 256(2) if they are associated with the same corporation (the third corporation). Special rules apply for determining the small business deduction. See Schedule 28, Election not to be an Associated Corporation, on page 29 for details.

Example

Corp AB owns 100% of the issued share capital of Corp CD. It also owns 25% of the class A shares (other than shares of a specified class) of Corp XY, whose controlling shareholder is Billy. Billy's brother controls Corp AB.

Corps AB, CD, and XY are associated.

Schedule 23, Agreement Among Associated Canadian Controlled Private Corporations to Allocate the Business Limit

All CCPCs that are associated have to file Schedule 23.

This schedule is used to:

- identify all the corporations to establish:
 - the date the balance of tax is due (see “Balance-due day” on page 13); and
 - the calculation of the business limit reduction; and
- allocate a percentage to each of the corporations for the allocation of the business limit. The total of all percentages cannot be more than 100%. The maximum business limit is provided on page 59.

Notes

Schedule 23 need only be filed by one of the associated/related corporations for a calendar year. However, if Schedule 23 is not already on file with us when we assess any of the returns for a tax year ending in the calendar year of the agreement, we will ask for one.

If the corporation's tax year is shorter than 51 weeks, prorate the business limit allocated in column 400 of Schedule 23 based on the number of days in the tax year divided by 365.

Associated corporations with more than one tax year in a calendar year

Special rules apply to determine the business limit for associated corporations that have more than one tax year ending in the same calendar year.

For the second or later tax years that end in the same calendar year, the business limit is whichever of the following amounts is less:

- the amount allocated to the corporation for the first tax year; or
- the amount allocated to the corporation for the later tax year in question.

Make sure the total of the business limits of all associated corporations for any tax years that end in the same calendar year is not more than the maximum allowable business limit for that calendar year.

If the corporation's tax year is shorter than 51 weeks, prorate the business limit as determined above, based on the number of days in the tax year divided by 365.

Example

Corp A and Corp B are associated in 2016.

Corp A's tax year runs from January 1, 2016, to June 30, 2016.

The business limit allocated to Corp A for its June 30, 2016, tax year is $100,000.

On November 1, 2016, Corp C becomes associated with Corp A and Corp B. The tax year-end for Corp C is December 31, 2016. Corp A and Corp B change their year-ends to match Corp C's year-end.

The corporations decide to allocate a $300,000 business limit to Corp C for the December 31, 2016, year-end. Because the total of their business limits cannot be more than $500,000, the corporations allocate $90,000 to Corp A and $110,000 to Corp B.

Question

What is Corp A's business limit for each of the two tax years ending in the 2016 calendar year?

Answer

Tax year ending June 30, 2016:

Because the tax year is shorter than 51 weeks, Corp A prorates the business limit for the number of days in the tax year as follows:

$$$100,000 \times \frac{181 \text{ days}}{365 \text{ days}} = $49,589$$

Note: 365 is not adjusted for a leap year.

Tax year ending December 31, 2016:

Because the tax year is shorter than 51 weeks, Corp A prorates the business limit for the number of days in the tax year. Corp A uses the $90,000 business limit allocated in this tax year, because it is less than the $100,000 business limit allocated in its first tax year ending in 2016.

Corp A prorates the business limit as follows:

$$$90,000 \times \frac{184 \text{ days}}{365 \text{ days}} = $45,370$$

Note: 365 is not adjusted for a leap year.

Schedule 49, Agreement Among Associated Canadian-Controlled Private Corporations to Allocate the Expenditure Limit

All CCPCs that are associated and have scientific research and experimental development (SR&ED) expenditures have to file Schedule 49. These corporations use this form to:

- identify all the associated corporations; and
- allocate the expenditure limit for the 35% ITC rate on qualifying SR&ED expenditures.

For more details about the ITC, see Line 652 on page 68.

Note

Schedule 49 need only be filed by one of the associated/related corporations for a calendar year. However, if Schedule 49 is not already on file with us when we assess any of the returns for a tax year ending in the calendar year of the agreement, we will ask for one.

Associated corporations with more than one tax year in a calendar year

Special rules apply to determine the expenditure limit for associated corporations that have more than one tax year ending in the same calendar year. Prorate the expenditure limit for each tax year ending in the calendar year based on the number of days in the tax year divided by 365.

Be sure that the amount you prorate for each of the tax years is equal to the amount allocated to the corporation for the first tax year ending in the calendar year.

Schedule 28, Election not to be an Associated Corporation

File Schedule 28 if the corporation elects under subsection 256(2) not to be associated with two other corporations for the purposes of the small business deduction.

Two corporations (Corps A and B) that are not associated with each other will be considered associated under subsection 256(2) if they are associated with the same corporation (the third corporation).

However, for the purpose of the small business deduction, the third corporation (Corp C) is considered to not be associated with either of the other corporations if:

- it is not a CCPC at the time; or
- it elects, in prescribed form, to not be associated.

When a corporation makes this election, its business limit for the small business deduction is considered to be zero.

For tax years that begin after March 21, 2016:

- investment income received from either of the two other corporation's active business will be ineligible for the small business deduction as it will not be treated as active business income; and
- Corps A and B must calculate their respective small business deductions as if each corporation were still associated with Corp C. It must then include the taxable capital limit of Corp C when calculating the small business deduction.

Notes

You have to file a new election for each applicable tax year.

Schedule 28 need only be filed by one of the associated/related corporations for a calendar year. However, if Schedule 28 is not already on file with us when we assess any of the returns for a tax year ending in the calendar year of the agreement, we will ask for one.

Schedule 19, Non-Resident Shareholder Information

Complete Schedule 19 if a non-resident shareholder owned a voting share of any class of the corporation's capital stock at any time during the tax year. Do not include non-voting shares.

Schedule 11, Transactions with Shareholders, Officers, or Employees

Complete Schedule 11 if the corporation had transactions with shareholders, officers, or employees.

Do not include transactions the corporation carried out in the ordinary course of business, or any transactions listed on Form T106, Information Return of Non-Arm's Length Transactions with Non-Residents. See page 31 for details.

If the corporation is involved in a transfer of property under section 85, make sure to file either Form T2057, Election on Disposition of Property by a Taxpayer to a Taxable Canadian Corporation, or Form T2058, Election on Disposition of Property by a Partnership to a Taxable Canadian Corporation. File Form T2058 when property is transferred from a partnership. File Form T2057 in all other cases.

Schedule 44, Non-Arm's Length Transactions

Complete Schedule 44 if all or substantially all of the assets of a non-arm's length corporation are transferred to or received by you in the tax year and subsections 85(1), 85(2) or 142.7(3) applied to any of the transactions.

Generally, we consider all or substantially all to be at least 90%. You have to evaluate all assets at cost or fair market value.

When this kind of non-arm's length transaction takes place, the instalment requirements of the transferee corporation have to take into account those of the transferor corporation.

Schedule 14, Miscellaneous Payments to Residents

Complete Schedule 14 if you made any of the following payments to residents of Canada:

- royalties for which you have not filed a T5 slip, Statement of Investment Income;
- research and development fees;
- management fees;
- technical assistance fees;* or
- similar payments.

* Technical assistance fees are payments for technical or industrial services related to producing goods or applying processes, formulae, and expertise in the production process.

List only the payments that were more than $100.

Schedule 15, Deferred Income Plans

Complete Schedule 15 if you deducted from your income payments you made to deferred income plans, such as:

- a registered pension plan;
- a pooled registered pension plan (see limits and conditions in Information Circular IC13-1);
- a registered supplementary unemployment benefit plan;
- a deferred profit sharing plan; or
- an employees profit sharing plan.

Form T5004, Claim for Tax Shelter Loss or Deduction

If you are claiming a loss or deduction from an interest in a tax shelter, file Form T5004 with your return.

The promoter has to prepare Form T5003, Statement of Tax Shelter Information, and send copies to each investor. Attach copy 2 of Form T5003 to your return.

Use the following guidelines to complete your T2 return and schedules:

- for a gift, use line 311, 313, 314, or 315 of the return, whichever applies;
- for a limited partnership loss (see page 51), use lines 600 to 620 of Schedule 4, and line 222 of Schedule 1;
- for a business investment loss, use lines 900 to 950 of Schedule 6; and
- for any other losses or deductions, use lines 395, 396 and 705 of Schedule 1.

Reference
IC89-4, Tax Shelter Reporting

Information slip T5013, Statement of Partnership Income

If you are a member of a partnership, attach to your return a list of all the partnership account numbers assigned to the partnerships of which you are a member.

Corporate partners that receive a T5013 information slip do not have to file it with their return. They should keep it in case we ask for it later.

Notes

Each partnership has to file a T5013 FIN, Partnership Financial Return and T5013 SUM, Information Slips Summary, for each fiscal period. However, some partnerships are exempt from this requirement. For more information, see Guide T4068, Guide for the Partnership Information Return.

Except where an election is filed under subsection 249.1(4), for the tax year that includes the first day of the first fiscal period of a business, partnerships with at least one member who is an individual, a professional corporation, or another affected partnership have to have a December 31 fiscal period end.

Certain partnerships in a multi-tier partnership structure also have to have a December 31 fiscal period end unless a valid multi-tier alignment election was made to align to a common fiscal period. The eligible period to make this one-time election has ended.

Schedule 22, Non-Resident Discretionary Trust

Complete Schedule 22 if the corporation, a foreign affiliate the corporation controls, or any other corporation or trust that did not deal at arm's length with the corporation, had a beneficial interest in a non-resident discretionary trust at any time during the tax year (without reference to section 94).

Schedule 25, Investment in Foreign Affiliates

Complete Schedule 25 if the corporation is resident in Canada and holds shares in one or more foreign affiliates, as defined in subsection 95(1).

Schedule 29, Payments to Non-Residents

Complete Schedule 29 if the corporation paid or credited any of the following amounts to non-residents:

- 1 royalties;
- 2 rents;
- 3 management fees/commissions;
- 4 technical assistance fees*;
- 5 research and development fees;
- 6 interest;
- 7 dividends;
- 8 film acting payments:
 - for a motion picture film; or
 - for a film or videotape for use in connection with television; or
- 9 other services.

* Technical assistance fees are payments for technical or industrial services related to producing goods or applying processes, formulae, and expertise in the production process.

If the total amount paid or credited to a payee is less than $100, you do not have to complete this schedule with the information for that payee.

A corporation that makes payments or credits amounts to non-residents under Regulations 202(1) and/or 105(1) of the Income Tax Regulations has to file the applicable information return.

Thin capitalization rules: Disallowed interest treated as a dividend – Interest disallowed as a deduction under the thin capitalization rules (including amounts paid, credited, or payable to a non-resident by the corporation or by a partnership that the corporation is directly or indirectly a member of) will be deemed to be a dividend paid to the non-resident. As a result, the corporation has to remit Part XIII tax using the rate that applies to dividend payments.

The corporation may designate, on or before its filing due date for the tax year, which amounts paid or credited in the tax year as interest to a particular specified non-resident are to be deemed dividends. The designation may be included with the notes to the financial statements.

Form T106, Information Return of Non-Arm's Length Transactions with Non-Residents

Form T106 is an annual information return on which you report the corporation's activities with certain non-resident persons under section 233.1.

File Form T106 if:

- at any time in the tax year, you were either a resident in Canada or a non-resident that carried on business (other than as a member of a partnership) in Canada;
- you entered into reportable transactions with a non-resident person with whom you were not dealing at arm's length at any time in the year and partnerships of which the non-resident person is a member; and
- the total reportable transactions exceed CAN$1,000,000.

Form T106 consists of the T106 Summary and the T106 slips. File a separate T106 slip for each non-resident.

On Form T106, report all transactions between you and the non-resident, including those transactions concerning:

- tangible property;
- rents;
- royalties and intangible property;
- services; and
- advances, loans, or other accounts receivable or payable, to or from a non-resident (beginning and ending balances including gross increases and decreases).

File Form T106 within six months of the end of the reporting corporation's tax year. Send it to the following address:

Ottawa Technology Centre
Validation and Verification Section
Other Programs Unit
875 Heron Road
Ottawa ON K1A 1A2

Note

If you file Form T106 late, the corporation will be subject to penalties. When the filing deadline falls on a Saturday, Sunday, or a public holiday recognized by the CRA, we will consider the return filed on time if it is sent on the first business day after the filing deadline. For more information, go to cra.gc.ca/importantdates.

Foreign property

Foreign affiliates

A corporation resident in Canada, of which a non-resident corporation is a foreign affiliate at any time in the year, must file Form T1134, Information Return Relating to Controlled and Not-Controlled Foreign Affiliates, within 15 months after the end of its tax year. A separate supplement has to be filed for each foreign affiliate.

Form T1134 contains more information about filing.

Beneficiaries of non-resident trusts

A corporation may have received, in the year, funds or property from, or been indebted to, a non-resident trust in which it had a beneficial interest. If so, you have to complete and file Form T1142, Information Return in Respect of Distributions from and Indebtedness to a Non-Resident Trust.

A separate form has to be filed for each non-resident trust. Form T1142 contains more information about filing.

Transfers to non-resident trusts

A corporation may have transferred or loaned funds or property to a non-resident trust. If so, you may have to complete and file Form T1141, Information Return in Respect of Contributions to Non-Resident Trusts, Arrangements or Entities.

A separate form has to be filed for each non-resident trust. Form T1141 contains more information about filing.

Ownership of foreign property

If, at any time in the year, the corporation owned or held specified foreign property where the total cost of all such property was more than CAN$100,000, you have to complete and file Form T1135, Foreign Income Verification Statement. If the total cost of all such property is less than CAN$250,000 throughout the year, the corporation may use the simplified reporting method included in Form T1135.

Note

Specified foreign property does not include, for example:

- foreign investments held in Canadian mutual funds;
- property you used or held exclusively in the course of carrying on your active business; and
- a share of the capital stock or indebtedness of a foreign affiliate.

Effective May 16, 2016, you can file Form T1135 electronically for the 2014 and following tax years.

For more information on the property you are required to report, see Form T1135 or go to cra.gc.ca/tx/nrdsdnts/cmmn/frgn/1135-eng.html.

Non-resident trusts (NRTs) and offshore investment fund property (OIFP)

NRTs with a resident contributor or a resident beneficiary are deemed to be resident in Canada for many purposes under the Act including determining the liability of the trust for tax under Part I tax and Part XIII of the Act. Also, the resident contributor and/or resident beneficiary are deemed to be jointly, severally, and solidarily liable for the trust's Canadian tax liability and reporting obligations. This means that a corporation that is a resident contributor or resident beneficiary to a trust is jointly, severally and solidarily liable for the Canadian tax liability and reporting obligation of that trust.

Corporations with an interest in an OIFP must include an amount from the investment in their income.

For more information about NRTs and OIFP, including the specific definitions of "resident contributor", "resident beneficiary", and "offshore investment fund property", call us at one of the telephone numbers provided on page 126 of this guide.

Penalties

There are substantial penalties for not completing and filing Forms T1134, T1135, T1141, and T1142 by the due date, and for knowingly or under circumstances amounting to gross negligence making false statements or omissions in any of the information returns.

Additional information

Provide all the information we request in the “Additional information” area of your return.

Line 270 – Did the corporation use the International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS) when it prepared its financial statements?

If the corporation used the International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS) to prepare its financial statements, answer yes to this question.

The use of the IFRS is mandatory for all publicly accountable enterprises (PAEs). This includes corporations that have calculated their financial statements in accordance with the IFRS but have not complied with all aspects of the IFRS. A corporation that has issued, or is in a process of issuing, publicly-traded debt or equity instruments or who holds assets in a fiduciary capacity for a broad group of outsiders is generally considered to be a PAE.

For the first year when IFRS is adopted, corporations are required to maintain additional documentation to support amounts filed on the General Index of Financial Information (GIFI) and tax returns. For more information on IFRS books and records and other IFRS topics, go to cra.gc.ca/tx/bsnss/tpcs/frs/menu-eng.html.

Line 280 – Is the corporation inactive?

Even if a corporation is inactive, which means it has not operated during the tax year, it has to file a return.

Note

Corporations that are inactive throughout the tax year and that do not have balance sheet or income statement information to report do not have to attach schedules 100, 125, and 141 to their T2 return. However, they will be accepted if filed.

Lines 284 to 289 – Specify the principal product(s) mined, manufactured, sold, constructed, or services provided, giving the approximate percentage of the total revenue that each product or service represents

If you file electronically, enter the proper North American Industry Classification System (NAICS) code before completing lines 284 to 289. If you do not select the business activity, you will have problems and errors when you prepare the T2 return to be transmitted electronically or printed in bar-code format.

Break down the business activity into the following categories:

- the principal products mined, manufactured, sold, or constructed; and
- the services provided.

Also, give the approximate percentage of the corporation’s total revenue that each product or service represents.

Line 291 – Did the corporation immigrate to Canada during the tax year?

To answer this question, tick the yes or no box.

Line 292 – Did the corporation emigrate from Canada during the tax year?

To answer this question, tick the yes or no box.

Line 293 – Do you want to be considered as a quarterly instalment remitter, if you are eligible?

A small-CCPC is eligible to make quarterly instalment payments if it meets certain conditions. To determine if you are eligible, see Guide T7B-Corp, Corporation Instalment Guide.

Line 294 – If the corporation was eligible to remit instalments on a quarterly basis for part of the tax year, provide the date the corporation ceased to be eligible.

Indicate the date that the corporation ceased to be eligible to remit instalments on a quarterly basis.

Line 295 – If the corporation’s major business activity is construction, did you have any subcontractors during the tax year?

To answer this question, tick the yes or no box.

Major business activity

All individuals, partnerships, and corporations whose principal business activity is construction have to report payments made to subcontractors. For these purposes, construction is defined as erecting, installing, altering, modifying, repairing, improving, demolishing, dismantling, or removing any structure or part, including but not limited to buildings, roads, and bridges.

Who is a subcontractor?

A subcontractor is an individual, partnership, or corporation that provides construction services.

For more information, go to cra.gc.ca/contract.

Calculating net income or loss

There are several schedules you may have to use to calculate the net income or loss for income tax purposes. This section explains each of those schedules.

Note

If your corporation is a member of a partnership, schedules 1, 6, and 7 are affected by the rules in section 34.2 and the amounts reported on Schedule 73 (as applicable). See “Partnerships – Deferral of corporation tax” on page 13.

Schedule 1, Net Income (Loss) for Income Tax Purposes

Generally, the net income (loss) reported on your financial statements will not be the same as the net income (loss) required for tax purposes. This is because certain income and expenses reported on your financial statements may not be used in the calculation of net income (loss) for tax purposes.

For example, you do not deduct charitable donations when determining net income for tax purposes, as you would to arrive at net income on your financial statement.

Note

Charitable donations are deducted (afterward) from net income for tax purposes to arrive at taxable income.

Use Schedule 1 to reconcile the net income (loss) reported on your financial statements and the net income (loss) required for tax purposes.

Enter net income or loss after income tax and extraordinary items on line A, page 1 of Schedule 1. Add the taxable items and the non-allowable expenses listed on lines 101 to 199 and subtract from this the non-taxable items and eligible expenses listed on lines 401 to 499.

Additions and deductions identified on lines 101 to 132 and 401 to 417 of Schedule 1 are the most common additions and subtractions. For other additions and deductions, see pages 3 and 4.

Some expenses deducted on your income statement are not allowable for income tax purposes and are not identified on Schedule 1. In this case, use columns 605 and 295, and line 296, "Other additions," on page 3.

Also, certain items included in income that are not taxable are not identified on this schedule. In such cases, complete columns 705 and 395, and line 396, "Other deductions," on page 4.

Notes

Only complete lines 203 and 302 if you are converting from an accrual basis to a cash basis. Otherwise, these lines should be left blank.

The deductible portion of expenses you incurred for food, beverages, and entertainment is only 50% of whichever is less: the expenditure actually incurred or the amount that would be reasonable in the circumstances.

Eighty percent of expenses for food and beverages consumed by a long-haul truck driver during an eligible travel period are deductible. For more information, see Guide T4002, Business and Professional Income or go to cra.gc.ca/employmentexpenses and select "Transportation employees".

A full deduction is allowed for meals provided to an employee at a temporary construction work camp, if certain conditions are met. For more information on this subject, see Guide T4130, Employer's Guide – Taxable Benefits and Allowances or go to cra.gc.ca/payroll.

Taxable capital gains or allowable capital losses allocated by a partnership to a corporate partner are not included on line 129 of Schedule 1 of the corporate partner.

Instead, the corporate partner's share of the partnership's capital gain or loss should be reported on Schedule 6 of the corporate partner.

You may have to use the following schedules to calculate certain amounts on Schedule 1:

- Schedule 6, Summary of Dispositions of Capital Property (on this page);
- Schedule 8, Capital Cost Allowance (CCA) (see page 39);
- Schedule 10, Cumulative Eligible Capital Deduction (see page 46);
- Schedule 12, Resource-Related Deductions (see page 46);
- Schedule 13, Continuity of Reserves (see page 46);
- Schedule 16, Patronage Dividend Deduction (see page 47);
- Schedule 17, Credit Union Deductions (see page 47);
- Schedule 73, Income Inclusion Summary for Corporations that Are Members of Partnerships (see page 13); and
- Form T661, Scientific Research and Experimental Development (SR&ED) Expenditures Claim (see page 48).

Schedule 6, Summary of Dispositions of Capital Property

You have to complete Schedule 6 if you disposed of capital property during the tax year and incurred any capital losses or realized any capital gains. You also have to complete this schedule if you claim an allowable business investment loss.

Designation under paragraph 111(4)(e)

Answer yes or no to the question on line 050, page 1 of Schedule 6.

You can make a designation under paragraph 111(4)(e) if a person or group of persons has acquired control of the corporation. If you make the designation, capital properties will be considered as having been disposed of immediately before that person or group of persons acquired control of the corporation.

Completing Schedule 6

To help you complete Schedule 6, we have provided the following explanations that briefly set out the type of information we need in each column and each part of the schedule.

Date of acquisition

In this column, give the date you acquired the property.

Proceeds of disposition

In this column, indicate the proceeds of disposition. The proceeds of disposition are usually the selling price of the property. However, they can also include compensation the corporation received for property that was destroyed, expropriated, stolen, or damaged.

For a gift or a deemed disposition, the proceeds of disposition are usually the fair market value of the property when its owner or use changes.

Section 54

IT-259, Exchange of Property

Adjusted cost base

In this column, indicate the cost of the property you used to calculate any capital gain or loss. This amount is called the adjusted cost base (ACB). The ACB is the original cost of the property that has been adjusted to reflect certain transactions or occurrences that took place after acquiring the property.

The cost of a capital property may be the actual cost, a deemed cost, or the valuation-day value of the property. The nature of the property and the circumstances under which you acquired it determine which cost of the capital property you should use.

References

Subsections 53(1) and 53(2)

The cost of property acquired after 1971 is usually the actual cost of acquiring it, including the purchase price plus any related costs, such as commissions, legal fees, and other reasonable expenses. It also includes the cost of additions and improvements to the property. It does not include current expenses, such as maintenance and repair costs.

Special rules apply when determining the cost of capital property owned on December 31, 1971. According to these rules, tax is not assessed and losses are not allowed for any gain or loss that arose before that date.

When deductions from the cost base of a property (other than a partnership interest) reduce the balance to a negative amount at any time in the tax year, you are considered to have realized a capital gain equal to the amount of the negative balance, and the ACB becomes nil.

You cannot use later additions to the ACB to reduce previous gains on the property that resulted from a negative balance. You can only consider these additions when you determine future gains or losses.

Reference

Subsection 40(3)

Paragraphs 53(1)(e) and 53(2)(c) outline the rules for determining the ACB of a partnership interest.

You have to reduce the ACB of a partnership interest by the amount of any share purchase tax credit, and one-half of any scientific research and experimental development tax credit the partnership allocated to the corporation.

Note

Interests in a partnership that a limited partner or an inactive partner holds are subject to the negative ACB rule.

Outlays and expenses

In this column, enter the amount of outlays and expenses you deducted when calculating a gain or loss. You can deduct most cash outlays the corporation used to put a property into saleable condition when you calculate a gain or loss. You can also deduct expenses incurred when disposing of the property. These expenses include certain fixing-up costs, finder's fees, commissions, surveyor's fees, transfer taxes, and other reasonable expenses incurred to dispose of the property.

Gain (or loss)

In the last column, enter the amount of the gain or loss as instructed.

A capital gain results when the proceeds of disposition of a capital property are more than the ACB and any related outlays or expenses. A capital loss occurs when the proceeds of disposition are less than the ACB and the related outlays and expenses. However, if depreciable property is disposed of, it will result in a terminal loss, not a capital loss. See "Column 6 – Undepreciated capital cost" on page 41 for more details about terminal losses.

In certain cases, when you dispose of a building and the land on which it stands, and the building is disposed of for less than its undepreciated capital cost, you may have to reduce the gain on the sale of the land by the terminal loss on the sale of the building.

Categories of capital property

There are six categories of capital property you may have disposed of during the tax year. The categories are:

- shares;
- real estate;
- bonds;
- other properties;
- personal-use property; and
- listed personal property.

The first six parts of Schedule 6 reflect these six categories of capital property.

Part 1 – Shares

In this part, list the shares disposed of during the tax year. Give the number of shares, the name of the corporation in which the shares were held, and the class of the shares.

Usually, disposing of a share of the capital stock of a corporation will result in a taxable capital gain or an allowable capital loss. However, if the corporation that is disposing of the share is in the business of trading shares, the resulting gain or loss is considered business income or loss.

If a share is converted because of a merger or an amalgamation, subsection 248(1) deems a disposition to have occurred.

Under paragraph 112(3)(b), a corporation (the shareholder) must reduce the losses from the disposition of shares held as capital property by certain dividends received for those shares. This is called a stop-loss rule. Generally, this rule does not apply when the shareholder owns less than 5% of the shares and has held these shares for over a year.

On line 160, enter the total adjustment for such losses identified in Part 1.

Reference

IT-328, Losses on Shares on Which Dividends Have Been Received

Part 2 – Real estate

In this part, list all real estate disposed of during the tax year. Give the municipal address of each property.

Dispositions of non-depreciable real property (unless the property is inventory) may result in a capital gain or loss. However, dispositions of depreciable property may result in a capital gain, a recapture of CCA, or a terminal loss. See “Column 6 – Undepreciated capital cost” on page 41 for details about terminal losses and recaptures.

Enter the total amount of gain or loss realized on disposition of real estate on line B.

Reference

IT-218, Profit, Capital Gains and Losses From the Sale of Real Estate, Including Farmland and Inherited Land and Conversion of Real Estate From Capital Property to Inventory and Vice Versa

Part 3 – Bonds

In this part, list all bonds disposed of during the tax year. Give the face value, the maturity date, and the issuer’s name for each type of bond.

When you make a capital disposition of a debt obligation, the amount of any realized discount or bonus received is usually considered a capital gain. Similarly, a premium paid is considered a capital loss, either when the obligation matures or on the date you dispose of the obligation.

Enter the total amount of gain or loss realized on disposition of bonds on line C.

Reference

IT-479, Transactions in Securities

Part 4 – Other properties

In this part, describe any capital property disposed of during the tax year that you have not already reported in Parts 1, 2, and 3.

Other property includes capital debts established as bad debts, as well as amounts that arise from foreign currency transactions.

When an amount receivable on a capital account becomes a bad debt and you elect on your return to have the provisions of subsection 50(1) applied, a deemed disposition occurs at the end of the year. You are considered to have reacquired the debt immediately afterwards at a cost of nil. This usually allows the corporation to claim a bad debt as a capital loss in the year. Any later recovery of that debt will result in a capital gain.

References

Subsection 50(1)

IT-159, Capital Debts Established to be Bad Debts

Foreign exchange gains or losses from buying or selling capital properties are capital gains or capital losses.

Transactions in foreign currency or foreign currency futures that do not form part of the business operations can be considered capital dispositions.

References

Subsection 39(2)

IT-95, Foreign Exchange Gains and Losses

For dispositions of depreciable property, a capital gain results if the proceeds are more than the capital cost. However, losses on depreciable property do not result in capital losses. These losses are terminal losses. See “Column 6 – Undepreciated capital cost” on page 41 to find out more about terminal losses.

You have to report dispositions of goodwill and other intangible properties on Schedule 10, Cumulative Eligible Capital Deduction. See page 46 for more details.

Enter the total amount of gain or loss realized on disposition of other properties on line D.

Part 5 – Personal-use property

In this part, describe any personal-use property you disposed of during the tax year.

Personal-use property of a corporation is property owned mainly for the personal use or enjoyment of an individual who is related to the corporation.

Use the $1,000 rule to determine gains and losses when you dispose of personal-use property. According to this rule, if the adjusted cost base is less than $1,000, it is considered to be $1,000. As well, when the proceeds of disposition are less than $1,000, they are considered to be $1,000.

The $1,000 rule will not apply when donors acquire personal-use property as part of an arrangement in which the property is gifted to a qualified donee, such as a registered charity.

You cannot deduct losses on dispositions of personal-use property (other than listed personal property) from your income.

Enter the total amount of gain realized on disposition of personal-use property on line E.

Reference

Subsection 46(1)

Part 6 – Listed personal property

In this part, describe any listed personal property disposed of during the tax year.

Listed personal property is a special category of personal-use property that usually increases in value. The following is a complete list of the different types of listed personal property:

- prints, etchings, drawings, paintings, sculptures, or other similar works of art;
- jewellery;
- rare folios, rare manuscripts, or rare books;
- stamps; and
- coins.

If you incur losses from disposing of listed personal property, you can only deduct these losses from capital gains realized from disposing of listed personal property.

On line 655, enter the amount of listed personal property losses from previous years you want to apply against current-year net listed personal property gains. Also, enter this amount on line 530 of Schedule 4, Corporation Loss Continuity and Application.

You can apply any unabsorbed losses in the current year to reduce similar net gains realized in the three preceding years, and in the following seven years. See “Part 5 – Listed personal property losses” on page 51 for more details.

On line F, enter the total amount of gains or losses realized on disposition of listed personal property minus the amount of line 655.

Part 7 – Property qualifying for and resulting in an allowable business investment loss

Generally, a business investment loss arises from the arm’s length disposition (or deemed disposition) of:

- shares of a small business corporation; or
- certain debts owed to the corporation by a small business corporation, certain bankrupt corporations, or certain wound-up corporations (these corporations have to deal with the corporation at arm’s length).

A small business corporation is defined in subsection 248(1).

Complete Part 7 to claim an allowable business investment loss (ABIL).

On line G, enter the ABIL (total of column 7 multiplied by 1/2). Enter this amount on line 406 of Schedule 1.

Capital gains reserve

Often, you will not receive part of the proceeds of disposition, usually for real property, until after the end of the year. In these cases, you can defer part of the capital gain to the year the corporation is due to receive the proceeds by setting up a capital gains reserve. By using reserves, you can spread a capital gain over a maximum of five years.

Generally, a corporation that has made a gift of a non-qualifying security to a qualified donee may claim a reserve for any gain realized on this security. The reserve claimed by the corporation cannot exceed the eligible amount of the gift. The eligible amount of a gift is the amount by which the fair market value of the property that is the subject of the gift exceeds the amount of the advantage, if any, in respect of the gift.

A reserve can only be claimed if the donation is not deducted for tax purposes and the donee does not dispose of the security or the security does not cease to be a non-qualifying security. This reserve can only be claimed in tax years ending within 60 months of making the gift.

The reserve must be included in income if the corporation becomes a non-resident or tax exempt.

The reserve that you can claim in a tax year cannot be more than the lesser of the following two amounts:

A. $\frac{\text{Capital gain}}{\text{Proceeds of disposition}} \times \text{Amount not due until after the end of the year}$ and

- B. ■ for the year of disposition 4/5 of the capital gain
■ for the second year 3/5 of the capital gain
■ for the third year 2/5 of the capital gain
■ for the fourth year 1/5 of the capital gain

Add the reserve amount you deducted in a tax year to income in the following tax year.

Add the reserve opening balance and subtract the reserve closing balance on lines 880 and 885 of Schedule 6.

Show the continuity of capital gain reserves on Schedule 13, Continuity of Reserves. See page 46 for details.

Subsection 40(1.01)

Part 8 – Capital gains or losses

When completing this part, line 875 is the capital gains dividends. Capital gains dividends under paragraphs 130.1(4)(a) and (b) and 131(1)(a) and (b) are considered to be capital gains. These paragraphs apply to mortgage investment corporations and mutual fund corporations. If you received any capital gains dividends in the tax year, enter them on this line.

Line 880 is the balance at the beginning of the year of the capital gains reserve from Schedule 13. This amount should include any amount from the last tax year of predecessor corporations after amalgamation or wind-up.

Part 9 – Taxable capital gains and total capital losses

Generally, a zero inclusion rate applies for capital gains arising as a result of a gift to qualified donees of certain securities or of environmentally sensitive land. The zero inclusion rate is restricted to only part of the capital gain if the taxpayer is entitled to an advantage or benefit in respect of a gift.

When completing this part, line 895 is the full amount of capital gains realized on donations of a security listed on a designated stock exchange, a share or unit of a mutual fund, an interest in a segregated fund, or a prescribed debt obligation made to a qualified donee.

Generally, if you donate property to a qualified donee that is included in a flow-through share class of property, and you have an exemption threshold for the flow-through share class of property, you may be deemed to have an additional capital gain from the disposition of another capital property subject to the 50% inclusion rate.

Amounts under section 34.2 (the adjusted stub period accrual and transitional relief amounts) that have the character of capital are to be entered in this part of Schedule 6 and not on line 130 of Schedule 1.

Since these amounts are deemed to be taxable capital gains/allowable capital losses under the rules in section 34.2 and so already reflect the 50% inclusion rate, they are multiplied by 2 on Schedule 6 to calculate the total capital gains or losses of the corporation.

Amount U is the capital gain or loss for the year. If the amount is a loss, enter it on line 210 of Schedule 4. If the amount is a gain, multiply it by 1/2 and enter it on line W of Schedule 6 and line 113 of Schedule 1.

Paragraphs 38(a.1), 38(a.2), and 40(12)

You can deduct an ABIL from all sources of income for the year. If any balance remains after the year the loss occurs, it becomes part of the non-capital loss. You can carry the non-capital loss back 3 tax years and carry it forward 10 tax years.

If you are unable to deduct an ABIL as a non-capital loss within this allowed time frame, the unused part becomes a net capital loss, and you can carry it forward indefinitely to reduce taxable capital gains.

Include all unused ABIL after the applicable carry-forward period in Part 2, "Capital losses," of Schedule 4. See page 50, for more details.

Schedule 8, Capital Cost Allowance (CCA)

Paragraph 20(1)(a) allows a corporation to deduct part of the capital cost of certain depreciable property from income it earned in the year from a business or property. This deduction is called capital cost allowance (CCA).

Complete Schedule 8 to calculate CCA.

When a tax year is shorter than 12 months, you generally have to prorate the CCA.

Under Part XI of the Income Tax Regulations, depreciable property is grouped into prescribed classes. Schedule II of the Regulations contains a complete list of these prescribed classes.

A maximum rate is prescribed for each class. Apply the prescribed rate to the undepreciated capital cost of the class at year-end to determine the maximum CCA you can claim. You can deduct any amount up to the maximum that is available for the year.

Note

You can claim CCA for depreciable property acquired for use in scientific research and experimental development after 2013.

Disability-related modifications

You can deduct outlays and expenses you incur for eligible disability-related modifications made to a building in the year you paid them, instead of having to add them to the capital cost of your building. Eligible disability-related modifications include changes you make to accommodate wheelchairs. You can also deduct expenses paid to install or get disability-related devices and equipment.

You can claim this as "Other deductions" on Schedule 1, Net Income (Loss) for Income Tax Purposes.

Available-for-use rule

The available-for-use rule determines the earliest tax year in which you can claim CCA for depreciable property.

When is property available for use?

Property other than a building is considered available for use at the earliest of several dates. The following are some examples of these dates:

- when the corporation first uses the property to earn income;
- the beginning of the first tax year that starts at least 358 days after the tax year during which the corporation acquired the property;
- immediately before the corporation disposes of the property; and

- when the corporation can use the property to either produce a saleable product or perform a saleable service.

A building is considered available for use on the earliest of the following dates:

- when the corporation uses all or substantially all of the building for its intended purpose;
- when construction of the building is completed;
- the beginning of the first tax year that starts at least 358 days after the tax year during which the corporation acquired the property;
- immediately before the corporation disposes of the property; and
- when the corporation acquires a replacement property, if it is replacing one it involuntarily disposed of (for example, expropriation) that it either acquired before 1990 or had already become available for use.

Note

If a corporation acquires a property for a long-term project, it can elect to limit the impact of the available-for-use rule. This election is not available for rental buildings. To make this election, send us a completed Form T1031, Subsection 13(29) Election in Respect of Certain Depreciable Properties, Acquired for use in a Long Term Project, with your return.

Subsections 13(26) to 13(32)

Election under Regulation 1101(5q)

Line 101 – Is the corporation electing under Regulation 1101(5q)?

To answer this question, tick the yes or no box.

This election allows you to include certain property usually included in classes 8 and 43 in a separate class. You have to have acquired each property at a capital cost of at least $1,000. The types of properties that qualify for this election include manufacturing and processing property, photocopiers, and electronic communications equipment, such as facsimile transmission devices or telephone equipment.

You can elect to classify a property in a separate class or several properties in one or more than one separate class.

This election can allow you to claim a terminal loss, which is any remaining undepreciated capital cost at the time of disposition of the properties in this class. For more information on terminal losses, see "Column 6 – Undepreciated capital cost."

CCA rates and classes

Electric energy storage property – Stand-alone electrical energy storage property not associated with a class 43.1 or class 43.2 generation source is generally included in class 8 and is eligible for a 20% declining balance capital cost allowance (CCA) rate.

Under proposed changes, for property acquired for use after March 21, 2016, that has not been used or acquired for use before March 22, 2016:

- if the storage property is part of an electricity generation system that is eligible for class 43.1 (that is, a mid-efficiency cogeneration system), it will be included in class 43.1. This class allows for a 30% declining balance CCA rate;
- if the storage property is part of an electricity generation system that is eligible for class 43.2 (for example, an eligible renewable, waste-fueled or high-efficiency cogeneration system), it will be included in class 43.2. This class allows for a 50% declining balance CCA rate;
- if the storage property is a stand-alone electrical storage system and the round trip efficiency is greater than 50%, it will be included in class 43.1. This class allows for a 30% declining balance CCA rate. (Round trip efficiency measures the extent to which energy is maintained in the process of converting electricity into another form of energy and then back into electricity.);
- a fuel cell that uses hydrogen generated from ancillary electrolysis equipment is eligible for inclusion in class 43.2 only if the electrolysis equipment uses electricity generated by certain equipment. This list of equipment will be expanded to include geothermal equipment and electricity generated by using the kinetic energy of flowing water or wave or tidal energy.

Electric vehicle charging stations – Electric vehicle charging stations (EVCSs) are generally included in class 8 and are eligible for a 20% declining balance CCA rate.

Under proposed changes, for property acquired for use after March 21, 2016, that has not been used or acquired for use before March 22, 2016:

- EVCSs set up to supply more than 10 kilowatts of continuous power and certain electrical equipment used primarily in connection with such an EVCS will be eligible for inclusion in class 43.1. This class allows for a 30% declining balance CCA rate;
- EVCSs set up to supply at least 90 kilowatts of continuous power and certain electrical equipment used primarily in connection with such an EVCS will be eligible for inclusion in class 43.2. This class allows for a 50% declining balance CCA rate.

Column 1 – Class number

Identify each class of property with the assigned class number.

Generally, you have to group all depreciable property of the same class together. Then, calculate CCA on the undepreciated capital cost of all the property in that class.

However, sometimes you have to maintain a separate record for each property in the same class. For example, list on separate lines property that you would usually group in the same class but use to earn income from different sources. Also, list on a separate line each class 10.1 passenger vehicle and property you elected to identify in a separate class under Regulation 1101(5q).

Note

If a class number has not been provided in Schedule II of the Income Tax Regulations for a particular class of property, use the subsection provided in Regulation 1101.

Regulation 1101

Column 2 – Undepreciated capital cost at the beginning of the year

Enter the amount of the undepreciated capital cost at the end of the previous tax year. This is the amount from column 13 of your last tax year's Schedule 8.

Column 3 – Cost of acquisitions during the year

For each class, enter the total cost of depreciable property you acquired in the tax year. Depreciable property is considered acquired when it becomes available for use. See page 39 for more information on the available-for-use rule.

The cost of acquisitions generally means the full cost of acquiring the property, including legal, accounting, engineering, and other fees. Land is not a depreciable property, and is therefore not eligible for CCA.

List any acquisitions that are not subject to the 50% rule, separately. See Regulations 1100(2) and (2.2) for more information about these types of acquisitions.

Do not enter section 85 transfers in this column.

Regulations 1100(2) and (2.2)

Column 4 – Adjustments and transfers

In some cases, you will have to adjust the capital cost of a property. In column 4, enter the amounts that will either reduce or increase the capital cost.

Reduce the capital cost of a property by the following amounts:

- goods and services tax/harmonized sales tax (GST/HST) input tax credit claimed or entitled to be claimed, or rebate received or entitled to be received in the year;
- federal investment tax credits (ITCs), other than SR&ED ITCs, used to reduce taxes payable or claimed as a refund in the previous tax year;
- reduction of capital cost after the application of section 80;
- provincial or territorial ITCs received or entitled to be received in the current year; and
- government assistance received or entitled to be received in the year.

Add to the capital cost of the property:

- repayment of GST/HST input tax credit previously claimed; and
- government assistance repaid in the year that previously reduced the capital cost.

Also include in column 4 depreciable property transferred upon amalgamation or upon the wind up of a subsidiary, and depreciable property transferred under section 85.

Show the amounts that reduce the capital cost in brackets. Do not include them as income.

Note

A corporation that receives an amount of non-government assistance to buy depreciable property has the option of either reducing the capital cost of the property by this amount, or including it in its income.

Paragraph 12(1)(x)

Column 5 – Proceeds of dispositions during the year

For each class, you usually enter the total proceeds of disposition received or are entitled to be received for property disposed of during the year. However, if you disposed of the property for more than its capital cost, enter the capital cost, not the actual proceeds of disposition.

A capital gain results when you dispose of a depreciable property for more than its capital cost. However, losses on depreciable property do not result in capital losses. They may result in terminal losses. See column 6 for more details about terminal losses.

Column 6 – Undepreciated capital cost

To calculate the amount you have to enter in column 6:

- add the amounts in columns 2 and 3;
- either subtract or add the amount in column 4 (subtract if it is a negative amount, or add if it is a positive amount); and
- subtract the amount in column 5.

You cannot claim CCA when the amount in column 6 is:

- positive, and no property is left in that class at the end of the tax year (a terminal loss); or
- negative (a recapture of CCA).

Terminal loss

A terminal loss results when you dispose of all the property in a particular class and there is an amount of undepreciated capital cost left in column 6. You have to deduct the terminal loss from income. For details, see example 1 under the heading “Schedule 8 examples” that follows.

Recapture of CCA

If the amount in column 6 is negative, you have a recapture of CCA. A recapture of CCA occurs when the proceeds of disposition in column 5 are more than the total of columns 2 and 3, plus or minus the amount in column 4 of that class.

You have to add the recapture to income. For details, see example 2 under the heading “Schedule 8 examples” that follows.

The recapture and terminal loss rules do not apply to passenger vehicles in Class 10.1.

Enter the recapture or terminal loss from column 6 in column 10 or 11. In this case, do not complete the rest of the columns for that line.

Column 7 – 50% rule

Generally, property acquired during the tax year is only eligible for 50% of the normal maximum CCA for the year. You can claim full CCA for that property in the next tax year.

To apply the 50% rule, the undepreciated capital cost of the property has to be adjusted. This adjustment is equal to one-half of the net amount of additions to the class (the net cost of acquisitions minus the proceeds of dispositions). Enter this amount in column 7. For details, see example 3 under the heading “Schedule 8 examples” that follows.

When applying the 50% rule, the net amount of additions must take into account some adjustments in column 4 (plus or minus). However, do not reduce the net amount of additions by the ITC claimed in the previous tax year and included in column 4.

Certain properties acquired through non-arm’s-length transfers or butterfly transfers (which occur in the course of certain reorganizations) are exempt from the 50% rule.

Regulation 1100(2)

Column 8 – Reduced undepreciated capital cost

In this column, enter the amount you get when you subtract the amount in column 7 from the amount in column 6.

Column 9 – CCA rate

Enter the prescribed rate that applies, as provided for under Part XI of the Regulations. If a specific rate has not been provided for a particular class of property, enter N/A in this column.

Enter a rate only if you are using the declining balance method. In this method, the CCA is calculated by multiplying a constant rate by the diminishing balance every year.

Note

Some asset classes use the straight-line method to calculate the CCA. In this method, the CCA is calculated by dividing the original amount by the number of years that corresponds to the life expectancy of the property. Therefore, the deducted amount remains the same from one year to the other (except the first and last year, if the half-year rule applies) and you do not have to enter a rate.

Example

Declining balance method – The capital cost of an asset is $780,000. The rate for the class is 10% with a half-year rule.

First year:

$$10\% \times $780,000 = $78,000$$

$$$78,000 \div 2 = $39,000 \text{ CCA (half-year rule)}$$

Second year:

$$$780,000 - $39,000 = $741,000 \text{ (undepreciated capital cost)}$$

$$$741,000 \times 10\% = $74,100 \text{ CCA}$$

Third year:

$$741,000 - $74,100 = $666,900$ (undepreciated capital cost)

$$666,900 \times 10\% = $66,690$ CCA

And so on for the following years.

Straight-line method – The capital cost of an asset is $780,000, its life expectancy is 10 years and the half-year rule does not apply. Therefore, the capital cost allowance will be $78,000 per year ($$780,000 \div 10$).

Class 13 (property that is a leasehold interest) uses the straight-line method with the half-year rule. The amount that has to be entered in column 7 is half of the result you obtain when dividing the amount of the acquisition by the amortization period. The full amount of this result can be claimed on the second year and so on, until the last year of the amortization period. The last year of the amortization period, you can claim up to one and a half amount of this result.

For more information on the special rules that apply to class 13, see Interpretation Bulletin IT-464, Capital Cost Allowance – Leasehold Interests. For more information on the half-year rule, see Income Tax Folio S3-F4-C1, General Discussion of Capital Cost Allowance.

Example

A leasehold interest of 10 years starts on January 1, 2015, and ends on December 31, 2024. A leasehold improvement of $9,000 is made in 2016. The amortization period is 9 years, that is the number of years remaining in the lease.

First year (2016):

$$9,000 \div 9 = $1,000$

$$1,000 \div 2 = \500 CCA (half-year rule)

Second year and following (2017 to 2023):

$1,000 CCA per year

Last year of amortization period (2024):

$$1,000 \times 1 \frac{1}{2} = $1,500$ CCA.

If a disposition occurs during the amortization period, the terminal loss is claimed in the year it occurs.

Column 10 – Recapture of capital cost allowance

Enter the amount of recapture from column 6, if applicable. Be sure you include the recapture as income. Enter the total of amounts in column 10 on line 107 of Schedule 1.

Column 11 – Terminal loss

Enter the terminal loss from column 6, if applicable. Deduct the terminal loss from income. Enter the total of amounts in column 11 on line 404 of Schedule 1.

Column 12 – Capital cost allowance

To claim the maximum CCA for each class, multiply the amount in column 8 by the rate in column 9, and enter the result in column 12. You do not have to claim the maximum allowable CCA. You can claim any amount up to the maximum.

If the tax year is less than 365 days, prorate the CCA claim for all property except for those classes of property that Regulation 1100(3) excludes. The exceptions in Regulation 1100(3) include:

- class 14 assets;
- class 15 assets;
- timber limits and cutting rights;
- industrial mineral mines;
- certified productions;
- Canadian film or video productions; and
- certain mining equipment in classes 28 and 41.

To determine the maximum CCA claim, multiply the maximum CCA for a complete year by the number of days in the tax year divided by 365.

References

Regulation 1100(3)

IT-147, Capital Cost Allowance – Accelerated Write-off of Manufacturing and Processing Machinery and Equipment

The total of all amounts in column 12 is the CCA claim for the tax year. Deduct this amount on line 403 of Schedule 1.

Notes

If you want to change the amount of CCA claimed in a tax year, send a written request within 90 days of the date on the notice of assessment or notice of reassessment. Only under certain circumstances can we make adjustments after the 90-day period has expired.

For more information, see Information Circular IC84-1, Revision of Capital Cost Allowance Claims and Other Permissive Deductions.

Column 13 – Undepreciated capital cost at the end of the year

Subtract the amount in column 12 from the amount in column 6 and enter the difference.

When there is a recapture of CCA or a terminal loss for a particular class in the year, the undepreciated capital cost at the end of the year is always nil.

Schedule 8 examples

Example 1: Terminal loss

An import-export business decided to sell its warehouse, because it is better to lease instead. The business received $60,000 for the warehouse. At the end of the 2016 tax year, the business had no more assets in class 3.

The business's Schedule 8 for its 2016 tax year looks like this:

1 Class number	2 Undepreciated capital cost at the beginning of the year (amount from column 13 of last year's schedule 8)	3 Cost of acquisitions during the year (new property must be available for use)	4 Adjustments and transfers (show amounts that will reduce the undepreciated capital cost in brackets)	5 Proceeds of dispositions during the year (amount not to exceed the capital cost)	6 Undepreciated capital cost (column 2 plus column 3 plus or minus column 4 minus column 5)	7 50% rule (1/2 of the amount, if any, by which the net cost of acquisitions exceeds column 5)	8 Reduced undepreciated capital cost (column 6 minus column 7)	9 CCA rate %	10 Recapture of capital cost allowance	11 Terminal loss	12 Capital cost allowance (for declining balance method, column 8 multiplied by column 9; or a lower amount)	13 Undepreciated capital cost at the end of the year (column 6 minus column 12)
200	201	203	205	207		211		212	213	215	217	220
1.	3	$65,000		$60,000	$5,000		$5,000	n/a		$5,000
4.

The amount in column 11 is a terminal loss.

The import-export business deducts the $5,000 terminal loss from its income (line 404 of Schedule 1).

Example 2: Recapture of CCA

A clothing company bought a sewing machine in 2014 for $15,000. Now, because of the overwhelming success the company has had in the retail end of the business, it has decided to concentrate solely on retailing. As a result, the company sold its sewing machine in 2016 for $18,000 (but the proceeds of disposition in column 5 cannot be more than $15,000, the capital cost). At the beginning of 2016, the undepreciated capital cost of the sewing machine was $10,800.

The company's Schedule 8 for its 2016 tax year looks like this:

1 Class number	2 Undepreciated capital cost at the beginning of the year (amount from column 13 of last year's schedule 8)	3 Cost of acquisitions during the year (new property must be available for use)	4 Adjustments and transfers (show amounts that will reduce the undepreciated capital cost in brackets)	5 Proceeds of dispositions during the year (amount not to exceed the capital cost)	6 Undepreciated capital cost (column 2 plus column 3 plus or minus column 4 minus column 5)	7 50% rule (1/2 of the amount, if any, by which the net cost of acquisitions exceeds column 5)	8 Reduced undepreciated capital cost (column 6 minus column 7)	9 CCA rate %	10 Recapture of capital cost allowance	11 Terminal loss	12 Capital cost allowance (for declining balance method, column 8 multiplied by column 9; or a lower amount)	13 Undepreciated capital cost at the end of the year (column 6 minus column 12)
200	201	203	205	207		211		212	213	215	217	220
1.	8	$10,800		$15,000	($4,200)		($4,200)	n/a	$4,200
2.
4.

The amount in column 10 is the recapture of CCA.

The clothing company includes the $4,200 recapture in its income (line 107 of Schedule 1). The capital gain is $18,000 minus $15,000, which equals $3,000.

Example 3: 50% rule

In the 2016 tax year, a bookstore bought a photocopier to help keep up with the paperwork, and started using it right away. The copier cost $10,000. The bookstore has to apply the 50% rule when it calculates the amount of CCA it can deduct for 2016.

The bookstore's Schedule 8 for its 2016 tax year looks like this:

1 Class number	2 Undepreciated capital cost at the beginning of the year (amount from column 13 of last year's schedule 8)	3 Cost of acquisitions during the year (new property must be available for use)	4 Adjustments and transfers (show amounts that will reduce the undepreciated capital cost in brackets)	5 Proceeds of dispositions during the year (amount not to exceed the capital cost)	6 Undepreciated capital cost (column 2 plus column 3 plus or minus column 4 minus column 5)	7 50% rule (1/2 of the amount, if any, by which the net cost of acquisitions exceeds column 5)	8 Reduced undepreciated capital cost (column 6 minus column 7)	9 CCA rate %	10 Recapture of capital cost allowance	11 Terminal loss	12 Capital cost allowance (for declining balance method, column 8 multiplied by column 9; or a lower amount)	13 Undepreciated capital cost at the end of the year (column 6 minus column 12)
200	201	203	205	207		211		212	213	215	217	220
1.	8	$14,000	$10,000			$24,000	$5,000	$19,000	20		$3,800	$20,200

List of CCA rates and classes

The following chart is a partial list and description of the most common capital cost allowance (CCA) classes. You will find a complete list in Schedule II of the Income Tax Regulations.

Class number	Description	CCA rate
1	Most buildings made of brick, stone, or cement acquired after 1987, including their component parts such as electric wiring, lighting fixtures, plumbing, heating and cooling equipment, elevators, and escalators (additional allowance of 6% for buildings used for manufacturing and processing in Canada and 2% for buildings used for other non-residential purposes, for buildings acquired after March 18, 2007)	4%
3	Most buildings made of brick, stone, or cement acquired before 1988, including their component parts as listed in class 1 above	5%
6	Buildings made of frame, log, stucco on frame, galvanized iron, or corrugated metal that are used in the business of farming or fishing, or that have no footings below-ground; fences and most greenhouses	10%
7	Canoes, boats, and most other vessels, including their furniture, fittings, or equipment	15%
8	Property that is not included in any other class such as furniture, calculators and cash registers (that do not record multiple sales taxes), photocopy and fax machines, printers, display fixtures, refrigeration equipment, machinery, tools costing $500 or more, and outdoor advertising billboards and greenhouses with rigid frames and plastic covers	20%
9	Aircraft, including furniture, fittings, or equipment attached, and their spare parts	25%
10	Automobiles (except taxis and others used for lease or rent), vans, wagons, trucks, buses, tractors, trailers, drive-in theatres, general-purpose electronic data-processing equipment (for example, personal computers) and systems software, and timber-cutting and removing equipment	30%
10.1	Passenger vehicles costing more than $30,000 if acquired after 2000	30%
12	Chinaware, cutlery, linen, uniforms, dies, jigs, moulds or lasts, computer software (except systems software), cutting or shaping parts of a machine, certain property used for earning rental income such as apparel or costumes, and videotape cassettes; certain property costing less than $500 such as kitchen utensils, tools, and medical or dental equipment acquired after May 1, 2006	100%
13	Property that is a leasehold interest (the maximum CCA rate depends on the type of leasehold and the terms of the lease)	n/a
14	Patents, franchises, concessions, and licences for a limited period – the CCA is limited to whichever is less: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ■ the capital cost of the property spread out over the life of the property; or ■ the undepreciated capital cost of the property at the end of the tax year Class 14 also includes patents, and licences to use patents for a limited period, that you elect not to include in class 44	n/a
16	Automobiles for lease or rent, taxicabs, and coin-operated video games or pinball machines; certain tractors and large trucks acquired after December 6, 1991, that are used to haul freight and that weigh more than 11,788 kilograms	40%
17	Roads, sidewalks, parking-lot or storage areas, telephone, telegraph, or non-electronic data communication switching equipment	8%
29	Machinery and equipment acquired after March 18, 2007, and before 2016 that is used in Canada mainly to manufacture and process goods for sale or lease	50%
38	Most power-operated movable equipment acquired after 1987 used for moving, excavating, placing, or compacting earth, rock, concrete, or asphalt	30%
43	Machinery and equipment acquired after February 25, 1992, that is used in Canada mainly to manufacture and process goods for sale or lease. Also see class 53.	30%
44	Patents and licences to use patents for a limited or unlimited period that the corporation acquired after April 26, 1993—however, you can elect not to include such property in class 44 by attaching a letter to the return for the year the corporation acquired the property. In the letter, indicate the property you do not want to include in class 44	25%
46	Data network infrastructure equipment that supports advanced telecommunication applications, acquired after March 22, 2004 – it includes assets such as switches, multiplexers, routers, hubs, modems, and domain name servers that are used to control, transfer, modulate and direct data, but does not include office equipment such as telephones, cell phones or fax machines, or property such as wires, cables or structures	30%
50	General-purpose computer equipment and systems software acquired after March 18, 2007, that is not used principally as electronic process control, communications control, or monitor equipment, and the systems software related to such equipment, and data handling equipment that is not ancillary to general-purpose computer equipment	55%
53	Machinery and equipment acquired after 2015 and before 2026 that is used in Canada mainly to manufacture and process goods for sale or lease.	50%

Schedule 10, Cumulative Eligible Capital Deduction

Complete Schedule 10 to calculate the cumulative eligible capital deduction.

Some business-related expenditures are capital in nature. Corporations incur these expenditures, called eligible capital expenditures, to buy intangible capital property, known as eligible capital property. Some examples of eligible capital property are:

- goodwill;
- trademarks;
- franchises, concessions, or licences for an unlimited period; and
- patents, and licences to use patents for an unlimited period, that you elect not to include in Class 44. For more information on Class 44, see the CCA rates and classes chart on page 43.

Expenses you incur for incorporation, reorganization, or amalgamation also qualify as eligible capital expenditures.

Eligible capital expenditures are not deductible in full, and they are not eligible for CCA. However, they may qualify for a partial deduction called a cumulative eligible capital deduction.

On January 1, 2017, the eligible capital property regime will be replaced with a new CCA class available to businesses. Under the old regime, eligible capital expenditures are added to the cumulative eligible capital pool at a 75% inclusion rate, and the rate of depreciation of those expenditures is 7% on a declining-balance basis. Under the new regime, as of January 1, 2017, newly-acquired eligible properties will be included in a new CCA class 14.1 at a 100% inclusion rate with a 5% CCA rate on a declining-balance basis. The existing CCA rules will generally apply.

Special transitional rules will apply to transfer any existing CEC balance of a business to the new CCA class. Furthermore, for each tax year that ends before 2027, additional deductions for CCA will be allowed for property acquired before January 1, 2017, and included in class 14.1.

As a measure to simplify the transition for small businesses, a separate business deduction will be provided for incorporation expenses incurred after 2016, such that the first $3,000 of the expenses will be treated as a current expense rather than being added to the new class 14.1.

More information on the transitional rules will be provided on Schedule 10.

The cumulative eligible capital (CEC) account is the account you set up to keep track of your eligible capital expenditures. Calculate your CEC account balance on Schedule 10.

Complete Part 1 of Schedule 10 and claim the amount at line 250 on line 405 of Schedule 1.

Show any amount at line 222, "Cost of eligible capital property acquired during the tax year," excluding any adjustments, such as government assistance, repayment of government assistance, and section 85 transfers. Enter adjustments at line 226 if they increase the eligible capital cost or at line 246 if they reduce it. Enter all amounts transferred upon amalgamation or wind-up of the subsidiary on line 224.

When completing Part 1 of Schedule 10, if you have a negative balance on your CEC account, you have to complete Part 2.

On line 108 of Schedule 1, enter the amount you calculated at line 410. You must prorate the deduction for a short tax year.

Schedule 12, Resource-Related Deductions

You have to complete the appropriate part(s) of Schedule 12 if you are claiming any of the following deductions on Schedule 1:

- Canadian development expenses;
- Canadian exploration expenses;
 - For expenses incurred after February 2015, the costs of doing environmental studies and community consultations that are required to get an exploration permit or licence are eligible for Canadian exploration expenses treatment.
- Canadian oil and gas property expenses;
- depletion;
- foreign exploration and development expenses;
- specified foreign exploration and development expenses; or
- foreign resource expenses.

Schedule 12 gives details for the calculations required.

Schedule 13, Continuity of Reserves

You have to complete Schedule 13 to show the continuity of deductible reserves. Indicate, on the appropriate lines, the prior-year and the current-year reserves as well as the reserve transferred from an amalgamation or wind-up. If your corporation or the predecessor corporation deducted a reserve amount last year, add that amount to current-year income and establish a new reserve amount.

Complete Schedule 13 as follows:

Part 1 – Capital gains reserves

Establish the continuity of reserves for each different property. Unlike other reserves, you have to report the total capital gain reserves that you and the predecessor corporation deducted last year. Add the current-year reserve on Schedule 6 to calculate the current-year capital gain. See page 35 for more details.

Part 2 – Other reserves

In this part, establish the continuity of the following reserves:

- reserve for doubtful debts;
- reserve for undelivered goods and services not rendered (except for reclamation obligations—see below for transitional rules);
- reserve for prepaid rent;
- reserve for returnable containers;
- reserve for unpaid amounts; and
- other tax reserves (except transitional reserve calculated under section 34.2 on Schedule 73, Income Inclusion Summary for Corporations that Are Members of Partnerships).

For amounts received after March 20, 2013, related to services not rendered, no deduction will be available for a reserve for a reclamation obligation. This measure will not apply to an amount received that is directly attributable to a reclamation obligation that was authorized by a government or regulatory authority before March 21, 2013, and that is received:

- under a written agreement between the corporation and another party (other than a government or regulatory authority) that was entered into before March 21, 2013, and not extended or renewed after March 20, 2013; or
- before 2018.

Enter, on line 125 of Schedule 1, the total of the balance of your reserve at the beginning of the year (line 270 of Schedule 13) plus the amount of reserve transferred on wind-up/amalgamation (line 275 of Schedule 13).

Enter, on line 413 of Schedule 1, the balance at the end of the year (line 280 of Schedule 13).

Note

The balance at the beginning of the year of reserves from financial statements and the balance at the end of the year of reserves from financial statements should not be entered on Schedule 13. Enter these amounts on line 414 and line 126 of Schedule 1 respectively.

Schedule 16, Patronage Dividend Deduction

Complete Schedule 16 if you are claiming a patronage dividend deduction. This deduction is for payments made to customers for allocations in proportion to patronage. An allocation in proportion to patronage entitles a customer to receive payment calculated at a rate relating to the quantity, quality, or value of either goods or products sold or services rendered.

Corporations have to pay amounts that qualify for this deduction either during the tax year, or in the 12 months that follow the tax year.

An agricultural cooperative corporation for a particular tax year can deduct patronage dividends issued in the form of tax deferred cooperative shares, but deductions cannot be more than 85% of its income for that year that is attributable to business done with its members.

Corporations other than credit unions and cooperative corporations cannot deduct patronage dividends paid to non-arm's length persons.

Parts 1, 2, and 3 of Schedule 16 give details on how to calculate the allowable patronage dividend deduction. Enter this deduction on line 416 of Schedule 1.

If you are claiming a patronage dividend deduction, you also have to complete Part 5 of Schedule 16 entitled "Calculation of income from an active business carried on in Canada (ABI)". Enter the amount from line 124 at line 400 of the return.

File one completed copy of this schedule with your return.

Note

Eligible members of agricultural cooperative corporations can defer including in income patronage dividends in the form of tax deferred cooperative shares issued before 2021 to the year of their disposal.

However, a member may elect to have an amount included in income before the disposition of the shares. To make this election, the member must send a letter specifying the amount to be included in income with their return for the particular tax year.

Schedule 17, Credit Union Deductions

As a credit union, you may claim allocations for bonus interest payments and allocations in proportion to borrowing. If so, complete Schedule 17.

Use this schedule to calculate the "additional deduction – credit unions" to reduce Part I tax. This additional deduction is being phased out. 2016 is the last year that you can claim this additional deduction. For details, see "Line 628 – Additional deductions – credit unions" on page 66.

A credit union can deduct from its income for a tax year both the total of all bonus interest payments and the payments it made to its members for allocations in proportion to borrowing. It can also deduct payments made in the 12 months after the end of the tax year. However, the credit union cannot deduct an amount if it could have deducted it in the previous tax year.

The allocation in proportion to borrowing for a tax year means an amount a credit union credits to a member that is entitled to, or will receive, this amount.

On Schedule 17, you have to calculate the payment made in proportion to borrowing at a rate that is related to:

- the amount of interest payable by the member on money the member borrowed from the credit union; or
- the amount of money the member borrowed from the credit union.

You have to calculate the bonus interest payment at a rate that is related to:

- the interest payable by the credit union on money standing to the member's credit; or
- the amount of money standing to the member's credit.

The amount the credit union credited to the member has to bear the same rate as the interest or money that the credit union similarly credited to all other members of the credit union of the same class.

Complete the appropriate parts of Schedule 17 to calculate this deduction. Add lines 305 and 315 of Schedule 17 and enter the result on line 315 of Schedule 1.

Form T661, Scientific Research and Experimental Development (SR&ED) Expenditures Claim

We publish Guide T4088, Scientific Research and Experimental Development (SR&ED) Expenditures Claim - Guide to Form T661, which gives details on how to complete Form T661. For more information, go to cra.gc.ca/sred.

File Form T661 if you carry on business in Canada and have incurred expenditures for scientific research and experimental development (SR&ED) you carried on in Canada and for some salary or wage expenditures for SR&ED carried on outside Canada.

To avoid delays in processing, use the most recent version of Form T661.

A penalty of $1,000 applies for SR&ED program claims made by a corporation for which prescribed information for tax preparation is missing, incomplete or inaccurate. When a SR&ED claim preparer participates in preparing the claim, the corporation and the SR&ED claim preparer are jointly and severally, or solidarily, liable for the penalty.

Capital SR&ED expenditures incurred before 2014 and current SR&ED expenditures form a special pool that you can deduct in the current year. You can also carry forward to any future year the expenditures in that pool as long as you have not deducted them before.

If the SR&ED expenditures have been included in your income statement, enter the amount on line 118 of Schedule 1. Enter the SR&ED expenditures claimed in the year on line 411 of Schedule 1.

Form T661 summarizes the costs for all SR&ED projects. You have to complete the form and place it on top of the return for the tax year you incur SR&ED expenditures. File Form T661 whether or not you claim an ITC. If you do not file Form T661 and Schedule 31, Investment Tax Credit – Corporations, on or before the day that is 12 months after your filing due date for the tax year in which the SR&ED expenditures were made, you cannot claim SR&ED expenditures and an ITC for that year. For more information, see “Line 652 – Investment tax credit” on page 68.

When a corporation is a member of a partnership that incurs SR&ED expenditures, the partnership has to file

Form T661 along with the T5013 FIN, Partnership Financial Return, and T5013 SUM, Information Slips Summary. Each partner that receives an information slip T5013, Statement of Partnership Income, showing its share of the expenditures, does not have to file it with its return. They should keep it in case we ask for it later.

Expenditures Claim - Guide to Form T661

Losses

Current-year losses

A corporation may not always have net income to report. Instead, it may have incurred a loss for the year. The different types of losses a corporation can incur are:

- non-capital loss;
- farm loss;
- restricted farm loss;
- limited partnership loss; and
- capital loss.

The application and continuity of the first four losses are calculated on Schedule 4, Corporation Loss Continuity and Application. Information on how to complete Schedule 4 follows this section.

Capital losses are determined on Schedule 6, Summary of Dispositions of Capital Property. For information on how to complete this schedule, see page 35.

Applying losses

A corporation can apply unused losses and deduct them from income it earned in the current tax year or in prior tax years.

Note

You can choose whether or not to deduct an available loss from income in a tax year. You can deduct losses in any order. However, for each type of loss, make sure to deduct the oldest available loss first.

You can view non-capital loss balances using the “View return balances” service through:

- My Business Account at cra.gc.ca/mybusinessaccount, if you are the business owner; or
- Represent a Client at cra.gc.ca/representatives, if you are an authorized representative or employee.

Losses carryback

You can use losses in any order, but consider the following:

- a current-year non-capital loss or farm loss can reduce any kind of income or taxable dividends subject to Part IV tax for the three previous years;
- a net capital loss can reduce taxable capital gains included in your income for the three previous years;

- a restricted farm loss can reduce farming income for the three previous years; and
- a listed personal property loss can reduce capital gains incurred on listed personal property for the three previous years.

Except for net capital losses, you cannot use other year losses to create or increase a non-capital loss for the tax year.

Use Schedule 4 to request the carryback of any losses to prior years. If you do not attach your request to the return, you can send it separately to your tax centre.

Calculating losses when there is an acquisition of control

Following an acquisition of control, special rules apply for calculating and deducting net capital losses, non-capital losses, and farm losses. You will find more information about these rules on Schedule 4 and at lines 063 and 065 on page 22. Also, see the following references for details.

How to complete Schedule 4, Corporation Loss Continuity and Application

Part 1 – Non-capital losses

Determination of current year non-capital loss

To determine the current-year non-capital loss, you have to complete Part 1 as follows:

Net income (loss) for income tax purposes – income from all sources minus losses from business and property, plus or minus the adjustments on Schedule 1;

deduct

net capital losses deducted in the year – net capital losses from previous years used to reduce taxable capital gains included in income; taxable dividends deductible – taxable dividends received, deductible under section 112 or 113 or subsection 138(6) (for details, see line 320 on page 54); amount of Part VI.1 tax deductible – unused Part VI.1 tax deductible in the taxable income calculation; and amount deductible as prospector's and grubstaker's shares – paragraph 110(1)(d.2) – the amount deductible is the value of any shares received from a corporation on disposition of a right or a mining property, except if the amount is exempt from tax in Canada by virtue of one of Canada's tax treaties, multiplied by 1/2.

Subtotal – if the result is positive, enter "0";

deduct

section 110.5 or subparagraph 115(1)(a)(vii) – addition for foreign tax deductions – any amounts added to the taxable income to use foreign tax deductions you could not otherwise deduct from Part I tax. For details, see line 355 on page 56;

add

current-year farm loss – whichever is less: the net loss from farming or fishing included in the income, or the non-capital loss before deducting the farm loss.

Calculating current-year farm loss

The current-year farm loss is whichever of the following amounts is less:

- the loss from farming or fishing that is more than the farming or fishing income for the year; or
- the amount of the current-year non-capital loss as calculated in Part 1 of Schedule 4 before you deduct the farm loss for the year.

Enter the farm loss calculated on line 310 of Schedule 4.

The farm loss can also include an amount allocated from a partnership.

If the result after the calculation shown under Part 1 is negative, enter this result (as positive) on line 110 of Schedule 4 as the current-year non-capital loss.

Note

You cannot use prior-year losses to create or increase a current-year non-capital loss, except with net capital losses of other years.

IT-302, Losses of a Corporation – The Effect That Acquisitions of Control, Amalgamations and Windings-Up Have on Their Deductibility – After January 15, 1987

Continuity of non-capital losses and request for a carryback

Use this area to establish the continuity of non-capital losses and to carry back a current-year non-capital loss to prior years.

The current-year non-capital loss can reduce any kind of income or taxable dividends subject to Part IV tax for the 20 following tax years if it arose in a tax year ending after 2005 and for the 3 previous tax years. The loss expires after the carry-forward period.

When completing this part, line 105 is the amount of non-capital losses transferred from a predecessor corporation after amalgamation or a subsidiary after wind-up where not less than 90% of the issued shares in each class were, immediately before the wind-up, owned by the corporation. This amount is the unused non-capital losses available to be carried forward at the end of the tax year of the predecessor corporation or subsidiary ending immediately before the amalgamation or wind-up, minus any expired amount.

Line 150 is an amount received under subsection 111(10) as a fuel tax rebate that reduced non-capital loss for a previous year, and any other adjustments not previously mentioned. These adjustments would apply to corporations that have undergone an acquisition of control and whose losses that accrued before the acquisition of control are not deductible after the acquisition of control.

Line 140 is the amount of debt forgiveness under section 80 that reduces the non-capital losses balance. Losses have to be reduced in the order established by section 80.

The result of this part is the closing balance of non-capital losses you carry forward to future years (line 180).

Complete Part 6 to establish the balance of non-capital losses by year of origin.

Part 2 – Capital losses

Continuity of capital losses and request for a carryback

The current-year capital loss is calculated on Schedule 6. See page 35 for more details. Complete this part to establish the continuity and the application of capital losses.

To establish the continuity, you have to enter the amount of capital losses and not the amount of net capital losses available. The inclusion rate will be used only when the loss is applied. You have to indicate the balance of any previous-year capital losses carried forward.

The net capital loss can reduce taxable capital gains included as income for the three previous tax years and indefinitely for future years.

When completing this part, line 205 is the amount of capital losses transferred from a predecessor corporation after amalgamation or a subsidiary after wind-up where not less than 90% of the issued shares of each class were, immediately before the wind-up, owned by the corporation. This amount is the unused capital losses available to carry forward at the end of the tax year of the predecessor corporation or subsidiary ending immediately before the amalgamation or wind-up, including any amount of the allowable business investment loss (ABIL) expired as non-capital loss for the predecessor corporation or the subsidiary, divided by the inclusion rate for the tax year in which the ABIL was incurred.

Line 250 is the amount of any other adjustments not previously mentioned. These adjustments would apply to corporations that have undergone an acquisition of control and whose losses that accrued before the acquisition of control are not deductible after the acquisition of control. These adjustments would also apply to corporations whose losses that occurred after the acquisition of control are not deductible before the acquisition of control.

Line 240 is the amount of debt forgiveness under section 80 that reduces the capital losses balance. Losses have to be reduced in the order established by section 80.

Line 220 is the lesser of the non-capital losses from a previous year that have expired in the year and the amount of the ABIL incurred in the same previous year that is included in the amount of non-capital losses expired in the year, divided by the 0.50 inclusion rate.

On the appropriate line (lines 951 to 953), enter the amount of capital loss you carry back to prior years.

The result of this part is the closing balance of available capital losses you carry forward to future years (line 280). The net capital loss amount will be calculated at the 50% inclusion rate.

Part 3 – Farm losses

Continuity of farm losses and request for a carryback

Use this part to establish the continuity of farm losses and to carry back a current-year farm loss to prior years. Farm losses include losses from farming and fishing businesses.

A farm loss incurred in a tax year ending after 2005 will expire after 20 tax years following the year of loss.

When completing this part, line 305 is the amount of farm losses transferred from a predecessor corporation after amalgamation or subsidiary after wind-up where not less than 90% of the issued shares in each class were, immediately before the wind-up, owned by the corporation. This amount is the unused farm losses available to carry forward at the end of the tax year of the predecessor corporation or subsidiary ending immediately before the amalgamation or wind-up minus any expired amount.

Line 350 is any other adjustments not previously mentioned. These adjustments would apply to corporations that have undergone an acquisition of control and whose losses that accrued before the acquisition of control are not deductible after the acquisition of control.

Line 340 is the amount of debt forgiveness under section 80 that reduces the farm losses balance. Losses have to be reduced in the order established by section 80.

The result of this part is the closing balance of farm losses you carry forward to future years (line 380).

Complete Part 6 to establish the balance of farm losses by year of origin.

Part 4 – Restricted farm losses

Current-year restricted farm loss

If your chief source of income is neither farming nor a combination of farming and some other subordinate source of income, the loss arising from the farming activity that you can deduct is restricted. An amount of farm loss allocated from a partnership may also be restricted.

The limit of deductible farm losses for a year is $17,500.

Enter your amount on line 410 of Schedule 4 and add it to your income on line 233 of Schedule 1.

IT-232, Losses – Their Deductibility in the Loss Year or in Other Years

Continuity of restricted farm losses and request for a carryback

Use this part to establish the continuity of restricted farm losses and to carry back a current-year restricted farm loss to prior years.

The current-year restricted farm loss can reduce farm income for the 20 following tax years if the loss was incurred in a tax year ending after 2005 and for the 3 previous tax years. The loss expires after the carry-forward period.

When completing this part, line 405 is the amount of restricted farm losses transferred from a predecessor corporation after amalgamation or a subsidiary after wind-up where not less than 90% of issued shares in each class were, immediately before the wind-up, owned by the corporation. This amount is the unused restricted farm losses available to carry forward at the end of the tax year of the predecessor corporation or subsidiary ending immediately before the amalgamation or wind-up minus any expired amount.

Line 440 is the amount of debt forgiveness under section 80 that reduces the restricted farm losses balance. Losses have to be reduced in the order established by section 80.

Line 450 is the amount of any other adjustments not previously mentioned. These adjustments would apply to corporations that have undergone an acquisition of control and whose losses that accrued before the acquisition of control are not deductible after the acquisition of control.

The result of this part is the closing balance of restricted farm losses you carry forward to future years (line 480).

Complete Part 6 to establish the balance of restricted farm losses by year of origin.

Part 5 – Listed personal property losses

Continuity of listed personal property loss and request for a carryback

Use this part to establish the continuity of listed personal property losses and to carry back a current-year listed personal property loss against net capital gains incurred on the same kind of property of the three previous years.

A listed personal property loss cannot be transferred.

When completing this part, line 530 is the amount of prior-year listed personal property losses applied in the current year to reduce the net capital gain incurred in the current year on the same kind of property (enter this amount on line 655 of Schedule 6).

Line 550 is the amount of adjustments. These adjustments would apply to corporations that have undergone an acquisition of control and whose losses that accrued before the acquisition of control are not deductible after the acquisition of control.

The result of this part is the closing balance of listed personal property losses you carry forward to future years (line 580).

Complete Part 6 to establish the balance of listed personal property losses by year of origin.

Part 6 – Analysis of balance of losses by year of origin

Use this part to show by year of origin the balance of losses you can carry forward to future years. Enter each loss by year of origin, starting with the current year, going down to the 20th previous year for losses incurred in a tax year ending after 2005.

Part 7 – Limited partnership losses

Current-year limited partnership losses

Use this part to calculate the current-year limited partnership losses that are deductible for the year. The amount that cannot be deducted may be carried to other years.

The amount of limited partnership loss allocated to a limited partner is reported on an information slip T5013, Statement of Partnership Income. If the limited partner does not receive this slip because the partnership is exempt from filing, you have to file the partnership's financial statements with the return to prove the corporation's share of the partnership loss for the year.

Report the amount in the tax year of the partnership's tax year-end.

The part of a partnership loss that a limited partner can deduct in determining net income for income tax purposes may be restricted.

When completing this part, in column 606, enter the corporation's at-risk amount at the fiscal period ending of the partnership (column 602). The amount entered in column 604 is from a business (other than a farming or fishing business) or from property.

In general terms, you have to calculate a limited partner's at-risk amount as follows:

the adjusted cost base of its partnership interest;

plus

its share of the current-year's income from the partnership;

minus

all amounts the partner owes to the partnership, and any amount or benefit to which the partner is entitled that is intended to protect it from the loss of its investment.

In general, interests in partnerships that were operating on a regular and continuous basis on February 25, 1986, and continuously thereafter, are exempt from the at-risk rules. However, partnership interests may lose their exempt status if, after February 25, 1986, there has been either a substantial contribution of capital to the partnership or substantial partnership borrowings.

The difference between the corporation's share of the actual loss of the limited partnership and the corporation's at-risk amount is called a limited partnership loss. This amount is from column 620.

Add the total of column 620 to line 222 of Schedule 1. Enter all those losses in column 670 to establish the continuity of losses.

Subsection 96(2.1)

IT-232, Losses – Their Deductibility in the Loss Year or in Other Years

Limited partnership losses from prior tax years that may be applied in the current year

Complete this part if you want to apply limited partnership losses from previous years to reduce any kind of income in the current year. However, the deductible amount is limited to the difference between the balance of losses and the corporation's at-risk amount for each limited partnership.

Continuity of limited partnership losses that can be carried forward to future tax years

Limited partnership losses can be carried forward indefinitely to future years.

For this part, column 664 is the amount of limited partnership losses transferred from a predecessor corporation after amalgamation, or a subsidiary after wind-up, where not less than 90% of the issued shares in each class were, immediately before the wind-up, owned by the corporation. This amount is the unused limited partnership losses available to carry forward at the end of the tax year of the predecessor corporation or subsidiary ending immediately before the amalgamation or wind-up.

The result of this part is the amount of limited partnership losses you carry forward to later years (column 680).

Part 8 – Election under paragraph 88(1.1)(f)

Further to a winding up of a subsidiary, the portion of a non-capital loss, restricted farm loss, farm loss, or limited partnership loss incurred by the subsidiary is deemed to be the parent corporation's loss for its tax year starting after the winding up has begun.

Paragraph 88(1.1)(f) allows the parent corporation to elect that this loss is deemed to be a loss from its tax year previous to the year mentioned above.

Tick box 190 if you are making an election under paragraph 88(1.1)(f).

Taxable income

The following section explains how to calculate the deductions you may be able to claim to reduce net income. You will use these amounts to arrive at your taxable income.

Line 300 – Net income or (loss) for income tax purposes

On line 300, enter the net income or loss for income tax purposes, as you calculated on Schedule 1. If you did not have to make any adjustments to the net income or loss from the financial statements, enter on line 300 the net income or loss from the income statement. Show the amount of any loss in brackets.

Note

On Schedule 1, do not deduct charitable donations, taxable dividends, net capital losses, non-capital losses, farm losses, or restricted farm losses from other years.

You have to deduct these items from net income for income tax purposes to arrive at taxable income.

Lines 311 to 315

The amount deductible by the corporation will generally be the eligible amount. The eligible amount of a gift is the amount by which the fair market value of the property that is the subject of the gift exceeds the amount of the advantage, if any, in respect of the gift.

Line 311 – Charitable donations

Complete Schedule 2, Charitable Donations and Gifts, if, during the tax year, you made charitable donations, or unused charitable donations were transferred from a predecessor corporation after amalgamation or from a subsidiary corporation after wind-up.

The eligible amount of gifts to Canada, a province, or a territory that was deductible before the 2016 tax year under paragraph 110.1(1)(b) is now deductible as charitable gifts under paragraph 110.1(1)(a) on line 311.

You can claim a deduction from net income for charitable donations made to any of the following qualified donees:

- registered charities (including registered national arts service organizations);
- registered Canadian amateur athletic associations;
- registered housing corporations resident in Canada set up only to provide low-cost housing for the aged;
- registered Canadian municipalities;
- registered municipal or public bodies performing a function of government in Canada;
- the United Nations or its agencies;
- registered universities outside Canada that are prescribed to be universities the student body of which ordinarily includes students from Canada;
- registered foreign charities, including foreign foundations, to which Her Majesty in right of Canada had made a gift (before June 23, 2015, foreign foundations were excluded); or
- Her Majesty in right of Canada, a province, or a territory.

The maximum amount of charitable donations that a corporation can deduct is equal to 75% of its net income (line 300).

This limitation can be increased by the following amounts:

- 25% of the taxable capital gains arising from gifts of capital property made in the year and included in taxable income for the year; this amount is multiplied by the eligible amount of the gift divided by the corporation's proceeds of disposition for the gift;
- 25% of all taxable capital gains in the year from the disposition in a previous year of a non-qualifying security of a corporation that is making a gift to a qualified donee; and
- 25% of whichever is less:
 - the amount of recapture, included in the income of the year, arising from the donation of a prescribed class of depreciable property; or
 - the eligible amount of the gift divided by the corporation's proceeds of disposition for the gift, multiplied by the lesser of the capital cost and the proceeds of disposition of the property minus any outlays and expenses made for the purpose of making the disposition.

Charitable donations are deducted in the order they were made (first-in, first-out rule).

If you are reporting nil net income or a loss for the year, you cannot claim donations to create or increase a loss.

However, you can carry forward unused charitable donations and claim them in any of the five following tax years.

Note

On line 255 of Schedule 2, enter the amount of any other adjustments (these adjustments would apply to corporations that have undergone an acquisition of control and whose donations carryforward that accrued before the acquisition of control are not deductible after the acquisition of control).

Complete Part 1 of Schedule 2 to calculate the total donations available and the charitable donations closing balance.

Complete Part 2 of Schedule 2 to calculate the maximum deduction allowable and to determine the amount to claim for charitable donations including gifts of capital property.

On line 311, enter the amount you want to apply against taxable income. This amount cannot be more than the lesser of:

- the total donations available; and
- the maximum deduction allowable.

Complete Part 6 of Schedule 2 to establish the continuity of charitable donations.

You do not have to file receipts with your return. However, you have to keep them in case we ask for them later.

Notes

When a credit union calculates its income for purposes of the 75% limit, it has to add back any amounts it previously deducted for bonus interest payments and payments for allocations in proportion to borrowing.

Where a corporation makes a gift of a non-qualifying security, that gift has to be ignored for the charitable donations deduction. However, if the donee disposes of the security within 60 months, for consideration other than another non-qualifying security of any person, or the security ceases to be a non-qualifying security of the corporation within 60 months, the corporation will be treated as having made the gift at that later time.

A non-qualifying security generally includes an obligation of the corporation or a non-arm's length person, a share of the corporation or a share issued by a corporation with which the corporation does not deal at arm's length, the corporation's beneficial interest in a trust in certain circumstances, and any other security issued by the corporation or a non-arm's length person. Specifically excepted from this definition are obligations, shares, and other securities listed on designated stock exchanges and deposits with financial institutions.

Monetary gifts to Canada should be made payable to the Receiver General. Send the gift, along with a note stating that the money is a gift to Canada, to:

Place du Portage
Phase III, 11 Laurier Street
Gatineau QC K1A 0S5

If you made such a gift, you should have been provided with an official donation receipt.

Line 313 – Cultural gifts

Complete Part 3 of Schedule 2 if, during the tax year:

- you donated cultural gifts; or
- the cultural gifts were transferred from a predecessor corporation after amalgamation or from a subsidiary corporation after wind-up.

You can claim a deduction from net income for a gift of certified cultural property made to designated institutions or public authorities. The most you can deduct is the total eligible amount of the gifts donated in the current tax year and any undeducted amounts from the five previous years.

If the eligible amount of cultural gifts is more than your net income for the year minus other donations you claim, you can carry the excess forward for up to five years.

Note

On line 455 of Schedule 2, enter the amount of any other adjustments (these adjustments would apply to corporations that have undergone an acquisition of control and whose donations carryforward that accrued before the acquisition of control are not deductible after the acquisition of control).

Cultural gifts are deducted in the order they were made (first-in, first-out rule).

On line 313, enter the eligible amount for cultural gifts you want to apply against taxable income.

Complete Part 6 of Schedule 2 to establish the continuity of cultural gifts.

The Cultural Property Export Review Board will issue you a certificate containing prescribed information. The qualified donee will issue a receipt. You do not have to file receipts and certificates with your return. However, keep them in case we ask for them later.

For gifts of certified cultural property made after February 10, 2014, if the certified cultural property is acquired as part of a gifting arrangement that is a tax shelter, the fair market value (FMV) of the property is deemed to be the lesser of the FMV of the property otherwise determined and its cost to the donor. For more information about the deemed FMV rule, see Pamphlet P113, Gifts and Income Tax.

Line 314 – Ecological gifts

Complete Part 4 of Schedule 2 if, during the tax year:

- you made certified ecological gifts; or
- the ecological gifts were transferred from a predecessor corporation after amalgamation, or from a subsidiary corporation after wind-up.

You can claim a deduction from net income for certified ecological gifts made to Canada, a province, territory or Canadian municipality, municipal or public bodies performing a function of government in Canada or an approved registered charity. An ecological gift is a gift of land (including a covenant, an easement, or, in the case of land in Quebec, a real servitude) that is certified by the minister of the Environment and Climate Change as ecologically sensitive.

The eligible amount of a gift of ecologically sensitive land and, consequently, the corporate donor's proceeds of disposition are deemed to be the amount determined by the minister of the Environment and Climate Change.

The maximum deduction you can claim is the total of gifts made during the current tax year plus the unclaimed gifts from the five previous tax years.

If the amount of ecological gifts is more than your net income for the year minus any other donations you claim, you can carry the excess forward for up to 10 years. For gifts of ecologically sensitive land made before February 11, 2014, the carry-forward period is 5 years.

Note

On line 555 of Schedule 2, enter the amount of any other adjustments (these adjustments would apply to corporations that have undergone an acquisition of control and whose donations carryforward that accrued before the acquisition of control are not deductible after the acquisition of control).

Deduct ecological gifts in the order they were made (first-in, first-out rule).

On line 314, enter the amount of ecological gifts you want to apply against taxable income.

Complete Part 6 of Schedule 2 to establish the continuity of ecological gifts.

For an ecological gift, you must get a certificate issued by the minister of the Environment and Climate Change and a Certificate for Donation of Ecologically Sensitive Land. The qualified donee will issue a receipt. You do not have to file the receipt and the two certificates with your return. However, keep them in case we ask for them later.

Line 315 – Gifts of medicine

Complete Part 5 of Schedule 2 if, during the tax year:

- you made a gift of medicine; or
- your gifts of medicine were transferred from a predecessor corporation after amalgamation, or from a subsidiary corporation after wind-up.

You can claim a deduction from net income for an eligible gift of medicine made to a registered charity if the gift is made for charitable activities of the charity outside Canada. An eligible gift is a gift of medicine that was part of the corporation's inventory immediately before being donated, that qualifies as a drug within the meaning of the Food and Drugs Act, and generally meets the requirements of that Act but is not a food, cosmetic, or device (as those terms are used in that Act), a natural health product (as defined in the Natural Health Products Regulations) or a veterinary drug.

The registered charity must be one that, in the opinion of the minister for International Development, meets conditions prescribed by regulation. (If no such minister has been appointed, the opinion of the minister of Foreign Affairs will be required.) Also, the eligible gift of medicine must be available for the donee's use at least six months before its expiration date as defined in the Food and Drug Regulations (Food and Drugs Act).

The maximum deduction you can claim is the lesser of:

- the cost to the corporation of the gifts of medicine; and
- 50% of the amount, if any, by which the proceeds of disposition of the donated medicine exceeds the cost to the corporation of the medicine;

multiplied by

- the eligible amount of the gift divided by the proceeds of disposition for the gift.

If the amount of the gifts of medicine minus any other donations you claim is more than your net income for the year, you can carry the excess forward for up to five years.

Note

On line 655 of Schedule 2, enter the amount of any other adjustments (these adjustments would apply to corporations that have undergone an acquisition of control and whose donations carryforward that accrued before the acquisition of control and are not deductible after the acquisition of control).

Gifts of medicine are deducted in the order they were made (first-in, first-out rule).

On line 315, enter the amount for gifts of medicine you want to apply against taxable income.

When calculating taxable income, you can deduct, under section 112, any of the following types of taxable dividends received:

- dividends from a taxable Canadian corporation, or from a corporation resident in Canada and controlled by the receiving corporation; and
- dividends (or a portion of them) from a non-resident corporation (other than a foreign affiliate) that has carried on business in Canada continuously since June 18, 1971.

The following types of taxable dividends received are not deductible under section 112:

- dividends from a corporation that is exempt from Part I tax;
- dividends on collateralized preferred shares (loss rental plans);
- dividends that are part of a dividend rental arrangement, as defined in subsection 248(1);
- dividends on term preferred shares received by certain financial institutions; and
- dividends on shares guaranteed by a specified financial institution, as described in subsection 112(2.2).

In this way, the corporation can use these otherwise non-deductible foreign tax deductions.

The amount you add to income for this purpose forms part of the non-capital loss. See page 49 for details.

However, you cannot add an amount under section 110.5 if that addition increases any of the following deductible amounts:

- the small business deduction;
- the manufacturing and processing profits deduction;
- the federal logging tax credit;
- the federal political contribution tax credit;
- the investment tax credit (ITC);
- the share-purchase tax credit; or
- the SR&ED tax credit.

If the corporation is an authorized foreign bank, you cannot add an amount under subparagraph 115(1)(a)(vii) if that addition increases any of the following deductible amounts:

- the federal logging tax credit;
- the federal political contribution tax credit; or
- the ITC.

On line 355, enter the amount you added to income under section 110.5 and/or subparagraph 115(1)(a)(vii).

Small business deduction

Corporations that were Canadian-controlled private corporations (CCPCs) throughout the tax year may be able to claim the small business deduction (SBD). The SBD reduces Part I tax that the corporation would otherwise have to pay.

The SBD is 17.5% (17% before 2016) of whichever of the following amounts is less:

- the income from active business carried on in Canada (line 400);
- the taxable income (line 405);
- the business limit (line 410); or
- the reduced business limit on line 425 from which you deduct the amount of the business limit you assigned under subsection 125(3.2) (line 427).

The following sections explain each of the above amounts.

For tax years ending after 2016, the SBD will remain at the 2016 level of 17.5%, resulting in a small business tax rate of 10.5%. This last rate was 11% before 2016.

For tax years that straddle a calendar year, the rate is prorated based on the number of days in each calendar year.

Once you have calculated the SBD, enter it on line 430.

Avoidance of the business limit and taxable capital limit

For tax years that begin after March 21, 2016, where two corporations (Corps A and B) are deemed to be associated because they are associated with the same third corporation (Corp C), but because they have filed a Schedule 28 election (see page 29), they are not associated for determining the SBD:

- investment income derived from an associated corporation’s active business will be ineligible for the SBD and will be taxed at the general corporation income rate;
- Corps A and B must calculate their respective SBD as if each corporation were still associated with Corp C (that is, it must include the taxable capital limit of Corp C).

Preventing multiplication of the small business deduction

For tax years that begin after March 21, 2016, to prevent the multiplication of the SBD, the specified partnership rules will also apply to partnership structures in which a CCPC provides services or property to a partnership during the tax year of the CCPC, where the CCPC or a shareholder of the CCPC is a member of the partnership. A similar measure will also apply for corporate structures that multiply access to the SBD.

Line 400 – Income from active business carried on in Canada

Complete Schedule 7, Aggregate Investment Income and Active Business Income, to determine the following amounts:

- the aggregate investment income and foreign investment income for determining the refundable portion of Part I tax (see “Refundable portion of Part I tax, Lines 440, 445, and 450” on page 61 for details);
- the specified partnership income for members of a partnership; and
- the income from an active business carried on in Canada for the SBD.

For tax years that begin after March 21, 2016, CCPCs can assign all or part of their business limit under subsection 125(3.2) or specified partnership business limit under subsection 125(8) to another corporation.

Use Schedule 7 to assign all or part of your specified partnership business limit to another corporation.

If another corporation assigned all or part of its business limit or specified partnership business limit to your CCPC, also file Schedule 7.

If you are assigning all or part of your business limit to another corporation, report it on page 4 of the T2 return.

Note

If claiming a deduction for patronage dividends on line 416 of Schedule 1, complete Part 5 of Schedule 16 to establish active business income carried on in Canada (see page 47 for details).

Active business income

Generally, active business income is income earned from a business source, including any income incidental to the business.

Income from a specified investment business or from a personal services business is generally not considered active business income and is not eligible for the SBD. The following sections explain when income from these types of businesses may be considered to be active business income and eligible for the SBD.

Specified investment business

A specified investment business is a business with the principal purpose of deriving income from property, including interest, dividends, rents, or royalties. It also includes a business carried on by a prescribed labour-sponsored venture capital corporation, the principal purpose of which is to derive income from property.

Except for a prescribed labour-sponsored venture capital corporation, income from a specified investment business is considered to be active business income, and is therefore eligible for the SBD if:

- the corporation employs more than five full-time employees in the business throughout the year; or
- an associated corporation provides managerial, financial, administrative, maintenance, or other similar services to the corporation while carrying on an active business, and the corporation would have to engage more than five full-time employees to perform these services if the associated corporation were not providing them.

Note

The business a credit union carries on, or the business of leasing property other than real property, is not considered specified investment business.

Personal services business

A personal services business is a business that a corporation carries on to provide services to another entity (such as a person or a partnership) that an officer or employee of that entity would usually perform. Instead, an individual performs the services on behalf of the corporation. That individual is called an incorporated employee.

Any income the corporation derives from providing the services is considered income from a personal services business, as long as both of the following conditions are met:

- the incorporated employee who is performing the services, or any person related to him or her, is a specified shareholder of the corporation; and
- the incorporated employee would, if it were not for the existence of the corporation, reasonably be considered an officer or employee of the entity receiving the services.

However, if the corporation employs more than five full-time employees throughout the year or provides the services to an associated corporation, the income is not considered to be from a personal services business. Therefore, the income is eligible for the SBD.

For more information on the factors to take into account when a person is considered an employee, see Guide RC4110, Employee or self-employed? or go to cra.gc.ca/tx/hm/xplnd/itc-eng.html.

Specified shareholder

A specified shareholder is a taxpayer who owns, directly or indirectly at any time in the year, at least 10% of the issued shares of any class of capital stock of the corporation or a related corporation.

How to calculate income from an active business carried on in Canada

Generally, to calculate active business income from carrying on a business in Canada, you have to deduct from net income for income tax purposes any of the following amounts that apply:

- taxable capital gains minus allowable capital losses;
- dividends that are deductible from income under sections 112 and 113, and subsection 138(6);
- property income minus property losses;
- property income from an interest in a trust;
- foreign business income;
- income from a specified investment business; and
- income from a personal services business.

Specified partnership income

A corporation that is a member of a partnership has to complete Schedule 7 to calculate its active business income.

The corporate partnership rules impose a limit on the amount of active business income earned by a partnership that is eligible for the SBD. This amount is allocated among all partners.

For tax years beginning after March 21, 2016, special rules apply to designated members of a partnership. Their specified partnership business limit is nil, unless they get an amount assigned from a member of the partnership.

Specified partnership income is the amount of partnership income eligible for the SBD that is allocated to the corporation. You have to add this income to your active business income.

If the partnership incurs a loss from carrying on an active business, you have to deduct the corporation's share of that loss from its active business income. This is referred to as a specified partnership loss.

If your corporation is a member of a partnership in respect of which it filed a Schedule 73, you have to add or deduct the total active business income determined under section 34.2.

If the corporation received an information slip T5013, Statement of Partnership Income, that shows its share of partnership income or loss, keep it in case we ask for it later. Do not include this form with the return. See page 30 for details.

On line 400, enter the total active business income you calculated on Schedule 7.

Line 405 – Taxable income for the SBD

The taxable income you use to calculate the SBD is usually the amount entered on line 360. However, if you have claimed a foreign non-business income tax credit, a foreign business income tax credit, or both, you have to reduce the taxable income by:

- 100/28 of the amount that would be deductible as a federal foreign non-business income tax credit on line 632, if that credit was determined without the refundable tax on the CCPC's investment income (line 604) and without reference to the corporate tax reduction under section 123.4; and
- four times the amount that would be deductible as a federal foreign business income tax credit (line 636) if that credit was determined without reference to the corporate tax reduction under section 123.4. See page 60.

You also have to reduce taxable income by any amount that, because of federal law, is exempt from Part I tax.

On line 405, enter your taxable income for the purposes of calculating the SBD.

Line 410 – Business limit

The maximum allowable business limit for a corporation that is not associated with any other corporation is $500,000.

CCPCs that are associated with one or more corporations during the tax year have to file Schedule 23, Agreement Among Associated Canadian-Controlled Private Corporations to Allocate the Business Limit. On this schedule, a percentage of the business limit is allocated to each corporation, and the total of all percentages cannot be more than 100%. See page 28 for details about Schedule 23.

On line 410, enter the business limit for the year. If applicable, enter the amount from Schedule 23.

Notes

If the tax year is shorter than 51 weeks, you have to prorate the business limit, based on the number of days in the tax year divided by 365, before you enter it on line 410.

If you elect not to be an associated corporation with two other corporations for the small business deduction, you have to file Schedule 28, Election not to be an Associated Corporation. For more details, see page 29.

Line 425 – Reduced business limit

Large CCPCs that have taxable capital employed in Canada of $15 million or more do not qualify for the SBD. The business limit is reduced on a straight-line basis for CCPCs that have taxable capital employed in Canada of between $10 million and $15 million in the previous year. Similar restrictions apply to any CCPC that is a member of an associated group that has, in total, more than $10 million of taxable capital employed in Canada.

To calculate the total taxable capital employed in Canada, use whichever one of the following schedules that applies:

- Schedule 33, Taxable Capital Employed in Canada – Large Corporations;
- Schedule 34, Taxable Capital Employed in Canada – Financial Institutions; or
- Schedule 35, Taxable Capital Employed in Canada – Large Insurance Corporations.

If your taxable capital employed in Canada is more than $10 million, file the appropriate schedule with your return.

Use Schedule 23, Agreement Among Associated Canadian-Controlled Private Corporations to Allocate, the Business Limit, if you are an associated CCPC. For more information about this schedule, see page 28.

Assignment of the business limit under subsection 125(3.2)

For tax years that begin after March 21, 2016, CCPCs can assign all or part of their business limit under subsection 125(3.2) or specified partnership business limit under subsection 125(8) to another corporation.

If the tax year of the corporation started before and ends on or after March 22, 2016 in the tax year of another CCPC, the corporation can make an assignment of the business limit or the specified partnership business limit to that other CCPC if that other CCPC's tax year started after March 21, 2016.

Enter the amount of the business limit you assign and the business number of the corporation to which you assign such an amount on page 4 of the T2 return. Deduct the amount you assign from line 425. Enter the result on line 427.

To assign your specified partnership business limit, file Schedule 7.

If another corporation assigned all or part of its business limit or specified partnership business limit to your CCPC, also file Schedule 7.

A general tax reduction of 13% is available on qualifying income.

Corporations benefit from the general tax reduction only on taxable income that is subject to a rate of 38%.

The reduction does not apply to income that benefits from preferential corporate tax treatment, such as:

- income eligible for the small business deduction and Canadian manufacturing and processing income;
- income eligible for the deduction for the generation of electrical energy for sale or the production of steam for sale;
- income eligible for the additional deduction for credit unions; and
- investment income subject to the refundable tax provisions.

Note

The additional deduction for credit unions will be phased out. For details, see “Line 628 – Additional deductions – credit unions” on page 66.

The reduction also does not apply to income earned from a personal service business or to a corporation that was, throughout the year, an investment corporation, a mortgage investment corporation, or a mutual fund corporation.

Refundable portion of Part I tax Lines 440, 445, and 450

The refundable portion of Part I tax is part of the refundable dividend tax on hand (RDTOH). More information about RDTOH is in the section that follows.

The refundable portion of Part I tax allows a CCPC that has paid Part I tax on investment income to recover part of that tax when the corporation pays taxable dividends to its shareholders. The refundable portion of Part I tax only applies to corporations that are CCPCs throughout the tax year.

The refundable portion of Part I tax is based on the aggregate investment income and foreign investment income. You have to determine these amounts by completing Parts 1 and 2 of Schedule 7, Aggregate Investment Income and Active Business Income.

Part 1 – Aggregate investment income calculation

The aggregate investment income is the aggregate world source income calculated as follows:

add

- the eligible portion of the taxable capital gains for the year that is more than the total of:
 - the eligible portion of allowable capital losses for the year; and
 - the net capital losses from previous years which are applied in the year;
- total income from property (including income from a specified investment business carried on in Canada other than income from a source outside Canada) from which the following amounts have been deducted:
 - exempt income;
 - AgriInvest receipts (include the Quebec amount);
 - taxable dividends deductible after deducting related expenses; and
 - business income from an interest in a trust that is considered property income under paragraph 108(5)(a);

deduct

- total losses for the year from property (including losses from a specified investment business carried on in Canada other than losses from a source outside Canada).

On line 440 enter the amount of aggregate investment income that you determined on line 092 of Schedule 7.

You can include taxable capital gains and allowable capital losses in a CCPC's net investment income only if you can attribute the gain or loss to a period of time when a CCPC, an investment corporation, a mortgage investment corporation, or a mutual fund corporation held the disposed property.

Part 2 – Foreign investment income calculation

The foreign investment income is all income from only sources outside of Canada calculated as follows:

add

- the eligible portion of the taxable capital gains for the year that is more than the eligible portion of allowable capital losses for the year; and
- the total income from property from a source outside Canada from which the following amounts have been deducted:
 - exempt income;
 - taxable dividends deductible after deducting related expenses; and
 - business income from an interest in a trust that is considered property income under paragraph 108(5)(a);

deduct

- the total losses for the year from property from a source outside Canada.

On line 445 enter the amount of foreign investment income that you determined on line 079 of Schedule 7.

Calculate the amount of the refundable portion of Part I tax. Enter the amount from line 450 on line B in the "Refundable dividend tax on hand" area of your return.

Refundable dividend tax on hand Lines 460, 465, 480, and 485

The RDTOH account only applies to corporations that were private or subject corporations, which are defined on page 76.

A CCPC generates RDTOH on both the Part I tax it pays on investment income and on the Part IV tax it pays on dividends it receives. For any other type of private corporation, only the Part IV tax it pays generates RDTOH.

For more information on taxable dividends deductible under section 112 or 113, or subsection 138(6), see page 54.

For information on Part IV tax and instructions to complete Schedule 3, see page 76.

All or part of the RDTOH at the end of the tax year is available as a refund if the corporation pays taxable dividends to the shareholders during the tax year.

You can view refundable dividend tax on hand balances using the “View return balances” service through:

- My Business Account at cra.gc.ca/mybusinessaccount, if you are the business owner; or
- Represent a Client at cra.gc.ca/representatives, if you are an authorized representative or employee.

To calculate the RDTOH at the end of the tax year, add the following amounts:

- the RDTOH balance at the end of the previous tax year (minus any dividend refund issued to the corporation in the previous year);
- the refundable portion of Part I tax from line 450;
- Part IV tax calculated on line 360 of Schedule 3; and
- any balance of RDTOH transferred from a predecessor corporation on amalgamation, or from a wound-up subsidiary corporation.

For the first tax year of a successor corporation formed as a result of an amalgamation, enter on line 480 all RDTOH balances being transferred from predecessor corporations. Do not include this amount on line 460.

For a parent corporation that wound up a wholly owned subsidiary, enter on line 480 any RDTOH transferred from the subsidiary corporation. On line 460, enter the RDTOH the parent corporation is carrying forward from its previous tax year.

Note

You cannot transfer any RDTOH to a successor or parent corporation if, had the predecessor or subsidiary corporation paid a dividend immediately before the amalgamation or wind-up, subsection 129(1.2) would have applied to that dividend.

On line 485, enter the RDTOH at the end of the tax year. Also, enter the same amount on line G in the “Dividend refund” area of your return.

Dividend refund

A private or subject corporation may be entitled to a dividend refund for dividends it paid while it was a private or subject corporation, regardless of whether it was a private or subject corporation at the end of the tax year.

Note

To claim a dividend refund or to apply the amount to another debit for any tax year, including the same tax year, you have to file your income tax return within three years of the end of the tax year. If your income tax return is not filed within three years of the end of the tax year, the dividend refund becomes statute barred, and will not be issued.

A dividend refund arises if you pay taxable dividends to shareholders, and if there is an amount of refundable dividend tax on hand (RDTOH) at the end of the tax year. To claim a dividend refund, you have to have made an actual payment to the shareholders, unless the dividend is considered paid (a deemed dividend).

You can make this payment either in cash or with some other tangible assets at fair market value, including the following:

- stock dividends;
- section 84 deemed dividends; and
- amounts paid as interest or dividends on income bonds or debentures that are not deductible when calculating income.

If you lose your private status following a change in control, a deemed year-end occurs. This allows you to claim a dividend refund for any dividends paid during the deemed short year.

You have to complete Parts 3 and 4 (if they apply) of Schedule 3 to claim a dividend refund. The dividend refund is equal to whichever of the following amounts is less:

- 1/3 of taxable dividends that you paid in the year while a private or subject corporation; or

For tax years that end after 2015, the 1/3 rate (= 33 1/3%) is increased to 38 1/3%. For tax years that straddle December 31, 2015, the rate increase (5%) is prorated according to the number of days in the tax year that are after 2015.

- the RDTOH at the end of the tax year.

The total of taxable dividends paid for the purpose of the dividend refund is equal to the amount on line 460 of Schedule 3. Refundable dividend tax on hand refers to the amount on line 485 in the “Refundable dividend tax on hand” area of your return.

Parts 3 and 4 of Schedule 3

The following explains how to complete Parts 3 and 4 of Schedule 3. Parts 1 and 2 are explained on page 76.

If you paid taxable dividends during the year, complete Part 3 to identify taxable dividends that qualify for the dividend refund.

If the amount of dividends paid includes dividends that do not qualify for the dividend refund, you have to deduct these dividends before completing the calculation in Part 3. In this case, complete Part 4 of Schedule 3 to identify dividends that do not qualify.

Dividends that do not qualify are:

- dividends paid out of the capital dividend account;
- capital gains dividends;
- dividends paid for shares that do not qualify as taxable dividends, because the main purpose of acquiring the shares was to receive a dividend refund [subsection 129(1.2)]; and
- taxable dividends paid to a controlling corporation that was bankrupt at any time in the year.

Complete Part 3 of Schedule 3 to identify a connected corporation that received taxable dividends that qualify for the dividend refund.

If the dividend refund is more than the amount of Part I tax payable for the year, we deduct the excess from any other taxes owed under the Income Tax Act. Any balance left over is available for a refund.

If the total dividends paid during the year is different from the total of taxable dividends paid for the purpose of the dividend refund, complete Part 4 of Schedule 3.

Part I tax

Line 550 – Base amount of Part I tax

The basic rate of Part I tax is 38% of taxable income. To determine the base amount of Part I tax, calculate 38% of the taxable income from line 360 of page 3 less income exempt under paragraph 149(1)(t).

On line 550, enter this base amount.

Line 560 – Additional tax on personal services business income (section 123.5)

For tax years that end after 2015, a corporation must add to its Part I tax payable for a year an amount equal to 5% of the corporation's taxable income for the year from a personal services business.

This additional tax is prorated for tax years that straddle December 31, 2015.

Line 602 – Recapture of investment tax credit (ITC)

Scientific research and experimental development

A corporation that disposed of a property used in scientific research and experimental development (SR&ED), or converted it to commercial use, should report a recapture in its income tax return for the year in which the disposition or conversion occurred.

If you performed the SR&ED and earned the related ITC, the recapture will be whichever is less:

- the ITC earned for the property; or
- the amount determined by applying the percentage you used in calculating the ITC earned on the property to:
 - the proceeds of disposition of the property if you dispose of it to an arm's length person; or
 - in any other case, the fair market value of the property.

If you performed the SR&ED and transferred the qualified expenditures to a non-arm's length party in accordance with an agreement described in subsection 127(13), the recapture will be whichever is less:

- the ITC earned by the transferee on the qualified expenditures for the property that was transferred; or
- the amount determined by the formula:

$$A \times B - C$$

where

- "A" is the percentage that the transferee used in determining its ITC;
- "B" is the proceeds of disposition of the property if you dispose of it to an arm's length person, or in any other case, the fair market value of the property; and
- "C" is the amount, if any, added to the tax payable under subsection 127(27) for the property. This allows for the situation where you transferred only a portion of the cost of the property in an agreement under subsection 127(13).

If you transferred a portion of the expenditures and claimed a portion of that expenditure for ITC purposes, both calculations will apply.

The recapture period for ITCs is 20 years.

For more information, see Guide T4088, Guide to Form T661, Scientific Research and Experimental Development (SR&ED) Expenditures Claim or go to cra.gc.ca/sred.

Child care spaces

The ITC for child care spaces (see page 71) will be recovered against the taxpayer's tax otherwise payable if, at any time within the 60 months of the day on which the taxpayer acquired the property:

- the new child care space is no longer available; or
- eligible property for purposes of this credit is sold or leased to another person or converted to another use.

If the property disposed of is a child care space, the amount to be recaptured will be the amount that can reasonably be considered to have been included in the original ITC.

In the case of eligible expenditures, the amount to be recaptured will be the lesser of:

- the amount that can reasonably be considered to have been included in the original ITC; and
- 25% of the proceeds of disposition of the eligible property or of its fair market value at the time of disposition, if the property was disposed of to a non-arm's-length person.

Use Schedule 31, Investment Tax Credit – Corporations, to calculate the recapture of ITC.

On line 602, enter the amount of recapture of ITC.

Line 604 – Refundable tax on CCPC's investment income

An additional refundable tax of 6 2/3% is levied on the investment income (other than deductible dividends) of a CCPC.

For tax years that end after 2015, the above percentage is increased from 6 2/3% to 10 2/3%. The rate increase is prorated for tax years that straddle December 31, 2015.

This additional tax may be part of the refundable portion of Part I tax on line 450 and would be added to the refundable dividend tax on hand (RDTOH). The RDTOH pool will be refunded when dividends are paid to shareholders (at a rate of 1/3 of taxable dividends paid).

For tax years that end after 2015, the 1/3 rate (= 33 1/3%) is increased to 38 1/3%. The rate increase is prorated for tax years that straddle December 31, 2015.

A CCPC with investment income has to calculate this additional tax on page 8 and enter the amount on line 604.

Line 608 – Federal tax abatement

The federal tax abatement is equal to 10% of taxable income earned in the year in a Canadian province or territory less income exempt under paragraph 149(1)(t). The federal tax abatement reduces Part I tax payable. Income earned outside Canada is not eligible for the federal tax abatement.

On line 608, enter the amount of federal tax abatement.

Line 616 – Manufacturing and processing profits deduction

Corporations that derive at least 10% of their gross revenue for the year from manufacturing or processing goods in Canada for sale or lease can claim the manufacturing and processing profits deduction (MPPD). The MPPD reduces Part I tax otherwise payable.

The MPPD applies to the part of taxable income that represents Canadian manufacturing and processing profits. Calculate the MPPD at the rate of 13% on income that is not eligible for the small business deduction (SBD).

Use Schedule 27, Calculation of Canadian Manufacturing and Processing Profits Deduction, to calculate the manufacturing and processing profits deduction.

There are two ways to calculate Canadian manufacturing and processing profits: a simplified method for small manufacturing corporations, and a basic labour and capital employed in qualified activities formula for other corporations. These methods are outlined in Parts 1 and 2 of Schedule 27.

Small manufacturing corporations only have to complete Part 1 of Schedule 27 and are entitled to calculate the MPPD on their entire adjusted business income. Essentially, a corporation's adjusted business income is its income from an active business it carried on in Canada that is more than its losses from similar businesses. If the corporation is involved in resource activities, it has to reduce the adjusted business income by its net resource income, its refund interest, and a portion of its prescribed resource loss. Schedule 27 shows how to calculate the adjusted business income.

To qualify as a small manufacturing corporation, you have to meet all of the following requirements:

- the activities during the year were mainly manufacturing or processing;
- the active business income and that of any associated Canadian corporations was not more than $200,000;
- you were not engaged in any activities specifically excluded from manufacturing and processing, as defined in subsection 125.1(3);
- you were not engaged in processing ore (other than iron ore or tar sands ore) from a mineral resource located outside Canada to any stage that is not beyond the prime metal stage or its equivalent;

- you were not engaged in processing iron ore from a mineral resource located outside Canada to any stage that is not beyond the pellet stage or its equivalent;
- you were not engaged in processing tar sands located outside Canada to any stage that is not beyond the crude oil stage or its equivalent; and
- you did not carry on any active business outside Canada at any time during the year.

Corporations that do not qualify as small manufacturing corporations have to complete Part 2 of Schedule 27. In Part 2, you will find the basic formula for calculating Canadian manufacturing and processing profits, as well as detailed instructions on how to complete the schedule.

Corporations that produce electricity or steam for sale have to complete Parts 10 to 13 of Schedule 27.

On line 616, enter the amount of the manufacturing and processing profits deduction determined in Part 9 of Schedule 27.

Lines 620 and 624 – Investment corporation deduction

A Canadian public corporation that is an investment corporation, as defined in subsection 130(3), can claim a deduction from Part I tax that the corporation would otherwise have to pay. This deduction is equal to 20% of the taxable income for the year that is more than the taxed capital gains for the year.

On line 624, enter the investment corporation's taxed capital gains. On line 620, enter the amount of the deduction you are claiming.

Line 628 – Additional deduction – credit unions

Although a credit union is not generally considered a private corporation, it is eligible for the small business deduction. A credit union can also deduct a percentage of its taxable income that was not eligible for the small business deduction.

For tax years ending after March 20, 2013, the amount of the additional deduction that credit unions can calculate for income that is not eligible for the small business deduction is being phased out as follows: 80% for 2013, 60% for 2014, 40% for 2015, 20% for 2016, and 0% after 2016. The amount is prorated for tax years that include March 21, 2013, and for all tax years during the phase-out period that do not coincide with the calendar year.

The additional deduction is 17.5% (17% before 2016) of whichever of the following amounts is less:

- the taxable income for the year; or
- 4/3 of the maximum cumulative reserve at the end of the year, minus the preferred-rate amount at the end of the previous tax year;

minus

- the least of lines 400, 405, 410, and 427 of the small business deduction calculation (page 4 of the return).

Generally, a credit union's maximum cumulative reserve is equal to 5% of the amounts owing to members, including members' deposits, plus 5% of all members' share capital in the credit union.

The preferred-rate amount at the end of a tax year is equal to the total of the preferred rate amount at the end of the previous year, plus 100/17.5 (100/17 before 2016) of the amount of the small business deduction for the year.

Both the additional deduction and the preferred-rate amount are prorated for tax years that straddle January 1, 2016.

Use Schedule 17, Credit Union Deductions, to claim this additional deduction.

On line 628, enter the credit union's additional deduction.

Section 137

Line 632 – Federal foreign non-business income tax credit

Use Schedule 21, Federal and Provincial or Territorial Foreign Income Tax Credits and Federal Logging Tax Credit, to calculate this credit.

A federal foreign non-business income tax credit is available to Canadian residents to prevent double taxation of any non-business income earned in a foreign country that was taxed by that foreign country. The credit is also available to authorized foreign banks on their Canadian banking business from sources in a foreign country. This credit reduces Part I tax that the corporation would otherwise have to pay.

Foreign non-business income includes dividends, interest, and capital gains. It does not include dividends received from foreign affiliates, or income from operating a business in a foreign country.

Foreign non-business income tax does not include any foreign tax paid on income that is exempt from tax in Canada under an income tax treaty.

As another option, under subsection 20(12), instead of claiming a foreign non-business income tax credit, a corporation can deduct from income all or any part of non-business income tax it paid to a foreign country.

If, after you claim the federal foreign non-business income tax credit, there is any foreign non-business income tax left over, you can claim it as a provincial or territorial foreign tax credit. See page 81 for details.

Under section 110.5 and subparagraph 115(1)(a)(vii), you can also increase your taxable income so that you can use an otherwise non-deductible foreign non-business income tax credit. See "Line 355 – Section 110.5 additions and/or subparagraph 115(1)(a)(vii) additions" on page 56 for details.

To claim this credit, complete Part 1 of Schedule 21. Calculate the federal foreign non-business income tax credit for each country separately. Use more than one schedule if more space is required.

Add all the allowable foreign non-business income tax credits in column I on Schedule 21. Then, enter the total allowable credit or a lesser amount on line 632.

Line 636 – Federal foreign business income tax credit

Use Schedule 21, Federal and Provincial or Territorial Foreign Income Tax Credits and Federal Logging Tax Credit, to calculate this credit.

To prevent double taxation, a corporation that pays foreign tax on income or profits it earned from operating a business in a foreign country can claim a federal foreign business income tax credit. This credit reduces the Part I tax that the corporation would otherwise have to pay.

Unlike foreign non-business income tax, you cannot deduct excess foreign business income tax paid as a provincial or territorial foreign tax credit. However, under section 110.5, you can increase taxable income so as to claim an otherwise non-deductible foreign business income tax credit. See Line 355 on page 56 for details.

To claim this credit, complete Part 2 of Schedule 21. Calculate the foreign business income tax credit for each country separately. Use more than one schedule if more space is required.

Add all allowable foreign business income tax credits in column J on Schedule 21. Then, enter the total allowable credits or a lesser amount on line 636.

Notes

Foreign business income tax does not include any foreign tax paid on income that is exempt from tax in Canada under an income tax treaty.

When calculating income for the year from sources in a foreign country, deduct the maximum amount of foreign exploration and development expense that is deductible on a country-by-country basis.

Continuity of unused federal foreign business income tax credits

Complete Part 3 of Schedule 21 if you have a foreign business income tax credit that:

- expired in the current year;
- was transferred from an amalgamation or wind-up;
- was deducted in the current year; or
- was carried back to a previous year.

You have to establish the continuity and the application of the foreign tax credits on business income for each country. Use more than one schedule if more space is required.

Carryback or carryforward of unused credits

You can carry back any unused foreign business income tax credit to the 3 previous tax years, and you can carry the credit forward for 10 tax years.

To claim a carryback to previous years, complete Part 4 of Schedule 21.

Note

You can use this credit only to reduce Part I tax on income originating from the same foreign country.

Lines 638 and 639 – General tax reduction

If you were a CCPC throughout the tax year, enter the amount on line 638.

If you were a corporation other than a CCPC, an investment corporation, a mortgage investment corporation, a mutual fund corporation, or a corporation that has income that is not subject to the corporation tax rate of 38% enter the amount on line 639.

See “General tax reduction” on page 60 for details.

Line 640 – Federal logging tax credit

Corporations that have income from logging operations and have paid logging tax to the province of Quebec or British Columbia can claim this credit.

A corporation that is the beneficiary under a qualifying environmental trust can claim a tax credit equal to Part XII.4 tax payable by the trust on that income.

A QET is a trust:

- whose trustees only include:
 - the federal or provincial Crown, or
 - a corporation resident in Canada and licensed or authorized under Canadian federal or provincial laws to carry on the business of providing services as trustee to the public in Canada;
- that is maintained only to fund the reclamation of a site in Canada that is, or has been used primarily for, or for any combination of the following:
 - the operation of a mine,
 - the extraction of clay, peat, sand, shale, or aggregates (including dimension stone and gravel),
 - the deposit of waste, or
 - if the trust was created after 2011, the operation of a pipeline, as long as the other requirements defined in subsection 211.6(1) are met;
- that is, or may become within the specified time period, required to be maintained under:
 - a federal or provincial law,
 - the terms of a contract entered into with the federal or provincial Crown, or
 - if the trust was established after 2011, an order of a tribunal constituted under federal or provincial law;and
- that is not an excluded trust, as defined under subsection 211.6(1) of the Income Tax Act.

The rate of tax payable by a QET is currently 15%.

Line 652 – Investment tax credit

A corporation can claim an investment tax credit (ITC) to reduce Part I tax that it would otherwise have to pay, or in some cases this credit may be fully or partially refundable.

Use Schedule 31, Investment Tax Credit – Corporations, to calculate the ITC.

A corporation earns ITCs by applying a specified percentage to the cost of acquiring certain property (investments) or on certain expenditures. However, you first have to reduce the capital cost of the property or the expenditure by any government or non-government assistance you received or will receive for that property or the expenditure. Any goods and services tax/harmonized sales tax (GST/HST) input tax credit or rebate received for property acquired is considered government assistance.

On page 2 of Schedule 31, we list the percentages you have to apply to eligible investments and expenditures.

Available-for-use rule

A corporation is not considered to have acquired a property or made capital expenditures for earning an investment tax credit until the property becomes available for use.

For more information about the available-for-use rule, see “When is property available for use?” on page 39.

Subsections 13(26) to 13(32) and 127(11.2)

Investments and expenditures that qualify for an ITC

The following investments and expenditures earn an ITC:

- A. the cost of acquiring qualified property;
- A.1 the cost of acquiring qualified resource property;
- B. SR&ED qualified expenditure pool;
- C. pre-production mining expenditures;
- D. apprenticeship expenditures; and
- E. eligible child care spaces.

The following are definitions of investments and expenditure that qualify for an ITC:

- A. Qualified property is defined in subsection 127(9). It includes new prescribed buildings, prescribed machinery, and equipment or prescribed energy and conservation property acquired during the year to use in certain activities in Newfoundland and Labrador, Nova Scotia, Prince Edward Island, New Brunswick, the Gaspé Peninsula, and prescribed offshore regions (Atlantic region).
- A.1 Qualified resource property is defined in subsection 127(9). It includes new prescribed buildings, machinery or equipment acquired after March 28, 2012, for use in Canada primarily in oil, gas and mining activities in the Atlantic region. The ITC rate for qualified resource property is now 0%. The rate decreased from 10% to 5% for expenses incurred in 2014 and 2015, and 0% after 2015.

Transitional relief is available. For property acquired after 2013 and before 2017, the ITC on qualified resource property applies at a rate of 10% if the property is acquired:

- under a written agreement entered into by the corporation before March 29, 2012; or
- as part of a phase of a project where, before March 29, 2012:
 - the construction of the phase was started by, or on behalf of, the corporation; or
 - the engineering and design work for the construction of the phase, as evidenced in writing, was started by, or on behalf of, the corporation.

For excluded activities, see the definition of “specified percentage” in subsection 127(9).

- B. Qualified expenditures and SR&ED qualified expenditure pool are defined in subsection 127(9). SR&ED is defined in subsection 248(1).

- C. Pre-production mining expenditures are defined in subsection 127(9). The ITC rate for pre-production mining expenditures is now 0%.

The rate decreased from 10% to 5% for exploration expenses incurred in 2013 and to 0% after 2013. For pre-production development expenses, the 10% rate decreased to 7% in 2014, 4% in 2015, and 0% after 2015.

Pre-production development expenses incurred in 2015 qualify for a 5% rate if they meet the requirements in clause (k)(iii)(B) of the definition of “specified percentage” in subsection 127(9). See Schedule 31 for more details.

Transitional relief is available. For pre-production development expenses incurred after 2013 and before 2016, the ITC rate remains at 10% if the expense is incurred:

- under a written agreement entered into by the corporation before March 29, 2012; or
- as part of the development of a new mine and, before March 29, 2012:
 - the construction of the new mine was started by, or on behalf of, the corporation; or
 - the engineering and design work for the construction of the new mine, as evidenced in writing, was started by, or on behalf of, the corporation.

The excluded activities are the same as the ones for the qualified resource property.

- D. Apprenticeship expenditures are defined in subsection 127(9).
- E. Eligible child care spaces expenditures are defined in subsection 127(9).

ITC for qualified property

You can earn ITCs on qualified property acquired mainly for use in designated activities in the Atlantic region.

Designated activities include, among others, the following:

- manufacturing or processing goods for sale or lease;

Note

Eligible machinery and equipment acquired after 2015 and before 2026 for use in Canada mainly for the manufacturing and processing of goods for sale or lease is included in a new class 53. These assets are qualified property for the ITC.

- logging;
- farming or fishing; and
- energy conservation, for which prescribed property acquired after March 28, 2012, is listed in class 43.1 or class 43.2.

The ITC rate for qualified property is 10%.

In addition, the following rules apply to certain corporations that lease qualified properties:

- For a corporation with a principal business of leasing property, lending money, or purchasing conditional sales contracts, accounts receivable, or other obligations, property acquired for the purposes of leasing it in the ordinary course of carrying on business in Canada is considered qualified property.

- For a corporation with a principal business of manufacturing property that it sells or leases, property acquired for leasing purposes is considered qualified property only if the corporation manufactures it and leases it in the ordinary course of its business in Canada.
- For a corporation with a principal business of selling or servicing property, property acquired for leasing purposes is considered qualified property only if it is a type of property that the corporation sells or services, and the property is leased in the ordinary course of carrying on business in Canada.

Scientific research and experimental development (SR&ED) qualified expenditure pool

You have to file Form T661, Scientific Research and Experimental Development (SR&ED) Expenditures Claim, along with Schedule 31 when making a claim for an ITC on qualified expenditures for SR&ED. See page 48 for more information.

Note

You have to identify qualified SR&ED expenditures on Form T661 and Schedule 31 no later than 12 months after the filing due date for the year the expenditures were incurred (without reference to subsection 78(4)).

The SR&ED qualified expenditure pool includes qualified SR&ED expenditures (leased equipment and capital expenditures incurred before 2014, and current expenditures) the corporation incurred in the year plus any qualified expenditures transferred to the corporation under an agreement in subsection 127(13) less any qualified expenditures transferred by the corporation under such an agreement (see Form T1146, Agreement to Transfer Qualified Expenditures Incurred in Respect of SR&ED Contracts Between Persons Not Dealing at Arm's Length).

Capital expenditures made after 2013, including allowable lease costs of equipment, can no longer be claimed for SR&ED purposes. Those expenditures are given the treatment otherwise applicable to such expenditures under the Income Tax Act.

SR&ED investment tax credit and refund

You may earn a non-refundable ITC of 15% of the SR&ED qualified expenditure pool at the end of the tax year.

For tax years ending before 2014, the SR&ED investment tax credit basic rate is 20%. It is prorated for tax years that straddle December 31, 2013.

Some CCPCs can claim the enhanced ITC rate of 35% on the SR&ED qualified expenditure pool, up to their expenditure limit.

The expenditure limit is $3 million and is subject to a phase-out based on the taxable income and the taxable capital employed in Canada, of the CCPC and its associated corporations, for the previous tax year.

The expenditure limit begins to decrease when the taxable income before the application of the specified future tax consequences (see note below) of the CCPC and its associated corporations for the previous tax year exceeds $500,000 and becomes nil at $800,000 and higher.

The expenditure limit also begins to decrease when the taxable capital employed in Canada of the CCPC and its associated corporations for the previous tax year reaches $10 million and becomes nil at $50 million and higher.

If the corporation is associated with one or more corporations, you have to allocate the expenditure limit among the associated corporations on Schedule 49, Agreement Among Associated Canadian Controlled Private Corporations to Allocate the Expenditure Limit. See page 29 for details about Schedule 49.

CCPCs that do not meet the definition of qualifying corporation can earn ITCs at the enhanced rate of 35% on qualified SR&ED expenditures up to their expenditure limit. Here, 40% earned on capital SR&ED expenditures before 2014 and 100% earned on current SR&ED expenditures are refundable if the ITC cannot be used in the year to offset Part I tax. The ITC earned at the rate of 15% (20% before 2014) on SR&ED expenditures that exceed the expenditure limit is not refundable to a corporation unless it is a qualifying corporation.

A qualifying corporation is a CCPC whose taxable income for the previous tax year before the application of the specified future tax consequences (see note below) plus the taxable incomes of all associated corporations before the application of the specified future tax consequences (for tax years ending in the same calendar year as the corporation's previous tax year) is not more than the total of the qualifying income limits of the corporation and the associated corporations for those previous years.

The qualifying income limit is $500,000. It begins to decrease when the total taxable capital employed in Canada of the corporation and its associated corporations for the previous tax year reaches $10 million and becomes nil at $50 million.

CCPCs that meet the definition of qualifying corporation can also earn ITCs at the enhanced rate of 35% on qualified SR&ED expenditures up to their expenditure limit. Here, 40% earned on capital SR&ED expenditures before 2014 and 100% earned on current SR&ED expenditures are refundable if the ITC cannot be used in the year to offset Part I tax. For qualifying corporations, the ITCs earned above the expenditure limit are earned at the rate of 15% (20% before 2014), of which 40% earned on capital expenditures before 2014 and current SR&ED expenditures is also refundable.

Note

The taxable income mentioned in the definition of expenditure limit and qualifying corporation is determined before taking into consideration the specified future tax consequences. These consequences include, among others, the carryback of losses from later years that would have reduced the taxable income for the year in which those losses were applied. For more information, see the definition of specified future tax consequence in subsection 248(1).

Corporations may be associated because the same group of persons controls them, but the members of this group do not act together and have no other connection to each other.

CCPCs that are associated only because of the above definition of a group will not be considered associated for the following calculations:

- the refundable ITC on eligible SR&ED expenditures;
- calculating the expenditure limit; and
- allocating the expenditure limit.

For this exception to apply, one of the corporations must have at least one shareholder who is not common to both corporations.

Apprenticeship job creation tax credit

A corporation can earn an ITC equal to 10% of the eligible salaries and wages paid to eligible apprentices employed in the business in the tax year to a maximum credit of $2,000, per year, per apprentice.

An eligible apprentice is one who is working in a prescribed trade in the first two years of their apprenticeship contract. This contract is registered with Canada or a province or territory under an apprenticeship program designed to certify or license individuals in the trade. A prescribed trade will include the trades currently listed as Red Seal Trades. For more information about the trades, go to red-seal.ca. In addition, the minister of Finance may in consultation with the minister of Employment and Social Development, prescribe other trades.

Eligible salaries and wages are those payable by the employer to an eligible apprentice for the apprentices' employment in Canada in the tax year and during the first 24 months of the apprenticeship. Eligible salaries or wages do not include qualified expenditures incurred by the corporation in a tax year, remuneration based on profits, bonuses, taxable benefits including stock options, and certain unpaid remuneration.

Where two or more related employers employ an apprentice, special rules apply to ensure that the $2,000 limit is allocated to only one employer.

An unused credit can be carried back 3 years, and carried forward 20 years.

Complete Parts 21 to 23 of Schedule 31 to calculate the credit.

Investment tax credit (ITC) for child care spaces

An employer carrying on business in Canada, other than a child care services business, can claim a non-refundable tax credit to create one or more new child care spaces in a new or existing licensed child care facility for the children of their employees and for other children in the community. The non-refundable tax credit is equal to the lesser of $10,000 and 25% of the eligible expenditure per child care space created. Eligible expenditures include the cost of depreciable property (other than specified property), and the amount of specified start-up costs, acquired or incurred only to create the new child care space at a licensed child care facility.

Eligible depreciable property includes:

- the building or the part of the building in which the child care facility is located;
- furniture and appliances;
- computer and audio-visual equipment; and
- playground structures and equipment.

Specified child care start-up costs include the initial costs for:

- building permits and architect's fees;
- landscaping for the children's playground;
- regulatory inspections and licensing fees; and
- children's educational material.

Eligible expenditures do not include specified property such as motor vehicles, or a property that is, or is located in or attached to, a residence of: the taxpayer, an employee of the taxpayer, a person who holds an interest in the taxpayer, or any person related to a person referred to above.

The credit is not available for any of the ongoing expenses of the child care facility such as supplies, wages, salaries, or utilities.

The amount of the credit is added to the ITC pool and is available to reduce the federal taxes payable in the tax year. Any unused credits can be carried back 3 years or carried forward 20 years.

Complete Parts 24 to 28 of Schedule 31 to claim the credit.

The credit will be recovered against the taxpayer's tax otherwise payable under Part I of the Act if, at any time within the 60 months of the day on which the taxpayer acquired the property:

- the new child care space is no longer available; or
- property that was an eligible expenditure for this credit is sold or leased to another person or converted to another use.

For more information on the recapture, see line 602 on page 65.

Investment tax credit (ITC) claim

You can deduct the full amount of ITC against federal Part I tax payable. If you are claiming an ITC for a depreciable property, including shared-use equipment, reduce the capital cost of the property in the next tax year by the amount of this year's ITC. If you are claiming an ITC for SR&ED expenditures, other than expenditures for shared-use equipment, reduce the SR&ED expenditure pool in the next tax year by the amount of this year's ITC. For more information, see Schedule 8, "Column 4 – Adjustments and transfers," on page 40.

Note

A corporation cannot claim an ITC for an expense or expenditure incurred in the course of earning income if any of that income is exempt. ITCs also cannot be claimed for expenses or expenditures incurred in earning taxable income that is exempt from tax under Part I.

Subsections 13(7.1), 37(1), and 127(5)

You can carry forward ITCs not previously deducted for 20 years, or carry them back 3 years, to reduce Part I tax. Remember that you can only carry back ITCs to a prior year if you cannot deduct them in the year you earn them.

Special rules restrict the carryforward and carryback of ITCs following an acquisition of control.

When to complete Schedule 31

Complete and file Schedule 31 with the return if the corporation:

- acquired any qualified property or incurred any expenditures qualifying for ITC purposes;
- is carrying forward unused ITCs from a previous year;
- is transferring unused ITCs from a predecessor corporation on amalgamation, or from a subsidiary corporation on wind-up;
- is applying ITCs against Part I tax;
- is requesting a carryback of unused ITCs to a prior tax year; or
- is requesting a refund of unused ITCs.

Complete Schedule 31 and enter the amount of the ITC for the current year on line 652.

Note

Eligibility for an ITC is limited to those expenses or expenditures identified in Schedule 31 filed within 12 months of the filing due date for the tax year in which the expenses were made or incurred [without reference to subsection 78(4)].

Investment tax credit refund

For information about CCPCs claiming a refund of ITC for scientific research and experimental development, see “SR&ED investment tax credit and refund” on page 70.

Any ITC you earned in the tax year must first be used to reduce taxes payable to zero before the remainder can be claimed as a refund.

You have to file Schedule 31 to claim the ITC refund. On line 780 of your return, enter the ITC refund claim calculated on Schedule 31.

Part I tax payable

Part I tax payable for the year is the basic Part I tax plus the personal service business income tax and the amount of recapture of ITC and the refundable tax on the CCPC’s investment income (line A plus lines B, C, and H), minus any allowable deductions and credits (line K).

Enter this amount on line L, and also on line 700 in the “Summary of tax and credits” section on page 9 of your return.

Summary of tax and credits

In the “Summary of tax and credits” area of your return, summarize the amounts of federal and provincial or territorial tax payable, as well as the credits and refunds claimed to reduce total tax payable.

Federal tax

Line 700 – Part I tax payable

On line 700, enter the amount of Part I tax payable that you determined on line L of page 8.

Line 708 – Part II surtax payable

Under Part II, tobacco manufacturers have to pay surtax equal to 50% of Part I tax on tobacco manufacturing profits for the year.

File Schedule 46, Part II – Tobacco Manufacturers’ Surtax, and attach it to your return. See the schedule for more details.

On line 708, enter the amount of Part II surtax payable.

Reference
Section 182

Line 710 – Part III.1 tax payable

A corporation that designates dividends as eligible dividends that exceed its capacity to pay such dividends is subject to Part III.1 tax. The tax is equal to 20% of the excessive eligible dividend designation.

Use Schedule 55, Part III.1 Tax on Excessive Eligible Dividend Designations, to calculate any Part III.1 tax payable and file it with your T2 return.

Note

Every corporation resident in Canada that pays a taxable dividend in the year, other than a capital gains dividend, must file this schedule.

In the case where an excessive eligible dividend designation is determined to be part of a tax avoidance scheme, the 20% tax plus an additional 10% tax will apply to the whole dividend designation.

Eligible dividend

An eligible dividend is any taxable dividend paid to a resident of Canada by a Canadian corporation that is designated by that corporation to be an eligible dividend. The corporation does the designation by notifying, in writing, each person or partnership at the time it pays them the dividend. For more information about the notification guidelines, go to cra.gc.ca/tx/bsnss/tpcs/crprtns/dvdnds/dsgntn-eng.html.

A corporation is allowed to designate a portion of a taxable dividend (rather than the whole amount) to be an eligible dividend. Late designations are allowed, if they are made within three years after the day on which the designation was first required to be made and, in the opinion of the minister, it is just and equitable to do so (including to affected shareholders) in the circumstances. The designation is deemed to have been made on the day the designation was required to be made.

A corporation’s capacity to pay eligible dividends depends mostly on its status.

General rate income pool (GRIP)

A CCPC or a deposit insurance corporation may pay eligible dividends to the extent of its GRIP—a balance generally reflecting taxable income that has not benefited from the small business deduction or any other special tax rate—without incurring Part III.1 tax. The GRIP is calculated at the end of the tax year. However, a corporation can pay eligible dividends over the course of the year as long as, at the end of the year, the eligible dividends paid do not exceed its GRIP.

Use Schedule 53, General Rate Income Pool (GRIP) Calculation, to determine the GRIP and file it with your T2 return. You should file this schedule if you paid an eligible dividend in the tax year, or if your GRIP balance changed, to ensure that the GRIP balance on our records is correct.

You can view GRIP balances using the “View return balances” service through:

- My Business Account at cra.gc.ca/mybusinessaccount, if you are the business owner; or
- Represent a Client at cra.gc.ca/representatives, if you are an authorized representative or employee.

Low rate income pool (LRIP)

A corporation resident in Canada that is neither a CCPC nor a deposit insurance corporation can pay eligible dividends in any amount unless it has an LRIP. The LRIP is generally made up of taxable income that has benefited from certain preferential tax rates. The corporation has to reduce its LRIP to zero by paying out ordinary dividends before it can pay an eligible dividend, or it will be subject to Part III.1 tax. The LRIP must be calculated at the time a dividend is paid or received or any other event occurs affecting the LRIP balance in the year.

Use Schedule 54, Low Rate Income Pool (LRIP) Calculation, to determine the LRIP, throughout the year. File the completed schedule with your T2 return. All other calculations including the worksheets should be kept with your records in case we ask for them at a later date.

Election not to be a Canadian-controlled private corporation

A CCPC can elect not to be a CCPC for purposes of the eligible dividend treatment. If it so elects, it is deemed not to be a CCPC for the tax year in which it makes the election and all later tax years, until it revokes the election. The CCPC will lose its entitlement to the small business deduction. However, no other benefits of CCPC status will be affected.

A corporation that revokes an election will become a CCPC again for the tax year that follows the tax year in which the revocation is made.

Use Form T2002, Election, or Revocation of an Election, Not To Be a Canadian-Controlled Private Corporation, to make or to revoke an election previously made, and file it by the due date of the T2 return. We will not accept an election or revocation of an election after the filing due date.

Note

A corporation that has previously revoked an election must get written consent from us to make or revoke another election.

Election to treat excessive eligible dividend designations as ordinary dividends

Corporations that make excessive eligible dividend designations may be allowed to elect to treat the excessive amounts paid as ordinary dividends. In order to do so, the corporation must have the concurrence of its shareholders who received, or were entitled to receive, the dividend and whose addresses are known to the corporation. For more information, go to cra.gc.ca/tx/bsnss/tpcs/crprtns/dvdnds/lctn-eng.html.

Corporations cannot elect to treat excessive eligible dividend designations that are subject to the 30% Part III.1 tax as ordinary dividends.

Line 712 – Part IV tax payable

Use Parts 1 and 2 of Schedule 3, Dividends Received, Taxable Dividends Paid, and Part IV Tax Calculation, to calculate Part IV tax payable on taxable dividends you received.

Dividends subject to Part IV tax

The following types of dividends are subject to Part IV tax:

- taxable dividends from corporations that are deductible under section 112 when you calculate taxable income; and
- taxable dividends from foreign affiliates that are deductible under paragraphs 113(1)(a), (b), or (d), or subsection 113(2) when you calculate taxable income.

Taxable dividends received are only subject to Part IV tax if the corporation receives them while it is a private or subject corporation. Taxable dividends received from a non-connected corporation are subject to Part IV tax.

Taxable dividends received from a connected corporation are subject to Part IV tax only when paying the dividends generates a dividend refund for the payer corporation. The Part IV tax rate is 33 1/3% for dividends received before 2016.

The Part IV tax rate is 38 1/3% for dividends received after 2015.

For tax years that straddle December 31, 2015:

- the assessable dividends will be taxed at a rate of 33 1/3% if they are received before 2016 and at a rate of 38 1/3% if they are received after 2015; and
- non-capital losses and farm losses applied to reduce Part IV tax will be used first to offset assessable dividends received after 2015 (that is, the assessable dividends that are subject to the higher 38 1/3% rate). Any excess will be used to offset assessable dividends received before 2016.

Definitions

Private corporation

A private corporation is a corporation that is:

- resident in Canada;
- not a public corporation;
- not controlled by one or more public corporations (other than a prescribed venture capital corporation);
- not controlled by one or more prescribed federal Crown corporations; and
- not controlled by any combination of prescribed federal Crown corporations and public corporations.

Reference

Subsection 89(1)

Subject corporation

A subject corporation is a corporation, other than a private corporation, that is resident in Canada and is controlled by or for the benefit of either an individual other than a trust, or a related group of individuals other than trusts.

Reference

Subsection 186(3)

Connected corporation

A payer corporation is connected to the corporation that receives the dividends (the recipient) if the recipient controls the payer corporation. The payer and recipient corporations are also connected when:

- the recipient owns more than 10% of the issued share capital (with full voting rights) of the payer corporation; and
- the recipient owns shares of the capital stock of the payer corporation with a fair market value of more than 10% of the fair market value of all the issued share capital of the payer corporation.

You determine control of the corporation by considering the actual ownership of shares, without taking into account any rights referred to in paragraph 251(5)(b).

For purposes of Part IV tax, a payer corporation is controlled by a recipient corporation if more than 50% of the payer's issued share capital (having full voting rights) belongs to the recipient, to persons with whom the recipient does not deal at arm's length, or to any combination of these persons.

Exempt corporations

The following types of corporations are exempt from Part IV tax:

- A. a corporation that was bankrupt at any time during the year; or
- B. a corporation that, throughout the year, was:
 - a prescribed labour-sponsored venture capital corporation;
 - a prescribed investment contract corporation;
 - an insurance corporation;
 - a corporation licensed as a trustee;

- a bank; or
- a registered securities dealer that was, throughout the year, a member of a designated stock exchange in Canada.

Dividends not taxable

Any dividends that a corporation received from a capital dividend account are not taxable, as long as the payer corporation made an election under section 83. Therefore, if these non-taxable dividends are included as income, they should be deducted as an adjustment on Schedule 1.

Parts 1 and 2 of Schedule 3

In the following section we provide details on Parts 1 and 2 of Schedule 3. Parts 3 and 4 are explained on page 62.

Part 1 – Dividends received in the tax year

Complete Part 1 to identify dividends, both taxable and non-taxable, received during the tax year and to calculate Part IV tax before deductions. Public corporations (other than subject corporations) do not need to calculate Part IV tax.

Note

If more than one corporation paid dividends, you have to do a separate calculation for each payer corporation. If dividends were paid in different payer corporations' tax years, you have to do separate calculations for each of the tax years.

On line 320 of the return, enter the amount of taxable dividends deductible from taxable income under section 112, subsections 113(2) and 138(6), and paragraph 113(1)(a), (b), or (d).

Part 2 – Calculation of Part IV tax payable

Part IV tax otherwise payable on a dividend is reduced by any amount of Part IV.1 tax payable on the same dividend. See below for details.

You can reduce the amount of dividends subject to Part IV tax by using non-capital losses and farm losses incurred in the tax year or carried forward from prior years.

On line 712 of the return, enter the amount of Part IV tax payable on taxable dividends received.

Reference
IT-269, Part IV Tax on Taxable Dividends Received by a Private Corporation or a Subject Corporation

Line 716 – Part IV.1 tax payable

Complete Schedule 43, Calculation of Parts IV.1 and VI.1 Taxes, to calculate Part IV.1 tax payable.

Part 4 of Schedule 43 – Calculation of Part IV.1 tax payable Part 4 gives details on how to calculate Part IV.1 tax.

Public corporations and certain other corporations may be subject to the 10% Part IV.1 tax on dividends they receive on taxable preferred shares. A restricted financial institution is also subject to tax on dividends received on taxable restricted financial institution shares (see subsection 248(1) for definitions of these terms).

The issuer of taxable preferred shares can elect to pay a 40% rather than a 25% tax under Part VI.1 on dividends on taxable preferred shares when they fill Part 3 of this schedule. This election exempts the holder of these shares from the 10% tax under Part IV.1. No other form needs to be filed to elect. For details, see line 724 below.

Excepted dividends, which are defined in section 187.1, are not subject to Part IV.1 tax. For example, an excepted dividend is one the corporation receives on a share of another corporation in which the corporation had a substantial interest at the time it received the dividend.

On line 716, enter the amount of Part IV.1 tax payable that you calculated on line 340 of Schedule 43.

Subsection 191.2(1)

Line 720 – Part VI tax payable

You have to complete Schedule 38, Part VI Tax on Capital of Financial Institutions, to calculate Part VI tax.

Part VI levies a tax on a financial institution's taxable capital employed in Canada. Part VI tax is 1.25% of the taxable capital employed in Canada that is more than the $1 billion capital deduction for the year.

If the corporation is a member of a related group, you have to allocate the capital deduction among the members.

Use Schedule 39, Agreement Among Related Financial Institutions – Part VI Tax, to allocate the capital deduction. File this agreement with your return.

Note

Schedule 39 need only be filed by one of the associated/related corporations for a calendar year. However, if Schedule 39 is not already on file with us when we assess any of the returns for a tax year ending in the calendar year of the agreement, we will ask for one.

Under subsection 190.1(3), you can deduct Part I tax payable for the year from Part VI tax payable. This is called the Part I tax credit. You can deduct any unused Part I tax credits from Part VI tax in any of the three previous and seven following tax years.

To calculate the balance of unused Part I tax credits and to carry back this credit, you can use Schedule 42, Calculation of Unused Part I Tax Credit.

Financial institutions include banks, trust companies, life insurance corporations, certain holding corporations, and corporations that accept deposits and carry on the business of lending money on the security of real property or immovables, or investing in indebtedness on the security of mortgages on real property or of hypothecs on immovables.

File Schedule 38 with your return if you have Part VI tax payable, or would have, if not for the deduction of a Part I tax credit.

On line 720, enter the amount of Part VI tax payable that you calculated on line 890 of Schedule 38.

Line 724 – Part VI.1 tax payable

Complete the following schedules if required:

- Schedule 43, Calculation of Parts IV.1 and VI.1 Taxes; and
- Schedule 45, Agreement Respecting Liability for Part VI.1 Tax.

See the following headings for more details.

Part 1 of Schedule 43 – Calculation of dividend allowance

Calculate the dividend allowance on Part 1 of Schedule 43.

Generally, the first $500,000 of dividends paid in the year on taxable preferred shares is exempt from Part VI.1 tax liability. This basic annual exemption is called the dividend allowance.

However, the $500,000 dividend allowance is reduced if you paid more than $1 million of dividends on taxable preferred shares in the previous year.

Part 2 of Schedule 43 – Agreement among associated corporations to allocate the dividend allowance

If you are a member of an associated group, you have to allocate the dividend allowance between the members. Part 2 provides an area for this allocation.

Part 3 of Schedule 43 – Calculation of Part VI.1 tax payable Complete Part 3 of Schedule 43 to calculate Part VI.1 tax. Part VI.1 tax is levied on dividends (other than certain excluded dividends) you paid on short-term preferred shares and taxable preferred shares.

You are subject to a 40% tax on dividends you paid on short-term preferred shares that are more than the annual dividend allowance.

You are subject to a tax of 25% or 40% on dividends you paid on taxable preferred shares (other than short-term preferred shares) that are more than any remaining dividend allowance. Choosing the 40% rate will exempt the holder of these shares from the 10% tax under Part IV.1. This rate would apply to all future dividends paid on that class or series of shares.

See subsection 248(1) for definitions of the terms short-term preferred shares and taxable preferred shares.

Schedule 45, Agreement Respecting Liability for Part VI.1 Tax

Complete Schedule 45 to certify the transfer of Part VI.1 tax liability and send it to us with Schedule 43.

A corporation (the transferor) can transfer all or part of its Part VI.1 tax liability to another corporation (the transferee), if the corporations were related throughout the following tax years:

- the transferor's tax year for which it owes Part VI.1 tax; and
- the transferee's tax year that ends on or before the end of the above-mentioned transferor's tax year.

You can deduct Part VI.1 tax payable from income. See page 55 for more information. Any Part VI.1 tax that is left over after the taxable income is reduced to zero is part of the non-capital loss for the year. See page 48 for details.

On line 724, enter the amount of Part VI.1 tax payable you calculated on line 270 of Schedule 43.

Line 727 – Part XIII.1 tax payable

Every authorized foreign bank is subject to Part XIII.1 tax equal to 25% of its taxable interest expense for the year.

You have to show your calculations on a separate schedule. Identify these calculations as Schedule 92, Part XIII.1 Tax – Additional Tax on Authorized Foreign Banks, since we do not publish this schedule. For more information, see Part XIII.1 tax in the Income Tax Act.

On line 727 of the return, enter the amount of Part XIII.1 tax payable.

Line 728 – Part XIV tax payable

Every corporation that is non-resident in a tax year is subject to Part XIV tax.

Part XIV tax is 25%, but a tax treaty can reduce this percentage. In addition, a tax treaty may restrict the Part XIV tax to corporations that carry on business in Canada through a permanent establishment in Canada.

You have to complete Schedule 20, Part XIV – Additional Tax on Non-Resident Corporations, to calculate Part XIV tax. On line 728 of the return, enter the amount of Part XIV tax payable you calculated on Schedule 20.

Note

Corporations that are subject to Part XIV tax should file their return with the International and Ottawa Tax Services Office. See "Corporation Internet Filing" on page 10 and "Where do you file your paper return?" on page 12.

IT-137, Additional Tax on Certain Corporations Carrying on Business in Canada

Provincial and territorial tax

Quebec and Alberta administer their own corporation income tax systems. Corporations that earn income in these provinces have to file separate provincial corporation income tax returns.

All other provinces and territories legislate their corporation income tax provisions, but the CRA administers them. These provinces and territories do not charge income tax on the taxable income of corporations that are exempt from tax under section 149.

If the corporation has a permanent establishment in any province or territory other than Quebec or Alberta, you have to calculate provincial and/or territorial income taxes and credits, as well as federal income taxes and credits, on the return.

Note

Unless otherwise specified in the legislation, the credits are considered government assistance and must be included in income in the tax year they are received.

Reference

Paragraph 12(1)(x)

Permanent establishment

A permanent establishment in a province or territory is usually a fixed place of business of the corporation, which includes an office, branch, oil well, farm, timberland, factory, workshop, warehouse, or mine. If the corporation does not have a fixed place of business, the corporation's permanent establishment is the principal place in which the corporation's business is conducted.

If the corporation carries on business through an employee or an agent established in a particular place, it is considered to have a permanent establishment in that place if the employee or agent:

- has general authority to contract for the corporation; or
- has a stock of merchandise owned by the corporation from which the employee or agent regularly fills orders received.

A corporation that would not otherwise have any permanent establishment in a province or territory and/or a jurisdiction outside of Canada is deemed to have a permanent establishment at the place designated in its incorporation documents or bylaws as its head office or registered office. So, whether or not the corporation carries on a business in a province or territory, it is entitled to the 10% federal abatement, but subject to provincial or territorial taxation.

See Regulation 400(2) for a complete definition of permanent establishment.

Line 750 – Provincial or territorial jurisdiction

On line 750, give the name of the province or territory where you earned your income. Usually, this is where the corporation has its permanent establishment.

If you earned income in more than one province or territory, write "multiple" on line 750 and file Schedule 5, Tax Calculation Supplementary – Corporations, with your return. See below for instructions on how to complete Schedule 5.

Note

The Newfoundland and Labrador offshore area and the Nova Scotia offshore area are considered provinces.

By completing line 750, you ensure that the income taxes go to the correct province or territory. Complete this line even if no tax is payable, or if the provincial jurisdiction is Quebec or Alberta.

Subsection 124(4)

Line 760 – Net provincial and territorial tax payable

If your provincial or territorial jurisdiction is not Quebec or Alberta, and you do not need to complete Schedule 5, enter your provincial or territorial tax payable on line 760.

If you do need to complete Schedule 5, the net amount of provincial or territorial tax will be calculated on line 255 of the schedule. If this amount is positive enter it on line 760 of the return. If this amount is negative, enter it on line 812 of the return.

The following section explains when and how to complete Schedule 5.

Schedule 5, Tax Calculation Supplementary – Corporations

You have to complete Schedule 5 if:

- there is a permanent establishment in more than one province or territory (complete Part 1), whether or not you are taxable (if taxable, also complete Part 2);
- the corporation is claiming provincial or territorial tax credits, or rebates (complete Part 2); or
- the corporation has to pay taxes other than income tax (see "Part 2 of Schedule 5" below).

Note

The Newfoundland and Labrador offshore area and the Nova Scotia offshore area are considered provinces.

For information on the calculation of tax for each province and territory, see the sections that follow in this chapter.

Part 1 of Schedule 5 – Allocation of taxable income

You must complete Part 1 of Schedule 5 if you had a permanent establishment in more than one province or territory. Complete columns A to F for each province or territory in which you had a permanent establishment in the tax year. If there is no taxable income, you only have to complete columns A, B and D.

Note

This also applies to corporations with permanent establishments in Quebec or Alberta.

We assess provincial or territorial income taxes on the amount of taxable income allocated to each province or territory. See the Provincial Income Allocation Newsletters at cra.gc.ca/tx/tchncl/pia-iapr/menu-eng.html and Regulation 402 for details on how to allocate taxable income.

Special rules for establishing a corporation's gross revenue and salaries and wages attributable to a jurisdiction are provided in cases where the corporation is a member of a partnership and the partnership had permanent establishments in more than one jurisdiction. See Guide T4068, Guide for the Partnership Information Return and prescribed Form T5013SCH5, Allocation of Salaries and Wages, and Gross Revenue for Multiple Jurisdictions – Schedule 5.

Generally, to allocate taxable income to each province or territory, you have to use a formula based on gross revenue, and salaries and wages. See Part 1 of Schedule 5 for details.

You will find the general rules on how to allocate gross revenue in Regulation 402.

Do not include any of the following amounts in gross revenue:

- interest on bonds, debentures, or mortgages;
- dividends on shares of capital stock; or
- rents or royalties from property that are not part of the principal business operations.

Allocate gross salaries and wages paid in the year to the permanent establishment in which those salaries and wages were paid only to the extent they were paid to employees of the permanent establishment (the permanent establishment is not necessarily the permanent establishment in which those salaries and wages were paid). Do not include in gross salaries and wages any commissions paid to a person who is not an employee, unless that person renders services that would normally be performed by an employee of the corporation. The allocation of salaries paid through a central paymaster is subject to the deeming rules under Regulation 402.1.

See Regulations 403 to 413 for details on special methods for allocating taxable income for the following types of businesses:

- insurance corporations (Regulation 403);
- banks (Regulation 404);
- trust and loan corporations (Regulation 405);
- railway corporations (Regulation 406);
- airline corporations (Regulation 407);
- grain elevator operators (Regulation 408);
- bus and truck operators (Regulation 409);
- ship operators (Regulation 410);
- pipeline operators (Regulation 411);
- divided businesses (Regulation 412); and
- non-resident corporations (Regulation 413).

In field 100, enter the regulation number that applies to attribute the taxable income.

Part 2 of Schedule 5 – Provincial and territorial tax credits and rebates

Complete Part 2 of Schedule 5 if:

- there is provincial or territorial tax (and a permanent establishment in more than one province or territory);

- there is a claim for provincial or territorial tax credits or rebates; or
- there is a claim for provincial or territorial refundable tax credits.

Note

Corporations with a permanent establishment in Quebec or Alberta must complete the appropriate provincial corporation returns and schedules to report provincial tax and claim provincial credits and rebates.

Corporations with a permanent establishment in Ontario must also complete Part 2 of Schedule 5 if one of the three previous or five following conditions applies: The corporation:

- is claiming the Ontario small business deduction;
- is claiming the Ontario credit union reduction;
- has an addition to Ontario basic income tax (such as a transitional tax debit);
- has Ontario corporate minimum tax payable; or
- has Ontario special additional tax on life insurance corporations payable.

Corporations must also complete Part 2 of Schedule 5 if they have Newfoundland and Labrador capital tax on financial institutions payable.

On line 255 of Schedule 5, enter the net amount of provincial and territorial tax payable or the net amount of refundable credits. When the result is positive, enter the net provincial or territorial tax payable on line 760 of the return. When the result is negative, enter the refundable provincial or territorial tax credit on line 812 of the return. Attach to your return any forms you completed to claim provincial or territorial credits or rebates.

In the following sections, you will find information about provincial and territorial tax rates, foreign tax credits, and details on the provincial and territorial credits and rebates.

Dual rates of provincial and territorial income tax

Generally, provinces and territories have two rates of income tax: the lower rate and the higher rate.

The lower rate applies to the income eligible for the federal small business deduction. One component of the small business deduction is the business limit. Some provinces or territories choose to use the federal business limit. Others establish their own business limit.

The higher rate applies to all other income. For detailed information on the income eligible for each rate and the rates that apply to each province and territory, see the sections that follow in this chapter.

Example 1

Corp X earned all of its income in 2016 from its permanent establishment in Saskatchewan. Corp X claimed the small business deduction when it calculated its federal tax payable. The income from active business carried on in Canada was $78,000.

The Saskatchewan lower rate of tax is 2%. The higher rate of tax is 12%.

Corp X calculates its Saskatchewan tax payable as follows:

Taxable income	$90,000
Subtract amount taxed at lower rate:
Least of lines 400, 405, 410, and 427 in the small business deduction calculation (from the T2 return)	$78,000
Amount taxed at higher rate	$12,000
Taxes payable at the lower rate:
$$78,000 \times 2\% =$	$ 1,560
Taxes payable at the higher rate:
$$12,000 \times 12\% =$	$ 1,440
Saskatchewan tax payable	$ 3,000

When you allocate taxable income to more than one province or territory, you also have to allocate proportionally any income eligible for the federal small business deduction.

Example 2

Corp Y has permanent establishments in both Nova Scotia and the Yukon. Its tax year runs from July 1, 2015, to June 30, 2016.

Corp Y claimed the small business deduction when it calculated its federal tax payable.

The lower rate of tax for Nova Scotia is 3%, and the higher rate of tax is 16%.

To calculate its Nova Scotia income tax, Corp Y does the following calculations:

Taxable income allocated to Nova Scotia (from Schedule 5)	$60,000
Taxable income allocated to the Yukon (from Schedule 5)	$30,000
Total taxable income earned in Canada	$90,000
Least of lines 400, 405, 410, and 427 in the federal small business deduction calculation (from the T2 return)	$78,000
Income eligible for the federal small business deduction attributed to Nova Scotia:
$$60,000 \times $78,000 =$	$52,000
$90,000
Taxable income earned in Nova Scotia	$60,000
Subtract: Income eligible for the federal small business deduction attributed to Nova Scotia	$52,000
Amount taxed at higher rate	$ 8,000
Taxes payable at higher rate:
$$8,000 \times 16\% =$	$ 1,280
Taxes payable at lower rate:

$$$52,000 \times 3\% = \underline{\underline{$ 1,560}}$$

$$\text{Nova Scotia tax payable} \quad \underline{\underline{$ 2,840}}$$

To calculate its Yukon income tax payable, Corp Y would repeat the same steps, using the rates that apply.

On the appropriate lines of Part 2 of Schedule 5, enter the gross amount of each provincial or territorial tax payable.

Provincial or territorial foreign tax credits

Every province and territory allows a corporation to claim a foreign tax credit for taxes it paid to another country on foreign non-business income. This credit reduces the provincial tax otherwise payable.

However, you cannot claim foreign tax credits for the provinces of Quebec and Alberta on the federal return, because these provinces collect their own income taxes.

The provincial or territorial foreign tax credit is available to a corporation that:

- is resident in Canada throughout the tax year;
- has a permanent establishment in the province or territory at any time in the tax year; and
- has foreign investment income for the tax year.

For Ontario, an authorized foreign bank is eligible for the foreign tax credit if it performed Canadian banking business.

The tax credit can only be claimed if the foreign non-business income tax paid exceeds the federal foreign non-business income tax credit deductible for the year.

For each province or territory for which you are claiming a credit, you have to do a separate calculation. Also, if you paid tax to more than one foreign country you have to do a separate calculation for each country.

If dual rates of corporation tax apply, use the higher rate when you calculate the foreign tax credit. For Ontario, use the basic rate of tax.

To claim the foreign tax credit, complete Schedule 21, Federal and Provincial or Territorial Foreign Income Tax Credits and Federal Logging Tax Credit.

Note

If the tax rate has changed during the tax year, you have to prorate the calculation in Part 9 of Schedule 21 using the number of days in each period. For British Columbia, prorate the tax rate in each period, round off the prorated rates to the nearest one-thousandth of one percent (= 0.001%), and add the rounded percentages for the periods before multiplying by the foreign non-business income.

On the appropriate lines of Part 2 of Schedule 5, enter the applicable provincial and territorial foreign tax credits.

Newfoundland and Labrador

The lower rate of Newfoundland and Labrador income tax is 3%. This lower rate applies to taxable income earned in Newfoundland and Labrador that qualifies for the federal small business deduction.

The higher rate of income tax is 14%. This higher rate applies to taxable income earned in Newfoundland and Labrador that does not qualify for the federal small business deduction.

Effective January 1, 2016, the higher rate of Newfoundland and Labrador corporation income tax is increased from 14% to 15%. The rate is prorated based on the number of days in the year when the tax year straddles January 1, 2016.

These rates also apply to taxable income earned in the Newfoundland and Labrador offshore area.

You can use Schedule 307, Newfoundland and Labrador Corporation Tax Calculation, to help you calculate the Newfoundland and Labrador tax before the credits are applied. You do not have to file it with your return. See the schedule for more details.

On line 200 and/or 205 of Schedule 5, enter the amount of tax calculated.

Newfoundland and Labrador capital tax on financial institutions

A provincial tax is levied on the taxable capital of financial institutions that have a permanent establishment in Newfoundland and Labrador. This tax applies to banks and trust and loans corporations.

A capital deduction of $5 million is available to a corporation that is not a member of a related group and has a capital of $10 million or less. If the corporation is a member of a related group, a capital deduction of $5 million to be allocated among members of the related group is available as long as the combined capital of all members of the related group is $10 million or less.

Use Schedule 306, Newfoundland and Labrador Capital Tax on Financial Institutions – Agreement Among Related Corporations, to allocate the capital deduction. File this agreement with your return.

The tax is equal to 5% of the amount by which the corporation's taxable capital employed in the province for the year, including the offshore area, exceeds its capital deduction for the year. Before April 1, 2015, the rate was 4%.

As of January 1, 2016, the Newfoundland and Labrador capital tax on financial institutions is increased from 5% to 6%.

The rate is prorated based on the number of days in the year when the tax year straddles these dates.

Corporations that are liable to pay this tax have to file Schedule 305, Newfoundland and Labrador Capital Tax on Financial Institutions.

On line 518 of Schedule 5, enter the provincial tax on financial institutions payable.

A penalty applies to financial institutions that have to pay this tax and do not file the required return on time. For details, see "Penalties" on page 15.

Instalment payment requirements are the same as for Part I tax. For details, see "Instalment due dates" on page 13.

The provincial capital tax cannot be reduced by any tax credits. However, you can deduct the capital tax payable when calculating federal income for tax purposes.

Newfoundland and Labrador political contribution tax credit

You can claim a tax credit on contributions made to registered political parties, registered district associations, or registered non-affiliated candidates, as defined under the Elections Act, 1991, of Newfoundland and Labrador, as follows:

- 75% of the first $100 contributed;

plus

- 50% of the next $450 contributed;

plus

- 33 1/3% of the amount contributed that is more than $550, to a maximum credit of $500.

You do not have to file official receipts with your return. However, keep them in case we ask for them later. We can only accept photocopies if the issuer certifies them as true copies.

On line 891 of Schedule 5, enter the total amount of qualifying contributions, and on line 500, enter the amount of the credit you are claiming.

Newfoundland and Labrador manufacturing and processing profits tax credit

This credit is eliminated effective January 1, 2016. Transitional relief is provided for tax years that begin before January 1, 2016, but end after December 31, 2015.

Corporations that have earned taxable income in Newfoundland and Labrador and have manufacturing and processing profits are eligible for this credit.

This credit cannot be claimed unless the corporation has engaged in manufacturing or processing in the tax year from a permanent establishment in Newfoundland and Labrador.

Schedule 300, Newfoundland and Labrador Manufacturing and Processing Profits Tax Credit, is a worksheet to calculate the credit and does not have to be filed with your return. See the schedule for more details.

On line 503 of Schedule 5, enter the amount of the credit you are claiming.

Newfoundland and Labrador venture capital tax credit

The Newfoundland and Labrador government will issue a certificate to corporations investing in qualifying venture capital funds. This non-refundable credit is equal to 30% of the amount invested, to a lifetime maximum credit of $75,000.

This credit must be applied against tax otherwise payable. You can carry unused credits back to the three previous tax years ending after 2013 or forward to the seven following tax years.

If you file your T2 return electronically, keep your certificate in case we ask for it later. Otherwise, file it with your paper T2 return.

To claim the credit, file a completed Schedule 308, Newfoundland and Labrador Venture Capital Tax Credit. See the schedule for more details.

On line 504 of Schedule 5, enter the amount of the credit.

Newfoundland and Labrador direct equity tax credit

You can claim this credit for an investment in eligible shares of a business with which you deal at arm's length.

There are two tax credit rates. For qualifying activities undertaken in the province outside the Northeast Avalon, a 35% rate applies. For qualifying activities undertaken within the Northeast Avalon, a 20% rate applies. In cases where qualifying activities are undertaken in both areas, a reasonable proration applies.

The maximum credit you can claim is $50,000 per year, including any amounts carried back or carried forward.

This credit must be claimed against tax otherwise payable. You can carry forward unused credits for seven years or back three years.

The province of Newfoundland and Labrador will issue Form NLDETC-1, Newfoundland and Labrador Direct Equity Tax Credit, for eligible investments. File this form with your T2 return.

To claim the credit, file a completed Schedule 303, Newfoundland and Labrador Direct Equity Tax Credit. See the schedule for more details.

On line 505 of Schedule 5, enter the amount of the credit.

Newfoundland and Labrador resort property investment tax credit

You can claim this credit if you make an investment in a qualifying resort development property in Newfoundland and Labrador within five years after the unit in the qualifying resort development property is first made available for sale. The corporation must not sell or transfer ownership in the unit for at least five years from the date of purchase. The investment must be made at arm's length.

The credit is equal to 45% of the amount invested to a lifetime maximum credit of $150,000. The maximum credit you can claim in the tax year is $50,000, including any amounts carried back or carried forward.

This credit must be applied against tax otherwise payable. You can carry forward unused credits to the seven following tax years or back to the three previous tax years.

The application for the credit must be made within 90 days after the sale of the unit. The Province of Newfoundland and Labrador will issue Form NLRPITC-1, Newfoundland and Labrador Resort Property Investment Tax Credit, for qualifying investments. File this form with your T2 return.

To claim the credit, file a completed Schedule 304, Newfoundland and Labrador Resort Property Investment Tax Credit. See the schedule for more details.

On line 507 of Schedule 5, enter the amount of the credit you are claiming.

Newfoundland and Labrador research and development tax credit

You can claim this credit if you have a permanent establishment in Newfoundland and Labrador and if you made eligible expenditures for research and development carried out in Newfoundland and Labrador. The credit is equal to 15% of eligible expenditures.

The credit is fully refundable, but must first be applied against total taxes payable.

To claim the credit, file a completed Schedule 301, Newfoundland and Labrador Research and Development Tax Credit, with your return. See the schedule for more details.

On line 520 of Schedule 5, enter the amount of credit earned in the year.

Newfoundland and Labrador film and video industry tax credit

The minister of Finance for the province of Newfoundland and Labrador will issue a tax credit certificate to a corporation that produces an eligible film or video in the province.

The amount of the credit is equal to the lesser of 40% of eligible salaries paid in the tax year to residents of the province or 25% of the total production costs for each eligible project.

The tax credit:

- applies to eligible salaries incurred before January 1, 2019; and
- is a maximum of $4 million for each eligible corporation, together with all corporations associated with that corporation, for all eligible films or videos begun on or after April 1, 2013, in a 12-month period. It was previously $3 million.

This credit is fully refundable, but must first be applied against total taxes payable.

To claim the credit, file the certificate(s) (or a copy) with your return. Keep a copy for your records.

If there is only one certificate, enter the certificate number on line 821 of Schedule 5. If there is more than one certificate, complete Schedule 302, Additional Certificate Numbers for the Newfoundland and Labrador Film and Video Industry Tax Credit, and file it with your return.

On line 521 of Schedule 5, enter the amount of the credit earned in the current year.

Newfoundland and Labrador interactive digital media tax credit

You can claim this credit if you paid eligible salaries and remuneration for eligible interactive digital media projects in the province.

The refundable credit is equal to 40% of qualifying expenditures incurred on or after January 1, 2015. Qualifying expenditures are eligible salaries and 65% of eligible remuneration. The credit is limited to $40,000 per employee and $2 million per corporation or group of associated corporations per year.

The minister of Finance for the province of Newfoundland and Labrador will issue a tax credit certificate to a corporation that produces an eligible interactive digital media project in the province.

To claim the credit, file the certificate(s) (or a copy) with your return. Keep a copy for your records. For most projects, the credit may be claimed for the year in which the expenses were incurred. For projects developed primarily for government, the credit may be claimed only for the tax year during which the project was completed.

If there is only one certificate, enter the certificate number on line 840 of Schedule 5. If there is more than one certificate, complete Schedule 309, Additional Certificate Numbers for the Newfoundland and Labrador Interactive Digital Media Tax Credit, and file it with your return. See the schedule for more details.

On line 522 of Schedule 5, enter the amount of the credit you are claiming.

Prince Edward Island

The lower rate of Prince Edward Island income tax is 4.5%.

This rate applies to:

- taxable income earned in Prince Edward Island that qualifies for the federal small business deduction; and
- a credit union's income that qualifies for the additional deduction under subsection 137(3).

The higher rate of income tax is 16%. This rate applies to taxable income earned in Prince Edward Island that does not qualify for the federal small business deduction.

You can use Schedule 322, Prince Edward Island Corporation Tax Calculation, to help you calculate the Prince Edward Island tax before the credits are applied. You do not have to file it with your return. See the schedule for more details.

On line 210 of Schedule 5, enter the amount of tax calculated.

Prince Edward Island political contribution tax credit

You can claim a tax credit on contributions made to recognized Prince Edward Island political parties, and to candidates who were officially nominated under the Elections Act of Prince Edward Island, as follows:

- 75% of the first $100 contributed;

plus

- 50% of the next $450 contributed;

plus

- 33 1/3% of the amount contributed that is more than $550, to a maximum credit of $500.

You do not have to file official receipts with your return. However, keep them in case we ask for them later. We can only accept photocopies if the issuer certifies them as true copies.

On line 892 of Schedule 5, enter the total amount of qualifying contributions, and on line 525, enter the amount of credit you are claiming.

Prince Edward Island corporate investment tax credit

Corporations that have acquired qualified property are eligible for this credit. Apply the credit to reduce the Prince Edward Island tax payable.

You can carry back an unused credit to the three previous tax years from the tax year that you acquired the property. You can also carry forward the unclaimed credit to the seven tax years that follow the tax year in which you acquired the property.

The credit can be renounced but must include all current year credits. Partial renunciations are not permitted. The renunciation must be filed on or before the filing due date of the income tax return.

To claim the credit, file a completed Schedule 321, Prince Edward Island Corporate Investment Tax Credit, with your return. See the schedule for more details.

On line 530 of Schedule 5, enter the amount of the credit you are claiming.

Nova Scotia

The lower rate of Nova Scotia income tax is 3%.

The income eligible for the lower rate is determined using the $350,000 Nova Scotia business limit.

The higher rate of income tax is 16%. This rate applies to taxable income earned in Nova Scotia that does not qualify for the lower rate.

These rates also apply to taxable income earned in the Nova Scotia offshore area.

You can use Schedule 346, Nova Scotia Corporation Tax Calculation, to help you calculate the Nova Scotia tax before the application of credits. You do not have to file it with your return. See the schedule for more details.

On line 215 and/or 220 of Schedule 5, enter the amount of tax calculated.

Nova Scotia political contribution tax credit

You can claim a tax credit on contributions made to candidates and recognized parties, as defined under the Nova Scotia Elections Act. The amount that you can claim is the lesser of:

- 75% of the total contributions;

and

- $750.

You do not have to file official receipts with your return. However, keep them in case we ask for them later. We can only accept photocopies if the issuer certifies them as true copies.

On line 893 of Schedule 5, enter the total amount of qualifying contributions, and on line 550 enter the amount of the credit you are claiming.

Nova Scotia corporate tax reduction for new small businesses

This tax reduction applies to the first three tax years of qualifying CCPCs incorporated in Nova Scotia. This tax reduction also applies to a corporation incorporated outside the province, but inside of Canada, if it pays at least 25% of its wages to employees who are resident in the province and its head office is located in the province.

If the qualifying corporation is eligible for a federal small business deduction for the year, it can claim this tax reduction to reduce Nova Scotia income tax otherwise payable.

Schedule 341, Nova Scotia Corporate Tax Reduction for New Small Businesses, is a worksheet to calculate the credit and does not have to be filed with your return. You do not have to file the certificate of eligibility that the province issues. However, keep it in case we ask for it later.

On lines 834 and 556 of Schedule 5, enter the certificate number and the amount of the reduction you are claiming.

Nova Scotia film industry tax credit

Note

This credit is ended for film and television productions that start principal photography after June 30, 2015. On July 1, 2015, the Nova Scotia Film & Television Production Incentive Fund began. This fund is not administered by the CRA. Productions that started principal photography before July 1, 2015, will receive the tax credit based on the previous rules (see below). All productions will continue to have 30 months from the end of the tax year in which the expenditures were made to file their application.

The minister of Finance and Treasury Board for the Province of Nova Scotia will issue a tax credit certificate to a corporation producing an eligible film in the province when principal photography starts before July 1, 2015.

The credit ranges from 50% to 65% of eligible salaries paid to employees who are residents of the province. An employee must be a resident of Nova Scotia for tax purposes during the production period.

When 50% or more of the days of principal photography of the production are in an eligible geographic area the credit is equal to 60% of all eligible salaries paid to residents of the province.

When less than 50% of the days of principal photography of the production are in an eligible geographic area the credit is equal to:

- 60% of eligible salaries paid to residents of the province prorated for the number of days of principal photography that are inside the eligible geographic area over the total number of days of principal photography;

plus

- 50% of eligible salaries paid to residents of the province prorated for the number of days of principal photography that are outside the eligible geographic area over the total number of days of principal photography;

Production companies that shoot more than two films in the province over a two-year period are eligible for an additional 5% of eligible salaries frequent film bonus on the third and subsequent films.

This credit is refundable, but must first be applied against total taxes payable.

To claim the credit, file the original or a copy of the certificate with your return.

If there is only one certificate, enter the certificate number on line 836 of Schedule 5. If there is more than one certificate, complete Schedule 345, Additional Certificate Numbers for the Nova Scotia Film Industry Tax Credit, and file it with your return.

On line 565 of Schedule 5, enter the amount of the credit earned in the current year.

Nova Scotia research and development tax credit

You can claim this credit if you have a permanent establishment in Nova Scotia and if you made eligible expenditures for research and development carried out in Nova Scotia. The credit is equal to 15% of eligible expenditures.

The credit is fully refundable, but must first be applied against total taxes payable.

You can renounce the research and development tax credit for an eligible expenditure incurred during the year under subsection 41(7) of the Income Tax Act (Nova Scotia).

To calculate and claim the credit, file a completed Schedule 340, Nova Scotia Research and Development Tax Credit, with your return. See the schedule for more details.

On line 566 of Schedule 5, enter the amount of credit earned in the year.

Recapture of Nova Scotia research and development tax credit

A corporation that disposed of a property used in research and development, or converted the property to commercial use, may have to report a recapture of any Nova Scotia research and development tax credit previously calculated on that property. Any recapture will create or increase Nova Scotia tax otherwise payable.

To calculate the recapture, complete Schedule 340, Nova Scotia Research and Development Tax Credit. See the schedule for more details.

On line 221 of Schedule 5, enter the amount of recapture calculated.

Nova Scotia digital media tax credit

The minister of Finance and Treasury Board for the Province of Nova Scotia will issue a tax credit certificate to a corporation producing an eligible product in the province.

An eligible employee has to be a resident of Nova Scotia for tax purposes during the production period.

The credit is based on the qualifying expenditures incurred before January 1, 2021, and is limited by total expenditures.

The amount of the credit is the lesser of:

- 50% of qualifying expenditures; and
- 25% of total expenditures.

A bonus of 10% of qualifying expenditures or 5% of total expenditures is available for developing an eligible product in a prescribed geographic area. An eligible corporation must have no less than 50% of eligible salaries paid to employees who normally report to a permanent establishment of the eligible corporation in the prescribed geographic area of the province.

This credit is refundable, but must first be applied against total taxes payable.

To claim the credit, file the original or a copy of the certificate with your return.

If there is only one certificate, enter the certificate number on line 838 of Schedule 5. If there is more than one certificate, complete Schedule 347, Additional Certificate Numbers for the Nova Scotia Digital Media Tax Credit, and file it with your return.

On line 567 of Schedule 5, enter the amount of the credit earned in the current year.

Nova Scotia digital animation tax credit

This credit provides incentive for digital-animation productions that start key animation after June 30, 2015, and before July 1, 2020.

An eligible employee has to be a resident of Nova Scotia on the last day of the calendar year just before the year for which you claim the tax credit. The maximum of an employee's eligible salary is $150,000 per production.

Send a Part A application for an eligibility certificate to the Department of Finance and Treasury Board before the start of key animation of a digital animation production. After the production is completed, file a Part B application for a tax certificate.

The credit is the sum of:

- 50% of qualifying expenditures deducted by total assistance; and
- 17.5% of eligible digital animation labour expenditures.

This credit is refundable, but must first be applied against total tax payable.

To claim the credit, file the original or a copy of the tax certificate with your return.

If there is only one certificate, enter the certificate number on line 839 of Schedule 5. If there is more than one certificate, complete Schedule 348, Additional Certificate Numbers for the Nova Scotia Digital Animation Tax Credit, and file it with your return.

On line 569 of Schedule 5, enter the amount of the credit earned in the current year.

Nova Scotia capital investment tax credit

You can claim this tax credit on qualified property acquired after December 31, 2014, and before January 1, 2025, for use in Nova Scotia as part of a capital project that is more than $15 million in total cost. The refundable credit equals 15% of the cost of qualified property.

It is available to corporations mainly in the manufacturing and processing, farming, fishing, and logging sectors.

The Province of Nova Scotia will issue a certificate for qualified property. File the original or a copy of the certificate with your return.

On line 568 of Schedule 5, enter the amount of the credit you are claiming.

Nova Scotia food bank tax credit for farmers

Effective January 1, 2016, corporations that carry on a farming business in Nova Scotia may claim a non-refundable tax credit equal to 25% of the amount of the qualifying donation that is deducted the same year under section 110.1 of the federal Income Tax Act for the donation. A qualifying donation is a donation of one or more agriculture products to an eligible food bank.

To claim the credit, file a completed Schedule 2, Charitable Donations and Gifts, with your return. For more details, see the schedule.

On line 570 of Schedule 5, enter the amount of the credit earned in the current year.

New Brunswick

The lower rate of New Brunswick income tax is 4%, as of January 1, 2015. It was previously 4.5%.

Effective April 1, 2016, the lower rate of New Brunswick income tax is decreased from 4% to 3.5%.

The income eligible for the lower rates is determined using the New Brunswick business limit of $500,000.

The higher rate of New Brunswick income tax is 12%.

Effective April 1, 2016, the higher rate of New Brunswick income tax is increased from 12% to 14%.

The rate is prorated based on the number of days in the year when the tax year straddles one of these dates.

This rate applies to all income not eligible for the lower rates.

You can use Schedule 366, New Brunswick Corporation Tax Calculation, to help you calculate the New Brunswick tax before the application of credits. You do not have to file it with your return. See the schedule for more details.

On line 225 of Schedule 5, enter the amount of tax calculated.

New Brunswick political contribution tax credit

You can claim a tax credit on contributions made to a registered political party, a registered district association, or a registered independent candidate, as defined under the New Brunswick Elections Act, as follows:

- 75% of the first $200 contributed;

plus

- 50% of the next $350 contributed;

plus

- 33 1/3% of the next $525 contributed, to a maximum credit of $500.

You do not have to file official receipts with your return. However, keep them in case we ask for them later. We can accept photocopies only if the issuer certifies them as true copies.

On line 894 of Schedule 5, enter the total amount of qualifying contributions, and on line 575 enter the amount of the credit you are claiming.

New Brunswick small business investor tax credit

You can claim a tax credit for investments in eligible small businesses in New Brunswick.

The non-refundable credit equals 15% of the amount you invested to an annual maximum of $75,000 (for investment of up to $500,000).

You can carry back an unused credit to the three previous tax years ending after 2013. You can also carry forward the unused credit to the seven following tax years.

The Province of New Brunswick will issue a certificate for qualifying investments. If you file your return electronically, keep your certificate in case we ask for it later. Otherwise, file it with your paper T2 return.

To claim the credit, file a completed Schedule 367, New Brunswick Small Business Investor Tax Credit, with your return. For more details, see the schedule.

On line 578 of Schedule 5, enter the amount of the credit you are claiming.

New Brunswick film tax credit

The New Brunswick film tax credit is eliminated, except for projects for which the pre-approval application was made before April 6, 2011.

The New Brunswick minister of Finance had been issuing a tax credit certificate to corporations producing an eligible film in the province.

The amount of the credit cannot be more than 40% of the amount of eligible salaries paid in the tax year.

Since January 1, 2010, an additional 10% regional bonus is available for eligible productions for which more than 50% of the principal photography is done more than 50 kilometres from the city hall of Moncton, the city hall of Fredericton, and the city hall of Saint John.

The credit is subject to the following conditions:

- the tax credit applies to eligible salaries incurred before January 1, 2020 (but the pre-approval application for the project must have been made before April 6, 2011);
- an eligible corporation must, for each eligible project, pay at least 25% of its total salaries and wages to eligible employees; and
- the tax credit applies only to that portion of eligible salaries that is not more than 50% of the total production costs of the eligible project less the amount of production costs funded by the province.

This credit is fully refundable, but must first be applied against total taxes payable.

To claim the credit, file the original tax credit certificate (or a copy) with your return.

If there is only one certificate, enter the certificate number on line 850 of Schedule 5. If there is more than one certificate, complete Schedule 365, Additional Certificate Numbers for the New Brunswick Film Tax Credit, and file it with your return.

On line 595 of Schedule 5, enter the amount of the credit earned in the current year.

New Brunswick research and development tax credit

You can claim this credit if you have a permanent establishment in New Brunswick and you made eligible expenditures for research and development to be carried out in New Brunswick. The amount of the credit is equal to 15% of eligible expenditures.

The credit is fully refundable, but must first be applied against total taxes payable.

To claim the credit, file a completed Schedule 360, New Brunswick Research and Development Tax Credit, with your return. For more details, see the schedule.

On line 597 of Schedule 5, enter the amount of the credit you are claiming.

Recapture of New Brunswick research and development tax credit

A corporation that disposed of a property used in research and development, or converted it to commercial use, may have to report a recapture of any New Brunswick research and development tax credit previously calculated on that property. Any recapture will create or increase New Brunswick tax otherwise payable.

To calculate the recapture, complete Schedule 360, New Brunswick Research and Development Tax Credit.

On line 573 of Schedule 5, enter the amount of recapture calculated.

Ontario

The basic rate of income tax is 11.5%.

You can use Schedule 500, Ontario Corporation Tax Calculation, to calculate your Ontario basic income tax. Schedule 500 is a worksheet and does not have to be filed with your return.

On line 270 of Schedule 5, enter the amount of basic income tax calculated.

Ontario small business deduction

The deduction reduces the Ontario basic income tax of a corporation that was a CCPC throughout the tax year. It is calculated by multiplying the corporation's Ontario small business income for the tax year by the small business deduction rate (7%) for the year, resulting in a lower tax rate of 4.5%.

For tax years ending after May 1, 2014, the Ontario small business deduction is being phased out for CCPCs (including associated corporations) with taxable capital employed in Canada of more than $10 million in the previous tax year. It is completely eliminated when the taxable capital is $15 million or more in the previous tax year. This change is prorated for tax years that straddle May 1, 2014.

Calculate a corporation's Ontario small business income for the tax year by multiplying its Ontario domestic factor by the least of the following amounts:

- the income from an active business carried on in Canada (amount on line 400 of the T2 return);
- the federal taxable income, less adjustment for foreign tax credit (amount on line 405 of the T2 return); or
- the reduced federal business limit on line 425 from which you deduct the amount of the business limit you assigned under subsection 125(3.2) (amount on line 427 of the T2 return).

Note

Ontario small business income cannot exceed Ontario taxable income.

The corporation's Ontario domestic factor is the ratio of the corporation's Ontario taxable income to the corporation's taxable income earned in all provinces and territories.

You can use Part 3 of Schedule 500, Ontario Corporation Tax Calculation, to calculate the deduction. Schedule 500 is a worksheet and does not have to be filed with your return.

On line 402 of Schedule 5, enter the small business deduction amount.

Ontario additional tax re Crown royalties

Note

As of April 23, 2015, to harmonize with the federal government and other provinces, the additional tax on Crown royalties and the Ontario resource tax credit are eliminated and replaced with a deduction for royalties and mining taxes. The credit and the tax are calculated on a prorated basis for tax years that include April 23, 2015.

File a completed Schedule 504, Ontario Resource Tax Credit and Ontario Additional Tax re Crown Royalties, with the return. For more information, see the section "Ontario resource tax credit" on page 90.

On line 274 of Schedule 5, enter the amount of the additional tax re Crown royalties.

Ontario transitional tax debits and credits

The Ontario transitional tax debits and credits provide a transition from the Corporations Tax Act (Ontario) for corporations with different income tax attributes for federal and Ontario purposes.

For tax years ending before 2009, a corporation's income and taxable income for Ontario purposes are determined based on its Ontario tax pools (for example, the undepreciated capital cost of depreciable property) under the Corporations Tax Act (Ontario).

For tax years ending after 2008, the corporation's income and taxable income for Ontario purposes are determined based on its federal tax pools under the Taxation Act, 2007 (Ontario).

Where the corporation's federal tax pools exceed its Ontario tax pools, the corporation has a transitional tax debit. A specified corporation subject to the Ontario transitional tax debit is generally required to pay additional Ontario corporate income tax over a five-year period beginning with its first tax year ending after 2008.

Conversely, where the corporation's Ontario tax pools exceeded its federal tax pools, the corporation had a transitional tax credit. A specified corporation was generally entitled to a transitional tax credit over a five-year period beginning with its first tax year ending after 2008. You can no longer claim this credit.

A specified corporation is defined under subsection 46(5) of the Taxation Act, 2007 (Ontario).

Complete Schedule 506, Ontario Transitional Tax Debits and Credits, to calculate the corporation's transitional tax debits. Use Schedule 507, Ontario Transitional Tax Debits and Credits Calculation, to determine the amounts to enter in Part 3 of Schedule 506.

File Schedule 506 with the return. Schedule 507 does not have to be filed with the return.

On line 276 of Schedule 5, enter the total transitional tax debits.

Ontario corporate minimum tax

The Ontario corporate minimum tax payable is equal to the amount by which the corporate minimum tax exceeds the Ontario corporate income tax.

A corporation is subject to corporate minimum tax if its total assets are $50 million or more and its total revenue is $100 million or more except if the corporation was, throughout the tax year:

- a corporation exempt from income tax under section 149 of the federal Income Tax Act;
- a mortgage investment corporation;
- a deposit insurance corporation under subsection 137.1(5) of the federal Income Tax Act;
- a congregation or business agency to which section 143 of the federal Income Tax Act applies;
- an investment corporation; or
- a mutual fund corporation.

The corporate minimum tax rate is 2.7%.

In determining if the total assets or total revenue exceeds the limits, a corporation must include its share of the total assets and total revenue of a partnership in which it has an interest, any associated foreign or Canadian corporation, and any associated corporation's share of a partnership. If a corporation is associated it must complete and file Schedule 511, Ontario Corporate Minimum Tax – Total Assets and Revenue for Associated Corporations, to report the total assets and total revenue of all the associated corporations.

File Schedule 510, Ontario Corporate Minimum Tax, with your T2 return if:

- the corporation is subject to corporate minimum tax for the tax year (Part 1 of the schedule);

- the corporation is not subject to corporate minimum tax in the year, but is deducting a corporate minimum tax credit or has a corporate minimum tax credit carryforward (see page 91), corporate minimum tax loss carryforward, or current year corporate minimum tax loss (Parts 4 to 8 of the schedule); or
- the corporation has special additional tax on life insurance corporations payable in the year even if it is not subject to corporate minimum tax for the tax year (Part 4 of Schedule 510, and Schedule 512, Ontario Special Additional Tax on Life Insurance Corporations [SAT]).

Corporate minimum tax is based on the adjusted net income of a corporation. The adjusted net income is a corporation's net income calculated in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles or the International Financial Reporting Standards, with various adjustments. The adjustments are reported in Part 2 of Schedule 510.

Accounting gains reported in the year from corporation reorganizations that are deferred for income tax purposes are deductible when calculating adjusted net income.

Accounting gains reported in the year on the transfer of property under section 85, section 85.1, section 97, subsection 13(4), subsection 14(6) and/or section 44 are deductible when calculating adjusted net income. An election is required in order to claim this deduction. We will consider a corporation to have filed an election (and to not need to file another document) if it reports the deduction and has filed the election(s) required for corporate income tax purposes.

In addition, certain unrealized mark-to-market gains/losses and foreign currency gains/losses on assets that are not required to be included in computing income for income tax purposes are not included in adjusted net income. For additional information see Ontario Regulation 37/09.

File a completed Schedule 510 with your return and, if applicable, Schedule 511.

On line 278 of Schedule 5, enter the amount of the corporate minimum tax.

Corporate minimum tax loss carryforward

A corporate minimum tax loss earned in a tax year ending before March 23, 2007, may be carried forward 10 years. A loss earned in a tax year ending after March 22, 2007, may be carried forward 20 years.

A corporate minimum tax loss may be transferred to a successor corporation on an amalgamation under section 87 that occurred before March 22, 2007. After March 21, 2007, only losses from predecessors who are not controlled by predecessors in the amalgamated group can be transferred. On a vertical amalgamation of a parent and subsidiary corporations occurring after March 21, 2007, only the loss from the parent may be transferred to the successor. The subsidiary's loss may not be transferred to the parent.

A corporate minimum tax loss may be transferred to a parent corporation on a winding-up of its subsidiary under subsection 88(1) completed before March 22, 2007.

The subsidiary's loss may not be transferred to a parent corporation on any winding-up completed after March 21, 2007.

Calculate the carry-forward amount in Part 7 of Schedule 510, Ontario Corporate Minimum Tax.

Ontario special additional tax on life insurance corporations

A life insurance corporation carrying on business in Ontario at any time in the tax year is subject to the Ontario special additional tax on life insurance corporations.

The special additional tax payable for a tax year is equal to the amount by which:

- 1.25% of the corporation's taxable paid-up capital multiplied by the number of days in the tax year divided by 365 exceeds

- the total of the corporation's Ontario corporate income tax and corporate minimum tax payable for the year.

Use Schedule 512, Ontario Special Additional Tax on Life Insurance Corporations (SAT), to calculate the tax payable.

The special additional tax paid for a tax year is added to the corporation's corporate minimum tax credit carryforward. This credit may be deducted to reduce Ontario corporate income tax payable in future years. See "Ontario Corporate Minimum Tax Credit" on page 91 for more information. Enter the special additional tax payable for the tax year in Part 4 of Schedule 510, Ontario Corporate Minimum Tax.

Life insurance corporations that are subject to the special additional tax and related, at the end of the tax year, to another life insurance corporation carrying on business in Canada must use Schedule 513, Agreement Among Related Life Insurance Corporations (Ontario), to allocate the capital allowance among the members of the related group.

File Schedule 512 and, if applicable, Schedule 513, with your return.

On line 280 of Schedule 5, enter the amount of special additional tax payable.

Ontario political contributions tax credit

Effective January 1, 2017, this credit is eliminated for corporations. They have up to 20 years to claim their unused contributions.

You can claim a tax credit on contributions made to Ontario registered parties, registered constituency associations, or registered candidates as defined under the Ontario Election Finances Act.

Generally, this non-refundable credit is calculated by multiplying the basic tax rate (see page 87) by the amount of Ontario political contributions, up to an annual maximum indexed according to the Election Finances Act. The credit is effective for tax years ending after December 31, 2008. It replaces the previous deduction for political contributions administered by the province.

You can carry forward unused contributions, including those from pre-2009 tax years, for up to 20 years. There are no carry-back provisions.

You do not have to file official receipts with your return. However, keep them in case we ask for them later. We can only accept photocopies if the issuer certifies them as true copies.

File a completed Schedule 525, Ontario Political Contributions Tax Credit, with your return.

On line 415 of Schedule 5, enter the amount of the credit you are claiming.

Ontario resource tax credit

Note

As of April 23, 2015, to harmonize with the federal government and other provinces, the Ontario resource tax credit and the additional tax on Crown royalties are eliminated and replaced with a deduction for royalties and mining taxes. You can carry forward unexpired unused Ontario resource tax credits for the first five tax years beginning after April 23, 2015. The credit and the tax are calculated on a prorated basis for tax years that include April 23, 2015.

The Ontario resource tax credit and the Ontario additional tax re Crown royalties are based on the corporation's:

- notional resource allowance for the year, as determined in subsection 7(3) of Ontario Regulation 37/09 to the Taxation Act, 2007;
- adjusted Crown royalties for the year, as defined in subsection 36(2) of the Taxation Act, 2007 (Ontario); and
- Ontario allocation factor, as defined in subsection 1(1) of the Taxation Act, 2007 (Ontario).

The Ontario resource tax credit is used to offset Ontario corporate income tax otherwise payable. Unused amounts (the resource tax credit balance at the end of the year) can be carried forward to the following year.

Complete Schedule 504, Ontario Resource Tax Credit and Ontario Additional Tax re Crown Royalties, if the corporation:

- has a permanent establishment in Ontario at any time in the tax year;
- is not exempt from corporate income tax;

and

- owns a Canadian resource property as defined in subsection 66(15) of the federal Income Tax Act; or
- produces in Canada petroleum, natural gas, related hydrocarbons, coal, sulphur, base or precious metals, certain minerals, or iron to the pellet stage from an oil or gas well, a mine, or tar sands in Canada;

and

- earned adjusted resource profits for the year and has a notional resource allowance for the year as determined in subsection 7(3) of Ontario Regulation 37/09 to the Taxation Act, 2007; or

- paid or incurred an adjusted Crown royalty for the year as defined in subsection 36(2) of the Taxation Act, 2007 (Ontario).

Ontario credit union tax reduction

The Ontario credit union tax reduction allows credit unions a special deduction from income tax otherwise payable. It is designed to reduce their overall income tax rate to the same net rate paid by small business corporations that claim the Ontario small business deduction.

To be eligible to claim the Ontario credit union tax reduction, the credit union must:

- have been a credit union throughout the tax year;
- have had a permanent establishment in Ontario at any time in the tax year; and
- have Ontario taxable income in the year.

You can use Part 6 of Schedule 500, Ontario Corporation Tax Calculation, to calculate the Ontario credit union tax reduction. Schedule 500 is a worksheet and does not have to be filed with your return.

Ontario research and development tax credit

You can claim this credit if you have a permanent establishment in Ontario and you had eligible expenditures for scientific research and experimental development carried out in Ontario.

An eligible expenditure is:

- an expenditure attributable to a permanent establishment in Ontario of a corporation;

- a qualified expenditure for the purposes of section 127 of the federal Income Tax Act for scientific research and experimental development carried on in Ontario; and
- reduced by government assistance, non-government assistance or contract payments received, entitled to be received or reasonably expected to be received.

The amount of the non-refundable credit is equal to 4.5% of eligible expenditures incurred by a corporation in a tax year.

For eligible expenditures incurred in tax years that end on or after June 1, 2016, the rate of the Ontario research and development tax credit decreases from 4.5% to 3.5%. The rate reduction is prorated for tax years straddling May 31, 2016.

The credit may be applied to reduce Ontario corporate income tax that you would otherwise have to pay. An unused credit can be carried back 3 years and can be carried forward 20 years.

Only corporations that are not exempt from Ontario corporate income tax and that have no exempt income can claim the credit.

To claim the credit, file a completed Schedule 508, Ontario Research and Development Tax Credit, with your return. Also attach completed copies of form T661, Scientific Research and Experimental Development Expenditures, and Schedule 31, Investment Tax Credit - Corporations.

If the corporation is a member of a partnership and is allocated a portion of the credit as provided for in section 40 of the Taxation Act, 2007 (Ontario), attach a schedule showing the partnership's calculation.

Ontario corporate minimum tax credit

The Ontario corporate minimum tax credit that may be deducted from Ontario corporate income tax payable for the tax year is equal to the least of:

- the corporate minimum tax credit available for the tax year;

- the Ontario corporate income tax payable (before the corporate minimum tax credit) minus the greater of the corporate minimum tax after foreign tax credit deduction and gross special additional tax on life insurance corporations for the tax year; and
- the Ontario corporate income tax payable (before the corporate minimum tax credit) minus the total refundable tax credits for the tax year.

The minimum tax credit carryforward at the beginning of the tax year is equal to the minimum tax and special additional tax paid in previous tax years less any minimum tax credit previously deducted or expired. Only special additional tax paid in a tax year ending after 2008 is included.

The minimum tax credits attributable to tax years ending after March 22, 2007, can be carried forward for 20 years.

For tax years ending after 2008, the carryforward of minimum tax credits attributable to tax years ending before March 23, 2007, is extended from 10 to 20 years if the credit did not otherwise expire before the beginning of the corporation's first tax year ending after 2008.

Ontario qualifying environmental trust tax credit

A corporation that is the beneficiary of a qualifying environmental trust located in Ontario can claim a qualifying environmental trust tax credit on income that is subject to tax under Part XII.4 of the federal Income Tax Act.

The amount of the tax credit is the corporation's share of the qualifying environmental trust tax paid by the trust.

The qualifying environmental trust will issue a letter to the corporation that is a beneficiary.

The credit is fully refundable but must first be applied against taxes payable.

You do not have to file the letter with your return. However, keep it in case we ask for it later.

On line 450 of Schedule 5, enter the amount of the credit you are claiming.

Ontario co-operative education tax credit

You can claim this credit if you are a corporation that provided a qualifying work placement at a permanent establishment in Ontario for a student enrolled in a qualifying post-secondary co-operative education program.

To be a qualifying work placement, the work placement must meet all of the following conditions:

- the student must perform employment duties for a corporation under a qualifying co-operative education program;
- the placement must be developed or approved by an eligible educational institution as a suitable learning situation;
- the terms of the placement must require the student to engage in productive work;
- the placement must be for a period of at least 10 consecutive weeks except, in the case of an internship program, the placement cannot be less than 8 consecutive months and not more than 16 consecutive months;
- the corporation must supervise and evaluate the job performance of the student;
- the institution must monitor the student's performance in the placement;
- the institution must certify the placement as a qualifying work placement; and
- the student must be paid for the work performed.

The credit is equal to an eligible percentage (25% to 30%) of the eligible expenditures incurred by the corporation for a qualifying work placement.

The maximum credit for each qualifying work placement is $3,000.

Eligible expenditures are:

- salaries and wages (including taxable benefits) paid or payable to a student in a qualifying work placement; or
- fees paid or payable to an employment agency for the provision of services performed by the student in a qualifying work placement.

Keep a copy of the letter of certification from the eligible educational institution in Ontario to support your claim. The letter of certification must contain the name of the student, the employer, the institution, the term of the work placement, and the name/discipline of the qualifying co-operative education program.

To claim the credit, file a completed Schedule 550, Ontario Co-operative Education Tax Credit, with your return. For more details, see the schedule.

On line 452 of Schedule 5, enter the amount of the refundable credit you are claiming.

Ontario apprenticeship training tax credit

You can claim this refundable credit if you are a corporation that provided a qualifying apprenticeship at a permanent establishment in Ontario for a student enrolled in a qualifying skilled trade.

To be a qualifying apprenticeship, the apprenticeship must meet the following conditions:

- the apprenticeship must be in a qualifying skilled trade approved by the Ministry of Training, Colleges and Universities (Ontario) as well as designated by the Ontario minister of Finance; and
- the corporation and the apprentice must be participating in an apprenticeship program in which the training agreement has been registered under the Ontario College of Trades and Apprenticeship Act, 2009 or the Apprenticeship and Certification Act, 1998 or in which the contract of apprenticeship has been registered under the Trades Qualification and Apprenticeship Act.

A list of qualifying skilled trades is available in the Ontario Ministry of Finance's publication called Apprenticeship Training Tax Credit at fin.gov.on.ca/publication/apprenticeship-training-tax-credit-details-en.pdf.

For eligible expenditures incurred for a qualifying apprenticeship starting after April 23, 2015, the general rate of this credit is 25%. The rate for small businesses (with salaries or wages of $400,000 or less per year) is 30%. The maximum credit for a qualifying apprenticeship is $5,000 per year, to a maximum of $15,000 over the first 36 months of the apprenticeship program.

Previously, the general rate was 35% and the rate for small businesses was 45%. The maximum credit for a qualifying apprenticeship was $10,000 per year to a maximum of $40,000 over the first 48 months of the apprenticeship program.

Eligible expenditures are:

- salaries and wages (including taxable benefits) paid to an apprentice in a qualifying apprenticeship; or
- fees paid to an employment agency for the provision of services performed by an apprentice in a qualifying apprenticeship.

Keep a copy of the training agreement or contract of apprenticeship to support your claim. If you have lost or misplaced this document, request a copy from the apprentice or from the Ontario Ministry of Training, Colleges and Universities (MTCU) if you are an original party to the contract.

If you are employing an apprentice who previously registered a contract with the MTCU, you must get a copy of the original contract of apprenticeship or training agreement from the apprentice, or get written consent from the apprentice before contacting the MTCU.

Note

If you are unable to provide this documentation when we ask for it, your claim may be denied

To claim the credit, file a completed Schedule 552, Ontario Apprenticeship Training Tax Credit, with your return. For more details, see the schedule.

Ontario computer animation and special effects tax credit

The Ontario computer animation and special effects tax credit is a refundable tax credit equal to 18% of the qualifying labour expenditures for eligible computer animation and special effects activities, incurred by a qualifying corporation in a tax year for an eligible production after April 23, 2015. The rate was previously 20%.

For expenditures incurred after April 23, 2015, and before August 1, 2016, the rate of the credit is still 20% if all of the following criteria are satisfied:

- Before April 24, 2015, the corporation entered into at least one written agreement for a qualifying labour expenditure for the eligible production with a person that deals at arm's length with the corporation and any of the following criteria are satisfied:
 - the agreement is for digital animation or digital visual effects for use in the eligible production;
 - the agreement shows, in the opinion of the minister of Tourism, Culture and Sport, that the corporation has made a significant commitment to production activities related to the eligible production in Ontario.
- Before August 1, 2015, the corporation notified the Ontario Media Development Corporation in writing of its intent to apply for a certificate of eligibility for the eligible production.
- Before August 1, 2016, the corporation applied to the Ontario Media Development Corporation for a certificate of eligibility for the eligible production.
- Principal photography or key animation for the production started before August 1, 2015.

Qualifying labour expenditures equal the corporation's Ontario labour expenditures for the tax year less any assistance reasonably related to these expenditures, other than excluded government assistance. The Ontario labour expenditures are the sum of the salaries and wages and the remuneration incurred in a tax year that are directly attributable to computer animation and special effects activities performed in Ontario and paid to certain persons or entities, within 60 days of the end of the tax year.

To be eligible for the credit, a corporation must meet certain criteria, including:

- be a Canadian corporation;

- perform eligible computer animation and special effects activities for the eligible production at a permanent establishment in Ontario for the tax year;
- not be exempt from tax under Part III of the Taxation Act, 2007 (Ontario) for the tax year;
- not be controlled directly or indirectly, at any time in the tax year, in any way, by one or more corporations, all or part of whose taxable income is exempt from tax under section 57 of the Corporations Tax Act (Ontario) or Part III of the Taxation Act, 2007 (Ontario);
- not be a prescribed labour-sponsored venture capital corporation at any time in the tax year; and
- for productions starting after April 23, 2015, receive the Ontario production services tax credit or the Ontario film and television tax credit.

Before claiming the credit, send a completed Ontario Media Development Corporation (OMDC) application form to the OMDC. If the production is eligible, the OMDC will issue a certificate indicating the estimated amount of the tax credit. Only one certificate of eligibility is issued for all of the eligible productions for the tax year.

Note

You must apply online to the OMDC for a certificate of eligibility.

To claim the credit, file the following with your return for the year:

- a certificate of eligibility (or copy) issued by the OMDC; and
- a completed Schedule 554, Ontario Computer Animation and Special Effects Tax Credit, for each eligible production.

If you file your return electronically, send a paper copy of the certificate of eligibility issued by the OMDC to the appropriate Film Services Unit (FSU). The location of the production corporation's books and records usually determines which FSU will handle the review of your claim. A list of FSUs is available at cra.gc.ca/tx/nnrstdnts/flm/mm-eng.html.

Note

If the books and records are maintained outside Canada your claim will be reviewed by the FSU located at the Fraser Valley and Northern tax services office.

If you file a paper return, send the return and required attachments to your tax centre. A list of the tax centres is available at cra.gc.ca/taxcentre.

Ontario film and television tax credit

The Ontario film and television tax credit is a refundable tax credit based on the qualifying labour expenditures incurred by a qualifying production company for eligible Ontario productions.

If the eligible Ontario production is a first-time production, you can claim a credit equal to:

- 40% of the labour expenditures, for the first $240,000 for the production and 35% on the balance; and
- an additional 10% of the labour expenditures if the production is a regional Ontario production.

If the eligible Ontario production is a small first-time production, you can claim a credit equal to the lesser of:

- the labour expenditures; and
- $20,000 if the production is a regional Ontario production or $15,000 if it is not a regional Ontario production. These amounts are reduced by any Ontario film and television tax credits previously received for the production.

The total labour expenditure for a small first-time production cannot be more than $50,000 at the time the production is completed.

If the eligible Ontario production is other than a first-time production, you can claim a credit equal to:

- 35% of labour expenditures; and
- an additional 10% of labour expenditures if the production is a regional Ontario production.

The qualifying labour expenditures equal the corporation's Ontario labour expenditures less assistance reasonably related to these expenditures (some exceptions apply—see Schedule 556). The qualifying labour expenditures are determined without reference to any equity investment held by a person prescribed under section 1106(10) of the federal regulations. The Ontario labour expenditures are the sum of the salaries and wages and remuneration incurred in a tax year that are directly attributable to the eligible Ontario production, performed in Ontario and paid to certain persons or entities, within 60 days of the end of the tax year.

To be eligible for the credit, a corporation must meet certain criteria, including:

- be a Canadian-controlled corporation throughout the tax year as determined under sections 26 to 28 of the Investment Canada Act;
- have a permanent establishment in Ontario throughout the tax year;
- be primarily engaged in the carrying on of a Canadian film or video production business through a permanent establishment in Canada in the tax year;
- not be exempt from tax under Part III of the Taxation Act, 2007 (Ontario) or Part I of the federal Income Tax Act for the tax year;
- not be controlled, at any time in the tax year, directly or indirectly, in any way, by one or more persons, all or part of whose taxable income was exempt from tax under Part I of the federal Income Tax Act; and
- not be a prescribed labour-sponsored venture capital corporation at any time in the tax year.

You cannot claim the Ontario film and television tax credit if you claim the Ontario production services tax credit for that same production for any tax year.

Before claiming the credit, send a completed Ontario Media Development Corporation (OMDC) application form to the OMDC. If the production is eligible, the OMDC will issue a certificate indicating the estimated amount of the tax credit.

Note

You must apply online to the OMDC for a certificate of eligibility.

To claim the credit, file the following with your return for the year for each eligible production:

- a certificate of eligibility (or copy) issued by the OMDC; and
- a completed Schedule 556, Ontario Film and Television Tax Credit.

If you file your return electronically, send a paper copy of the certificate of eligibility issued by the OMDC to the appropriate Film Services Unit (FSU). The location of the production corporation's books and records usually determines which FSU will handle the review of your claim. A list of FSUs is available at cra.gc.ca/tx/nrsdnts/flm/mm-eng.html.

Note

If the books and records are maintained outside Canada your claim will be reviewed by the FSU located at the Fraser Valley and Northern tax services office.

If you file a paper return, send the return and required attachments to your tax centre. A list of the tax centres is available at cra.gc.ca/taxcentre.

Ontario production services tax credit

The Ontario production services tax credit is a refundable tax credit based on qualifying production expenditures incurred for eligible productions by a qualifying corporation in a tax year.

The credit is equal to 21.5% of qualifying production expenditures incurred after April 23, 2015, including qualifying labour expenditures as well as the purchase or rental of qualifying tangible properties, such as equipment and studio rentals. The rate was previously 25%.

For expenditures incurred after April 23, 2015, and before August 1, 2016, the rate of the credit is still 25% if all of the following criteria are satisfied:

- Before April 24, 2015, the corporation entered into at least one written agreement for a qualifying production expenditure for the production with a person that deals at arm's length with the corporation and any of the following criteria are satisfied:
 - the agreement is for the services of a producer, a director, a key cast member, a production crew or a post-production crew;

- the agreement is for a studio located in Ontario, or a location in Ontario;
- the agreement shows, in the opinion of the minister of Tourism, Culture and Sport, that the corporation has made a significant commitment to production activities in Ontario.

■ Before August 1, 2015, the corporation applied to the Ontario Media Development Corporation for a certificate of eligibility for the production.

■ Principal photography or key animation for the production started before August 1, 2015.

The qualifying production expenditures include the sum of:

- eligible wage expenditures,
- eligible service contract expenditures,
- eligible tangible property expenditures, and
- reimbursements to the parent company of eligible wage and service contract expenditures; less

- assistance reasonably related to these expenditures (some exceptions apply—see Schedule 558).

The eligible expenditures incurred in the tax year must be reasonable and directly attributable to the eligible production, performed in Ontario and paid to certain persons or entities, within 60 days of the end of the tax year.

For tax years beginning after April 23, 2015, Ontario labour expenditures (including labour under a service contract) must amount to at least 25% of the total expenditures.

Otherwise, the corporation's qualifying production expenditure limit for a tax year cannot be more than four times the Ontario labour expenditures (including labour under a service contract). Expenditures incurred through non-arm's length contracts are limited to expenditures that would have been eligible if incurred directly by the corporation. For expenditures incurred after June 30, 2009, only expenditures incurred after the final script stage to the end of the post-production stage are eligible for the credit.

To be eligible for the credit, a corporation must meet certain criteria, including:

- be primarily engaged, in the tax year, in the carrying on of a film or video production business, or a film or video production services business, through a permanent establishment in Ontario;
- not be exempt from tax, for the tax year, under Part III of the Taxation Act, 2007 (Ontario) or Part I of the Income Tax Act;
- not, at any time in the tax year, be controlled directly or indirectly, in any way, by one or more persons, all or part of whose taxable income was exempt from tax under Part I of the Income Tax Act; and
- not be a prescribed labour-sponsored venture capital corporation at any time in the tax year.

You cannot claim the Ontario production services tax credit if you claim the Ontario film and television tax credit for that same production for any tax year.

Before claiming the credit, send a completed Ontario Media Development Corporation (OMDC) application form to the OMDC. If the production is eligible, the OMDC will issue a certificate indicating the estimated amount of the tax credit.

Note

You must apply online to the OMDC for a certificate of eligibility.

To claim the credit, file the following with your return for the year for each eligible production:

- a certificate of eligibility (or copy) issued by the OMDC; and
- a completed Schedule 558, Ontario Production Services Tax Credit.

If you file your return electronically, send a paper copy of the certificate of eligibility issued by the OMDC to the appropriate Film Services Unit (FSU). The location of the production corporation's books and records usually determines which FSU will handle the review of your claim. Ontario interactive digital media tax credit

The Ontario interactive digital media tax credit is a refundable tax credit based on qualifying expenditures incurred for eligible products and eligible digital games by a qualifying corporation during a tax year.

For expenditures incurred after April 23, 2015, the credit focuses on entertainment products and educational products for children under 12. Certain products, such as search engines, real estate databases, or news and public affairs products are excluded.

The rules that exclude promotional products have been strengthened. Products that were started before April 24, 2015, and that are no longer eligible for the credit are eligible for relief for expenditures incurred before April 24, 2015.

For products that are certified after April 23, 2015, including those waiting for certification, 80% of total labour costs for eligible products have to be attributable to qualifying wages and qualifying remuneration paid to individuals or to corporations that carry on a personal services business. As well, 25% of total labour costs for eligible products have to be attributable to qualifying wages of employees of the qualifying corporation. This new 80/25 test does not apply to large digital game corporations (qualifying digital game corporations and specialized digital game corporations).

The credit applies to the following situations:

- all qualifying corporations that develop and market their own eligible products (non-specified products) are eligible to claim a credit equal to 40% of expenditures;
- qualifying corporations that develop eligible products under a fee-for-service arrangement (specified products) are eligible to claim a credit equal to 35% of expenditures;
- a 35% credit is available to:
 - qualifying digital game corporations that incur a minimum of $1 million of eligible Ontario labour expenditures over a 36-month period for fee-for-service work done in Ontario for an eligible digital game; and
 - specialized digital game corporations that incur at least $1 million of Ontario labour expenses per year in developing eligible digital games. A specialized digital game corporation generally would have at least 80% of Ontario payroll or 90% of annual gross revenues directly attributable to developing digital games.

For all eligible products, qualifying expenditures include Ontario salaries and wages incurred in a tax year that are directly attributable to the eligible product and paid within 60 days of the end of the tax year.

For eligible products that are not specified products, the qualifying expenditures also include marketing and distribution expenditures (maximum $100,000 per eligible product for all tax years) incurred in a tax year that are directly attributable to the product and paid to certain persons and entities within 60 days of the end of the tax year.

The amount of eligible remuneration expenditures that a corporation can claim is 100%. It includes amounts paid to other taxable Canadian corporations for services rendered by its employees. Corporations that develop specified products are also able to claim these expenditures.

Qualifying expenditures are reduced by any government assistance reasonably related to these expenditures (some exceptions apply—see Schedule 560).

You cannot claim the Ontario interactive digital media tax credit if you claim the Ontario computer animation and special effects tax credit, the Ontario film and television tax credit or the Ontario production services tax credit for the same expenditure for any tax year.

To be eligible for the credit, a corporation must meet certain criteria, including:

- be a Canadian corporation;
- have completed development on or developed an eligible interactive digital media product at a permanent establishment in Ontario, as described in subsection 93(16) of the Taxation Act, 2007 (Ontario);
- not be exempt from tax under Part III of the Taxation Act, 2007 (Ontario) for the tax year;
- not be controlled directly or indirectly, in any way, at any time in the tax year, by one or more corporations, all or part of whose taxable income was exempt from tax under section 57 of the Corporations Tax Act (Ontario) or Part III of the Taxation Act, 2007 (Ontario); and

- not be a prescribed labour-sponsored venture capital corporation at any time in the tax year.

In addition, a qualifying digital game corporation or a specialized digital game corporation must also meet the following criteria:

- be a corporation that carries on through a permanent establishment in Ontario a business that includes developing digital games;
- not be a corporation the primary activity of which is to provide the services of a single individual and all the issued and outstanding shares of the capital stock of which are owned by that individual.

For more information see Schedule 560, Ontario Interactive Digital Media Tax Credit.

Before claiming the credit, send a completed Ontario Media Development Corporation (OMDC) application form to the OMDC. If the product or digital game is eligible, the OMDC will issue a certificate indicating the estimated amount of the tax credit. Only one certificate of eligibility is issued for all of the eligible products or digital games for the tax year.

You have to apply for this certificate by the later of 18 months after the end of the tax year in which development of the eligible product was completed or May 15, 2017.

Note

You must apply online to the OMDC for a certificate of eligibility.

To claim the credit, file the following with your return for the year:

- a certificate of eligibility (or copy) issued by the OMDC; and
- a completed Schedule 560, Ontario Interactive Digital Media Tax Credit, for each eligible product or eligible digital game.

If you file your return electronically, send a paper copy of the certificate of eligibility issued by the OMDC to the appropriate Film Services Unit (FSU). The location of the production corporation's books and records usually determines which FSU will handle the review of your claim. A list of FSUs is available at cra.gc.ca/tx/nrsdnts/flm/mm-eng.html.

Ontario sound recording tax credit

This credit is ended.

Expenditures incurred after April 23, 2015, will only qualify for the credit if:

- the eligible sound recording started before April 23, 2015;
- the expenditures were incurred before May 1, 2016; and
- the corporation did not receive an amount from the Ontario Music Fund in respect of the expenditures.

The Ontario sound recording tax credit is a refundable tax credit equal to 20% of the qualifying expenditures incurred during a tax year by an eligible sound recording company. The expenditures must be incurred by the corporation within 24 months from the date that the first eligible expenditure was incurred for the eligible Canadian sound recording.

Qualifying expenditures include expenditures incurred primarily in Ontario in:

- the production of the recording;
- the production of the qualifying music video; and
- the marketing of the recording.

Qualifying expenditures also include 50% of the last two types of expenditures if incurred outside Ontario.

These qualifying expenditures are reduced by any assistance reasonably related to these expenditures.

Touring costs incurred in connection with a concert or live performance are not a qualifying expenditure.

To be eligible for the credit, a corporation must meet certain criteria, including:

- be a Canadian-controlled corporation throughout the tax year under sections 26 to 28 of the Investment Canada Act;
- be primarily engaged in the carrying on of a sound recording business primarily through a permanent establishment in Ontario;
- have earned less than 50% of its taxable income in the previous tax year outside Ontario; and
- not be exempt from tax under Part III of the Taxation Act, 2007 (Ontario).

Before claiming the credit, send a completed Ontario Media Development Corporation (OMDC) application form to the OMDC. If the sound recording is eligible, the OMDC will issue a certificate of eligibility.

Note

You must apply online to the OMDC for a certificate of eligibility.

To claim the credit, file the following with your return for the year for each eligible Canadian sound recording:

- a certificate of eligibility (or copy) issued by the OMDC; and
- a completed Schedule 562, Ontario Sound Recording Tax Credit. For more details, see the schedule.

If you file your return electronically, send a paper copy of the certificate of eligibility issued by the OMDC to the appropriate Film Services Unit (FSU). Ontario book publishing tax credit

The Ontario book publishing tax credit is a refundable tax credit of 30% on the qualifying expenditures incurred during a tax year for an eligible literary work, by an Ontario book publishing company, up to a maximum credit of $30,000 per work.

Qualifying expenditures include the following expenditures the corporation incurred in publishing an eligible literary work:

- pre-production costs;
- marketing expenditures incurred 12 months before to 12 months after the date the literary work is published;
- 50% of the production costs;
- 100% of expenditures incurred that reasonably relate to preparing a literary work for publishing in one or more digital or electronic formats; and
- 50% of expenditures incurred that reasonably relate to transferring a prepared digital or electronic version of the literary work into or onto a form suitable for distribution.

The credit is available for any number of literary works by a Canadian author in an eligible category.

Qualifying expenditures are reduced by any assistance reasonably related to these expenditures.

To be eligible for the credit, a corporation must meet certain criteria, including:

- be a Canadian-controlled corporation throughout the tax year, as determined under sections 26 to 28 of the Investment Canada Act;
- carry on a book publishing business primarily through a permanent establishment in Ontario for the tax year;
- not be exempt from tax under Part III of the Taxation Act, 2007 (Ontario) for the tax year; and
- not be controlled by the author of the literary work, or by a person not dealing at arm's length with the author.

Before claiming the credit, send a completed Ontario Media Development Corporation (OMDC) application form to the OMDC. If the literary work is eligible, the OMDC will issue a certificate of eligibility.

Note

You must apply online to the OMDC for a certificate of eligibility.

To claim the credit, file the following with your return for the year for each literary work:

- a certificate of eligibility (or copy) issued by the OMDC; and
- a completed Schedule 564, Ontario Book Publishing Tax Credit.

If you file your return electronically, send a paper copy of the certificate of eligibility issued by the OMDC to the appropriate Film Services Unit (FSU). Ontario innovation tax credit

You are eligible to claim an Ontario innovation tax credit if you:

- had a permanent establishment in Ontario during the year;
- have carried on scientific research and experimental development (SR&ED) in Ontario during the year;
- are not exempt from tax under Part III of the Taxation Act, 2007 (Ontario);
- are eligible to claim a federal investment tax credit under section 127 of the federal Income Tax Act for the corporation's qualified expenditures; and
- have filed Form T661, Scientific Research and Experimental Development (SR&ED) Expenditures Claim, and Schedule 31, Investment Tax Credit – Corporations, in the tax year.

The credit is a 10% refundable tax credit based on the sum of the corporation's qualified expenditures incurred in Ontario and any eligible repayments.

For eligible expenditures incurred in tax years that end on or after June 1, 2016, the rate of the Ontario innovation tax credit decreases from 10% to 8%. The rate reduction is prorated for tax years straddling May 31, 2016.

The credit is available to a maximum annual expenditure limit of $3 million. Associated corporations must share in the $3 million expenditure limit.

The expenditure limit of $3 million begins to reduce when the federal taxable income of the corporation and its associated corporations for the previous tax year exceeds $500,000 and becomes nil at $800,000. The $3 million expenditure limit also begins to reduce when the specified capital amount of the corporation and its associated corporations for the previous tax year reaches $25 million and becomes nil at $50 million.

Qualified expenditures include 40% of capital expenditures incurred before 2014 and 100% of current expenditures.

Expenditure limit, qualified expenditure, and eligible repayments are defined in subsections 96(3.1), 96(8) and 96(12) of the Taxation Act, 2007 (Ontario).

File a completed Schedule 566, Ontario Innovation Tax Credit, with your return. See the schedule for more details.

Section 97, Taxation Act, 2007 (Ontario)

Ontario Ministry of Government and Consumer Services annual return

Ontario corporations and foreign business corporations licensed to carry on business in Ontario must file an Ontario Corporations Information Act Annual Return with the CRA within six months of the end of the tax year as follows:

- Every corporation that is incorporated, continued, or amalgamated in Ontario and subject to the Business Corporations Act or the Corporations Act, except for registered charities under the federal Income Tax Act, must file Schedule 546, Corporations Information Act Annual Return for Ontario Corporations.
- Every business corporation that is incorporated, continued, or amalgamated in a jurisdiction outside Canada with a licence under the Extra-Provincial Corporations Act to carry on business in Ontario must file Schedule 548, Corporations Information Act Annual Return for Foreign Business Corporations.

Note

The original amalgamating corporations that have since amalgamated and continued as one amalgamated corporation are NOT required to file a Corporations Information Act Annual Return. The Ministry of Government and Consumer Services (MGCS) cannot accept requests to update the corporate record for these corporations. The corporation resulting from the amalgamation has to file a Corporations Information Act Annual Return at the appropriate time.

File the completed Schedule 546 or 548 with the T2 return. If you have to file more than one tax return in a calendar year, file the annual return only with the first tax return.

The CRA will transmit the information on Schedules 546 and 548 to the MGCS. The MGCS is responsible for maintaining a public database of corporate information. It is the corporation's responsibility to ensure that the information on the public record is accurate and up to date.

To report changes to the name of a director/officer, or changes to both the address and date elected/appointed of a director/officer, complete two copies of Part 7 of Schedule 546 as follows:

- enter the director/officer information exactly as shown (incorrectly) on the public record, with a cease date; and
- photocopy and complete only Part 7 of Schedule 546 with the correct director/officer information.

Corporations that have to file Schedule 546 have the option of filing electronically with one of the service providers under contract with the Ontario Ministry of Government and Consumer Services, instead of filing it together with the T2 return.

Ontario specialty types

Any corporation carrying on business in Ontario through a permanent establishment must file Schedule 524, Ontario Specialty Types, to identify its specialty type if:

- the tax year is the first year after incorporation or an amalgamation; or
- there is a change to the specialty type.

Manitoba

The higher rate of Manitoba income tax is 12%.

Corporations may be eligible for a small business deduction to reduce all or part of the tax otherwise payable.

The lower rate of Manitoba income tax for small business is 0%.

The income eligible for the small business deduction rate is determined using the Manitoba business limit of $450,000. Before January 1, 2016, it was $425,000. The business limit is prorated for tax years that straddle January 1, 2016.

You can use Schedule 383, Manitoba Corporation Tax Calculation, to help you calculate your Manitoba tax before the application of credits. You do not have to file it with your return. See the schedule for more details.

On line 230 of Schedule 5, enter the amount of tax calculated.

Manitoba manufacturing investment tax credit

You can earn this 10% credit on the cost of qualified property you acquired before January 1, 2018, to reduce Manitoba tax payable.

This credit is 80% refundable and 20% non-refundable. These rates were 70% and 30% respectively for qualified property acquired before July 1, 2013.

Under subsection 7.2(7) of the Manitoba Income Tax Act, you can renounce, in whole or in part, the manufacturing investment tax credit earned in the current tax year.

You have to use the qualified property in Manitoba mainly for manufacturing or processing goods for sale or lease.

Qualifying property includes new and used buildings, machinery, and equipment made available for use in manufacturing or processing goods for sale or lease.

Starting in 2015, certain green energy equipment will be eligible for both the manufacturing investment tax credit and the green energy equipment tax credit (see page 104).

You can carry back an unused credit to the three previous tax years from the tax year in which you acquired the property. You can also carry forward the unused credit to the 10 tax years that follow the tax year in which you acquired the property.

To claim the credit, file a completed Schedule 381, Manitoba Manufacturing Investment Tax Credit no later than 12 months after your income tax return is due for the tax year in which the expenditures were incurred. For more details, see the schedule.

On line 605 of Schedule 5, enter the amount of the credit you are claiming.

Manitoba refundable manufacturing investment tax credit

The investment tax credit will first be applied to reduce the Manitoba corporation income tax payable. Then you can claim a part of the investment tax credit you are entitled to claim in a tax year as a refundable credit. The maximum refundable part is 80% of your investment tax credit (8% on the cost of qualified property). Before July 1, 2013, the refundable portion was 70%.

Note

The acquired date for purposes of this credit is the date that the property became available for use.

To claim the credit, file a completed Schedule 381, Manitoba Manufacturing Investment Tax Credit, no later than 12 months after your income tax return is due for the tax year in which the expenditures were incurred. For more details, see the schedule.

On line 621 of Schedule 5, enter the amount of the refundable credit you are claiming.

Manitoba research and development tax credit

You can claim this credit if you have a permanent establishment in Manitoba and you made eligible expenditures for research and development carried out in Manitoba.

The amount of the credit is equal to 20% of eligible expenditures. In addition to the corporation's eligible expenditures, a corporation may claim any repayments of government assistance that are related to eligible expenditures.

Apply the credit to reduce Manitoba tax that you would otherwise have to pay.

You can carry back an unused credit to the 3 previous tax years from the tax year that you made the expenditure. You can also carry forward the unused credit to the 20 tax years that follow the tax year in which you made the expenditure. It is 10 years for tax years that end before 2006.

The tax credit for research and development carried on in Manitoba under an eligible contract with a qualifying research institute is fully refundable. When eligible research and development is not undertaken under an eligible contract with an institute, 50% of the tax credit amount is refundable.

Note

Manitoba Finance posted on its website the list of Educational Institutions Potentially Eligible for Participation in SR&ED Refundable Manitoba R&D Tax Credit Program.

You can renounce the research and development tax credit for an eligible expenditure incurred during the year, in whole or in part, under subsection 7.3(7) of the Income Tax Act (Manitoba).

To claim the credit, file a completed Schedule 380, Manitoba Research and Development Tax Credit, with your return. You must identify the eligible expenditures no later than 12 months after your income tax return is due for the tax year in which the expenditures were incurred. For more details, see the schedule.

On line 606 of Schedule 5, enter the amount of the non-refundable credit you are claiming. On line 613 of Schedule 5, enter the amount of the refundable credit.

Manitoba paid work experience tax credit

The Manitoba paid work experience tax credit includes the following:

- youth work experience hiring incentive (25%, maximum $5,000), effective for eligible salary and wages earned after September 1, 2015;
- co-op student hiring incentive (15%, lifetime maximum $5,000);
- co-op graduate hiring incentive (15%, maximum $2,500);
- apprentice hiring incentive (15%, 20% for rural or northern early level, 25% for high school, maximum $5,000); and
- journeyperson hiring incentive (15%, maximum $5,000).

For rates and maximum amounts that apply to tax years ending before 2015, see the sections for each incentive below.

Employers self-assess salary and wages for qualifying employees based on the fiscal year, as long as the employee is progressing through their co-op or apprenticeship program.

The credit is fully refundable, but it must first be applied against total taxes payable.

To claim the credit, file a completed Schedule 384, Manitoba Paid Work Experience Tax Credit, with your return. For more details, see the schedule.

On line 622 of Schedule 5 enter the amount of the refundable credit you are claiming.

A corporation that is exempt under section 149 of the federal Income Tax Act is also eligible to claim this credit. Along with Schedule 384, the exempt corporation will also have to complete Schedule 5 and file a T2 return.

Youth work experience hiring incentive

Beginning September 1, 2015, you can claim this credit if you have been approved by the Province to provide paid work experience to an individual who has completed an approved high school course or training program.

The credit is equal to 25% of the eligible salary and wages paid to a qualifying youth, less government assistance, after September 1, 2015, up to a lifetime maximum of $5,000 per youth.

The eligible employment period of the youth must be completed by the end of the calendar year following the academic year that the youth completed the approved course.

Co-op student hiring incentive

You can claim this credit if you are an employer who provides a work placement for a student enrolled in a qualifying post-secondary co-operative education program.

The credit for each qualifying work placement is 15% of the salary and wages paid to the employee for work performed mainly in Manitoba, to a lifetime maximum of $5,000 per student, less government assistance.

For tax years ending before 2016, the credit for each qualifying work placement is the lesser of:

- $1,000; or
- 10% of the salary and wages paid to the employee for work performed mainly in Manitoba, less government assistance.

The credit will be nil if the student under the work placement has had five previous qualifying work placements.

The credit is fully refundable, but it must first be applied against total taxes payable.

For work placements that ended before March 7, 2006, the credit was non-refundable. Any remaining credit that has not expired can be carried forward 10 tax years that follow the tax year in which you earned the credit. Unused credits may be carried forward on amalgamation or wind-up. On line 603 of Schedule 5 enter the amount of the non-refundable credit you are carrying forward to the current year.

Co-op graduate hiring incentive

You can claim this credit if you are an employer that has hired co-op graduates in full-time employment in Manitoba. The students must have graduated from a recognized post-secondary co-operative education program in a field related to the employment.

The credit is equal to 15% of the net salary and wages paid to the graduate, less government assistance, in each of the first two full years of employment, to a maximum of $2,500 for each year, where the employment starts within 18 months of graduation.

For tax years ending before 2016, the rate is 5%.

Apprentice hiring incentive

You can claim this credit if you are an employer who hires high-school and post-secondary apprentices in Manitoba.

The maximum amount of the credit is $5,000 per apprentice per year. The rate of salary and wages is:

- 15%;
- 20% for employers of apprentices who normally reside outside of Winnipeg and who normally report to an employer's office in rural and northern Manitoba;
- 25% for employers of high school apprentices for tax years ending after 2015.

For employers of apprentices who complete a level 1 or 2 after 2012 and before 2015, the maximum amount of the credit is equal to:

- $3,000;
- $4,000 for rural and northern regions.

This component of the credit also covers employers eligible for the federal apprenticeship job creation tax credit, who will receive a top-up that is equal to the difference between this provincial credit and the federal credit.

For employers of apprentices who complete a level 3, 4, or 5 after 2012, and before 2015, the rate is 10%.

Journey person hiring incentive

You can claim this credit if you are an employer that has hired recent graduates of apprenticeship programs in full time employment in Manitoba. The journey person must have received their certificate of qualification in Canada in a field related to the employment.

The credit is equal to 15% of salary and wages paid to the journey person, less government assistance, in each of the first two full years of employment, up to a maximum of $5,000 for each year, where the employment starts within 18 months of certification.

For employers of journey persons who become newly certified after 2012 and before 2015, the rate of the credit is 10%.

Employment periods must be continuous and consecutive, but an employment period may be interrupted by a seasonal layoff of not more than three months.

Manitoba odour-control tax credit

You can earn this credit on eligible expenditures made before January 1, 2018, to reduce Manitoba income tax payable.

Eligible expenditures consist of the capital costs of depreciable capital properties that become available for use in the year and were acquired for preventing, reducing, or eliminating nuisance odours that arise or may arise from the use or production of organic waste.

You can earn this credit if odour control is a significant, but not necessarily your primary, purpose for acquiring the eligible capital property. The properties must be unused and must not have been acquired for any use by anyone before. Eligible expenditures are either prescribed by regulation or approved by the minister.

The credit is equal to 10% of the eligible expenditures.

For non-agricultural corporations, it is non-refundable.

You can carry back an unused credit to the 3 tax years before the tax year in which you earned the credit. You can also carry forward the unclaimed credit to the 10 tax years that follow the tax year in which you earned the credit. Unused credits may be carried forward on amalgamation or wind-up.

The corporation may be the beneficiary of a trust or a member of a partnership at the end of the trust's or partnership's tax year. If so, it may include its proportionate allocation or share of the trust/partnership's eligible expenditures in computing its odour-control tax credit.

You cannot claim this credit on eligible expenditures used in calculating any other credit.

You can renounce the odour-control tax credit in whole or in part.

Agricultural corporations are eligible for a refundable odour-control tax credit, in whole or in part. The credit is fully refundable to agricultural corporations effective June 16, 2011. For the 2013 tax year, this includes any amounts not previously claimed or renounced from the previous 10 years.

To claim the credit, file a completed Schedule 385, Manitoba Odour – Control Tax Credit, with your return. You can claim this credit no later than 12 months after your income tax return is due for the tax year in which the expenditures were incurred. For more details, see the schedule.

On line 607 of Schedule 5, enter the non-refundable amount of the credit you are claiming.

If you are an agricultural corporation, enter the refundable credit you are claiming on line 623 of Schedule 5.

Manitoba small business venture capital tax credit

You can claim this non-refundable tax credit if:

- you are a corporation that is not a prescribed venture capital corporation or labour-sponsored venture capital corporation under Part LXVII of the federal regulations; and
- you directly invested a minimum of $20,000 in a qualifying community enterprise, as defined in the regulations.

The credit, which was scheduled to expire December 31, 2016, is extended by three years to December 31, 2019.

	Credit rate	Annual and lifetime investment limit	Yearly maximum earned	Yearly maximum applicable
Shares issued after June 11, 2014	45%	$450,000	$202,500	$67,500
Shares issued before June 12, 2014	30%	$450,000	$135,000	$45,000

For eligible shares issued after July 30, 2015, the maximum number of employees an eligible small business corporation can have is increased from 50 to 100 full-time equivalent employees. The list of eligible business now includes non-traditional farming ventures and brew pubs.

The credit is equal to 45% of the amount invested to a lifetime maximum investment of $450,000. For eligible shares issued before June 12, 2014, the rate was 30%.

The annual investment limit is also $450,000 and the maximum amount of the tax credit that you can earn in a given year is $202,500. However, the maximum amount of the tax credit that you can apply against provincial tax in the year is $67,500, including any amounts carried back or carried forward. For eligible shares issued before June 12, 2014, these last two amounts were respectively $135,000 and $45,000.

This credit must be claimed against Manitoba tax otherwise payable. You can carry forward unused credits to the 10 following tax years or back to the 3 previous tax years.

The Province of Manitoba will issue a tax credit receipt for qualifying investments. If you file your T2 return, electronically, keep your receipt in case we ask for it later. Otherwise, file it with your paper T2 return.

To claim the credit, file a completed Schedule 387, Manitoba Small Business Venture Capital Tax Credit. See the schedule for more details.

On line 608 of Schedule 5, enter the amount of the credit you are claiming.

Manitoba cooperative development tax credit

Manitoba cooperatives and credit unions with a permanent establishment in Manitoba that make financial contributions before 2021 to a cooperative development fund are eligible for a tax credit.

The credit is equal to:

Contribution (C)	Tax credit (T)
\$10,000 or less	$T = C \times 3/4$
$10,001 to $30,000	$T = $7,500 + [(C - $10,000) \div 2]$
$30,001 to $50,000	$T = $17,500 + [(C - $30,000) \div 3]$
$50,001 or more	$T = $24,167$

The maximum amount of the refundable credit is $750. The maximum amount of the non-refundable credit is $23,417, for a total credit amount of $24,167.

You can carry back an unused credit to the 3 previous tax years. You can also carry forward the unused credit to the 10 following tax years.

If you file electronically, keep your receipt in case we ask for it later. Otherwise, file your receipt with your paper return.

To claim the credit, file a completed Schedule 390, Manitoba Cooperative Development Tax Credit, with your return.

On line 609 of Schedule 5, enter the amount of the non-refundable credit you are claiming. The amount cannot be more than the non-refundable amount on the T2CDTC(MB) slip and the Manitoba tax payable before claiming this credit and the refundable credits.

On line 612 of Schedule 5, enter the amount of the refundable credit you are claiming.

Manitoba “Neighbourhoods Alive!” tax credit

Corporations that make financial donations and provide an eligible service contribution to support charitable organizations in establishing and operating eligible social enterprises in Manitoba can claim a 30% non-refundable tax credit of up to $15,000 a year, in addition to their charitable donation deduction.

The donations made in the immediately preceding four tax years, after April 12, 2011, and before 2020 are eligible for the tax credit. The social enterprise must be newly created after April 12, 2011, and eligible service contributions must be made in its first five years.

You can take up to four years to achieve the minimum $50,000 donation threshold. You can also make an up-front donation of up to $200,000 in the first year, and provide eligible service contributions to earn the maximum credit in each of the subsequent four tax years.

Any unused tax credits can be carried back for up to 3 tax years as long as they end after April 12, 2011. They can also be carried forward up to 10 years.

To claim the credit, file a completed Schedule 391, Manitoba "Neighbourhoods Alive!" tax credit, with your return.

On line 610 of Schedule 5, enter the amount of the credit you are claiming.

Manitoba cultural industries printing tax credit

This refundable tax credit for Manitoba printers is based on the eligible printing costs incurred and paid before 2019 in producing eligible books.

The credit is calculated as $$\text{tax credit} = 35\% \times L \times (R1/R2)$$

where:

L is the total of the amounts paid by the printer in the tax year, and before 2019, as salary or wages to its employees who were resident in Manitoba on December 31 of that tax year for their employment in the printer's book printing division;

R1 is the printer's eligible printing revenue for the tax year; and

R2 is the total book printing revenue, other than revenue from the printing of yearbooks, earned by the printer in the tax year and before 2019.

Before 2015, the credit was equal to 15% of eligible printing costs.

You can claim this credit if you are engaged in the business of printing books in Manitoba and have a permanent establishment in Manitoba.

The following conditions apply:

- the maximum revenue is capped at $200,000 per book title;
- at least 90% of the book must be new material that has not already been published;
- if the book contains pictures and is not a children's book, at least 65% must be text; and
- the printer must demonstrate that the book is for sale through an established distributor.

An eligible book is a non-periodical Canadian-authored publication. It is classified as fiction, non-fiction, poetry, drama, biography, or children's. An eligible book must be printed before 2019.

On line 611 of Schedule 5, enter the amount of the credit you are claiming.

Manitoba interactive digital media tax credit

Manitoba Jobs and the Economy will issue a tax credit certificate to a corporation that develops and produces an eligible interactive digital media project in Manitoba, upon completion of the project. However, the corporation must first receive a certificate of eligibility before the start of the project.

The following conditions apply:

- the tax credit certificates can be issued on a tax-year basis (this does not apply if the government or a public body is the purchaser);
- repaid or repayable government assistance does not reduce eligible labour costs; and
- where a government or public authority is the purchaser of an interactive digital media product, the amount paid by the purchaser and the amount of the interactive digital media tax credit cannot exceed 100% of the project's costs.

To claim the credit, a qualifying corporation must be a taxable Canadian corporation with a permanent establishment in Manitoba. It must pay at least 25% of the salary and wages to employees who are Manitoba residents for the project period.

The amount of the credit is equal to 40% of eligible labour costs paid in the tax year to residents of the province. The maximum tax credit on an eligible project is $500,000.

Effective on June 30, 2016, the limits of 24 months and $500,000 labour expense per project from the existing 40% credit are eliminated. And a new 35% credit is added for a corporation that pays less than 25% of its wages to Manitoba employees, but pays wages of at least $1 million after government assistance related to those expenses each year to Manitoba employees working on eligible projects.

Projects that begin prototyping and product development before 2020 qualify for the credit.

For projects that have been issued an eligibility certificate after 2011 and that start production after 2012:

- companies may claim up to $100,000 in eligible marketing and distribution expenses that are directly attributable to an eligible production entitled to claim marketing and distribution expense;
- financial support from the Canada Media Fund that is recoupable or repayable will not be treated as government assistance;
- an eligible product that is developed under contract for an arm's-length purchaser does not need to demonstrate the product will be resold or licensed by that arm's-length purchaser; and
- a broader interpretation of the sale requirement will be used by the province in determining which types of commercialization projects will be eligible.

This credit is fully refundable.

To claim the credit, file the certificate with your return no later than the filing due date of the tax year following the tax year in which the project was completed.

On line 614 of Schedule 5, enter the amount of the credit you are claiming.

Manitoba book publishing tax credit

You can claim this credit if you:

- are engaged mainly in the business of publishing books or you operate a book publishing business as a university press;
- have a permanent establishment in Manitoba;
- pay at least 25% of the wages and salaries to employees who are Manitoba residents; and
- have published at least two eligible books within the two-year period ending at the end of the tax year.

An eligible book is a first edition, non-periodical Canadian-authored publication. It is classified as fiction, non-fiction, poetry, drama, biography or children's. An eligible book must be published before 2018.

The credit is equal to 40% of eligible Manitoba labour costs, including non-refundable monetary advances made in the tax year to authors of eligible books, to a maximum of $100,000 per year. Eligible labour costs must be incurred and paid in Manitoba by the publisher before 2018.

The credit also includes non-refundable monetary advances and labour costs related to publishing an electronic version of an eligible literary work.

An additional bonus of 15% on Manitoba printing costs can be claimed if the book is printed on paper with a minimum of 30% recycled content. For this bonus, eligible printing costs must be incurred and paid within one year of publication of the eligible book.

The credit is fully refundable.

To claim the credit, file a completed Schedule 389, Manitoba Book Publishing Tax Credit, with your return.

On line 615 of Schedule 5, enter the amount of the credit you are claiming.

Manitoba green energy equipment tax credit

Manufacturer's tax credit

You can claim this credit if you manufacture and sell geothermal heat pumps for use in Manitoba before July 1, 2023.

Effective on November 5, 2015, the Province introduces a new component of the tax credit of 8% for manufacturers of green energy transmission equipment sold before July 1, 2023.

The Manitoba manufacturing investment tax credit (page 99) includes a credit for green energy transmission equipment.

Manufacturers can claim a 7.5% tax credit on the adjusted cost of geothermal heat pump systems that meet the standards set by the Canadian Standards Association. Adjusted cost means an amount equal to 125% of the manufacturer's cost of manufacturing the heat pump. Before November 5, 2015, the credit was based on the sale price, rather than the adjusted cost.

This credit is refundable, but must first be applied against total taxes payable.

On line 619 of Schedule 5, enter the amount of the credit earned in the year.

Purchaser's tax credit

You can also claim this credit if you buy qualifying property that is used to produce energy in Manitoba from a renewable resource before July 1, 2023. The rate varies with different classes of property and is prescribed by legislation.

Purchasers can claim a credit on geothermal heat pump systems that meet the standards set by the Canadian Standards Association. The tax credit equals the total of:

- 15% of the capital cost of geothermal energy equipment, excluding the cost of the heat pump; and
- 7.5% of the purchase price of a heat pump that qualifies for the manufacturer's geothermal energy equipment tax credit.

Purchasers who install new specified solar heating equipment in Manitoba qualify for a refundable 10% credit on the eligible capital costs (including taxes and costs related to acquiring and making the system operational). The equipment does not include equipment used to heat water for use in a swimming pool or equipment that distributes heated air or water in a building.

This credit now includes gasification equipment and biomass fuel energy equipment that is installed in Manitoba and used in a business. The tax credit rate is 15%.

This credit is refundable, but must first be applied against total taxes payable.

On line 619 of Schedule 5, enter the amount of the credit earned in the year.

Manitoba film and video production tax credit

Manitoba Film and Music reviews all tax credit applications and will issue a tax credit certificate to a corporation that produces an eligible film in the province.

The credit is based on labour costs or production costs.

The credit is equal to 45% (65% with bonuses) of eligible salaries paid before January 1, 2020, for work performed on an eligible film.

The percentage of eligible salaries paid to non-residents for work performed in Manitoba is 30% of eligible salaries paid to Manitobans when there are two Manitoba trainees for each eligible non-resident in the film production technical crew. However, it is 10% of eligible salaries paid to Manitobans when there is only one Manitoba trainee for each eligible non-resident.

The following bonuses are available:

- a 10% frequent filming bonus on the third eligible film, for corporations that produce three eligible films in two years. This also applies to serial productions;
- a 5% rural filming bonus on eligible salaries paid for work performed in Manitoba on productions where at least 50% of filming days take place at least 35 kilometres outside of Winnipeg; and

- a 5% Manitoba producer bonus on eligible salaries where a Manitoba resident receives credit as a producer on an eligible film.

Instead of claiming the credit based on labour costs only, corporations may elect to claim a 30% tax credit based on production costs incurred for labour, goods, and services provided in Manitoba that are directly attributable to the production of an eligible film.

For productions that start principal photography after April 17, 2012, the cost-of-production credit also includes eligible accommodation expenditures incurred and paid up to $300 (including tax) per night for a residence or a hotel room in Manitoba.

This credit is fully refundable, but must first be applied against total taxes payable.

To claim the credit, for each eligible film, file the following with your return for the tax year:

- a Certificate of Completion (if the production was completed in the tax year), or an Advance Certificate of Eligibility (if the production was not completed in the tax year), issued by Manitoba Film and Music;
- a completed copy of Schedule 388, Manitoba Film and Video Production Tax Credit; and
- all the additional documents listed on the last page of Schedule 388.

If you file your return electronically, send a paper copy of the Certificate of Completion or the Advance Certificate of Eligibility issued by Manitoba Film and Music, along with all the additional documents listed on the last page of Schedule 388, to the appropriate Film Services Unit (FSU). The location of the production corporation's books and records usually determines which FSU will handle the review of your claim. A list of FSUs is available at cra.gc.ca/tx/nnrstdnts/flm/mmm-eng.html.

Note

If the books and records are maintained outside Canada your claim will be reviewed by the FSU located at the Fraser Valley and Northern tax services office.

If you file a paper return, send the return and required attachments to your tax centre. A list of the tax centres is available at cra.gc.ca/taxcentre.

Corporations may file Form T2029, Waiver in Respect of the Normal Reassessment Period or Extended Reassessment Period, to extend the application for a Certificate of Completion with the Manitoba certifying authority by 18 months.

On line 620 of Schedule 5, enter the amount of the credit earned in the current year.

Manitoba data processing investment tax credits

The Manitoba data processing investment tax credits include the following three credits:

- the data processing centre investment tax credit for operator;
- the data processing centre investment tax credit for building lessor; and
- the data processing property investment tax credit.

Data processing centre (operator)

The Manitoba data processing centre investment tax credit for operator is a refundable credit available to corporations with a permanent establishment in Manitoba whose primary business activity, including the activities of their affiliates, is data processing.

The tax credit is equal to 4.5% of the capital cost of a new data processing building and 8% of the capital cost of new or refurbished data processing centre property. Such property must be acquired by the company for use in its data processing centre in Manitoba and be available for use after June 30, 2013, and before 2019.

Between April 18, 2012, and June 30, 2013, this credit was named the Manitoba data processing centre investment tax credit. It was equal to 7% of the capital cost of data processing centre property and 4% of the capital cost of data processing buildings.

Data processing centre (building lessor)

The credit also applies to new data processing centres built or acquired in Manitoba after 2013 and before 2019, and leased to an eligible corporation that is dealing at arm's length with the lessor. This part of the credit is the Manitoba data processing centre investment tax credit for building lessor.

Data processing property

The Manitoba data processing property investment tax credit was previously named the Manitoba data processing equipment investment tax credit.

It is a refundable credit for eligible corporations equal to 8% of the cost of data processing property purchased or leased in the current tax year. To be eligible for this credit, the total cost of data processing property purchased or leased in the year has to be at least $10 million.

Property must be purchased or leased by the company for use in its data processing centre in Manitoba and be available for use after April 16, 2013, and before 2019. The corporation does not have to be primarily engaged in data processing in Manitoba, as long as it has a permanent establishment in Manitoba.

After June 2013, these credits also apply to data processing centres built by partnerships. The corporation can claim its proportionate share of the credit that would be earned by the partnership, if the partnership were a taxable Canadian corporation. To claim the entire amount of the credit, the corporation has to file an election, along with a written consent of the partnership, with its return.

To claim the credits, file a completed Schedule 392, Manitoba Data Processing Investment Tax Credits, with your return.

On line 324 of Schedule 5, enter the total amount of the credit you are claiming.

Manitoba nutrient management tax credit

Agribusiness corporations with a permanent establishment in Manitoba are eligible for this refundable tax credit.

The credit is equal to 10% of the capital costs related to acquiring and installing environmentally sound systems for use in Manitoba that reduce the risk of nutrient transport to water and help improve water quality.

Eligible equipment includes: solid-liquid separation systems, anaerobic digesters, gravity settling tanks, manure treatment systems, and manure composting facilities; also included are storage tanks suitable for winter manure storage by operators with fewer than 300 animal units.

The assets must be acquired and available for use after April 17, 2012, and before 2019.

Borrowing costs are not eligible, and tax creditable capital costs will be net of any government assistance received or receivable on the eligible investment.

To claim the credit, file a completed Schedule 393, Manitoba Nutrient Management Tax Credit, with your return.

On line 325 of Schedule 5, enter the amount of the credit you are claiming.

Manitoba rental housing construction tax credit

This tax credit is equal to 8% of the capital cost of an eligible rental housing project for which a building permit is obtained after April 16, 2013, and that becomes available for use before 2020.

Eligible projects means the construction or conversion from a non-residential use, of a building, group of buildings, or portion of a building, with at least five or more new residential rental units, and with at least 10% of the units qualifying as affordable rental housing units. The maximum credit is set at $12,000 per eligible rental unit.

Manitoba Housing and Community Development reviews all tax credit applications and will issue a tax credit certificate to a corporation that builds an eligible rental housing project.

Eligible landlords can operate as a for-profit or not-for-profit corporation, but must be residents of Manitoba or have a permanent establishment in Manitoba. Eligible not-for-profit projects will receive a fully refundable tax credit in the year in which the tax credit is earned, as the project becomes available for use. The tax credit on for-profit projects will be claimable over a maximum of five years, and is non-refundable.

To claim the credit, file a completed Schedule 394, Manitoba Rental Housing Construction Tax Credit, with your return. You do not have to file the certificate with your return. However, keep it in case we ask for it later. Tax-exempt corporations also have to file a return in order to claim this credit.

On line 602 of Schedule 5, enter the amount of the non-refundable credit you are claiming. On line 326 of Schedule 5, enter the amount of the refundable credit.

Manitoba community enterprise development tax credit

Corporations with a permanent establishment in Manitoba that pay at least 25% of their payroll to Manitoba residents are eligible to acquire tax-creditable shares when they invest in specific community enterprises or in community development investment pools in their communities. The Manitoba government will issue a receipt called slip T2CEDTC (MAN.). The shares must be issued after June 11, 2014 and before 2021.

This refundable credit is equal to 45% of a maximum annual investment of $60,000.

If you file electronically, keep your receipt in case we ask for it later. Otherwise, file your receipt with your paper return.

On line 327 of Schedule 5, enter the total amount of the credit you are claiming.

Saskatchewan

The lower rate of Saskatchewan income tax is 2%.

Income eligible for this lower rate is determined using the Saskatchewan business limit of $500,000.

The higher rate of income tax is 12%.

This higher rate applies to all income not eligible for the lower rate.

You can use Schedule 411, Saskatchewan Corporation Tax Calculation, to help you calculate your Saskatchewan tax before the application of credits. You do not have to file it with your return. See the schedule for more details.

On line 235 of Schedule 5, enter the amount of tax calculated.

Saskatchewan political contribution tax credit

You can claim a tax credit on contributions made to qualifying political parties or election candidates as follows:

- 75% of the first $400 contributed;

plus

- 50% of the next $350 contributed;

plus

- 33 1/3% of the next $525 contributed, to a maximum credit of $650.

You do not have to file official receipts with your return. However, keep them in case we ask for them later. We can only accept photocopies if the issuer certifies them as true copies.

On line 890 of Schedule 5, enter the total amount of qualifying contributions, and on line 624, enter the amount of the credit you are claiming.

Saskatchewan manufacturing and processing profits tax reduction

You can claim this reduction if at any time in the tax year you had a permanent establishment in Saskatchewan, earned taxable income and had Canadian manufacturing and processing profits, in Saskatchewan.

The profits from producing or processing electrical energy or steam for sale can be included with Canadian manufacturing and processing profits for this tax reduction.

You must claim this reduction within three years of the filing due date of the return for the applicable tax year.

You can reduce the Saskatchewan income tax rate on Canadian manufacturing and processing profits by 2%.

You can calculate the reduction on Schedule 404, Saskatchewan Manufacturing and Processing Profits Tax Reduction. Schedule 404 is a worksheet to calculate the reduction and does not have to be filed with your return. For more details, see the schedule.

On line 626 of Schedule 5, enter the amount of reduction you are claiming.

Saskatchewan manufacturing and processing investment tax credit

You can earn this credit on qualified property that is used in Saskatchewan mainly for manufacturing or processing goods for lease or sale.

The credit is fully refundable and is equal to 5% of the capital cost of the qualified property.

The credit earned on qualified property acquired before April 7, 2006, is non-refundable. Any unused credit that has not expired can be carried forward for up to 10 years that follow the tax year in which you earned the credit.

Corporations that are exempt under section 149 of the federal Income Tax Act are not eligible for the refundable credit.

To claim the credit, file a completed Schedule 402, Saskatchewan Manufacturing and Processing Investment Tax Credit, with your return. For more details, see the schedule.

On line 644 of Schedule 5, enter the amount of the refundable credit you are claiming.

On line 630 of Schedule 5, enter the amount of the non-refundable credit you are claiming.

Saskatchewan research and development tax credit

You can claim this credit if you have a permanent establishment in Saskatchewan, and you made eligible expenditures for scientific research and experimental development carried out in Saskatchewan.

The credit is equal to 10% of eligible expenditures when incurred after March 31, 2015, and is non-refundable. The unused credit can be carried back 3 tax years and carried forward 10 tax years from the tax year in which you earned the credit.

For eligible expenditures incurred before April 1, 2015, the credit is equal to 15% and is refundable only in some situations.

The following table summarizes the eligibility criteria for refund:

Expenditures incurred	Annual expenditures	Non-CCPCs	CCPCs
After March 31, 2015	no limit	non-refundable	non-refundable
After March 31, 2012, and before April 1, 2015	$3 million or less	non-refundable	refundable more than $3 million	non-refundable	non-refundable

After March 18, 2009, and before April 1, 2012	no limit	refundable	refundable
Before March 19, 2009	no limit	non-refundable	non-refundable

Effective for qualifying expenditures incurred after March 31, 2012, and before April 1, 2015:

- the tax credit is refundable only for Canadian-controlled private corporations, up to a maximum annual limit of $3 million in qualifying expenditures; and
- qualifying expenditures that are more than the annual limit, and all qualifying expenditures incurred by other corporations, are eligible for a non-refundable tax credit which may be applied to reduce Saskatchewan tax that you would otherwise have to pay.

For eligible expenditures made after March 18, 2009, and before April 1, 2012, the credit is fully refundable for all corporations.

The credit is based on the sum of the corporation's eligible expenditures and on any repayments of government assistance that are related to eligible expenditures.

For eligible expenditures made before March 19, 2009, the whole credit was non-refundable for all corporations. Any remaining credit that has not expired can be carried forward 10 years after the tax year in which you earned the credit.

You can renounce the non-refundable research and development tax credit for an eligible expenditure incurred during the year, in whole or in part.

To claim the credit, file a completed Schedule 403, Saskatchewan Research and Development Tax Credit. See the schedule for more details.

On line 631 of Schedule 5, enter the amount of the non-refundable credit you are claiming. On line 645 of Schedule 5, enter the amount of the refundable credit.

Saskatchewan qualifying environmental trust tax credit

A corporation that is a beneficiary of a qualifying environmental trust located in Saskatchewan can claim a 12% tax credit on income that is subject to tax under Part XII.4 of the federal Income Tax Act.

The qualifying environmental trust will issue a letter to the corporation that is a beneficiary.

This credit is fully refundable, but must first be applied against taxes payable.

You do not have to file the letter with your return. However, keep it in case we ask for it later.

On line 641 of Schedule 5, enter the amount of the credit earned.

British Columbia

The lower rate of British Columbia income tax is 2.5%.

Income eligible for the lower rate is determined using the British Columbia business limit of $500,000.

The higher rate of British Columbia income tax is 11%.

This rate applies to all income not eligible for the lower rate.

You can use Schedule 427, British Columbia Corporation Tax Calculation, to help you calculate your British Columbia tax before the application of credits. You do not have to file it with your return. See the schedule for more details.

On line 240 of Schedule 5, enter the amount of tax calculated.

British Columbia farmers' food donation tax credit

The Province introduced a credit for corporations in the business of farming that donate qualifying agricultural products they produce in British Columbia to a registered charity that provides food to those in need or helps to operate a school meal program.

The non-refundable tax credit is equal to 25% of the eligible amount of the qualifying agricultural product for gifts made on or after February 17, 2016, and before January 1, 2019.

You must claim the credit in the same amount and same year that you claim the deduction for charitable gifts under section 110.1 of the federal Income Tax Act for the donation and within five tax years of the gift being made.

To claim the credit, file a completed Schedule 2, Charitable Donations and Gifts, with your return. For more details, see the schedule.

On line 683 of Schedule 5, enter the amount of the credit you are claiming.

British Columbia small business venture capital tax credit

Corporations investing in shares of a registered venture capital corporation or eligible business corporation can claim a British Columbia venture capital tax credit. The British Columbia government issues a certificate called Form SBVC 10 to these corporations.

Apply this credit first to reduce the British Columbia provincial tax payable for the year to zero. If unclaimed credits remain, you can carry them forward for four tax years to reduce the British Columbia tax payable.

You do not have to file the certificate with your return. However, keep it in case we ask for it later.

On Schedule 5, line 880, enter the unclaimed tax credit, if any, at the end of the previous tax year. On line 881, enter the tax credit amount available in the current year as reported on Form SBVC 10. On line 882, enter the nine-digit certificate number from Form SBVC 10. On line 656, enter the tax credit amount you are claiming.

British Columbia SR&ED non-refundable tax credit

Qualifying CCPCs with SR&ED qualified expenditures that are more than their expenditure limit and other qualifying corporations may claim a non-refundable tax credit.

The non-refundable tax credit for a tax year is 10% of the SR&ED qualified BC expenditure for that year less the total of:

- the amount of refundable credit for that year; and
- any amount renounced for that year.

The credit may be deducted against the income tax payable for that year. You must claim the maximum tax credit available in the year it is earned. You can carry back an unused credit to the three previous tax years from the year the expenditures were incurred. You can also carry forward the unclaimed credit to the ten tax years that follow the tax year in which the expenditures were incurred.

British Columbia film and television tax credit

The film and television tax credits are for domestic productions with qualifying levels of Canadian content. To claim these credits, an eligible production corporation must be a Canadian-controlled taxable corporation that has a permanent establishment in British Columbia and its activities must primarily be carrying on a film or video production business through a permanent establishment in Canada.

The film and television tax credit cannot be claimed if the production services tax credit is claimed for that production.

These credits are fully refundable but must first be applied against total taxes payable.

These credits apply to BC labour expenditures. For determining BC labour expenditures, a BC-based individual is a person who is resident in the province on December 31 of the year preceding the end of the tax year for which the tax credit is claimed.

An eligible production corporation can claim these different credits:

- the basic tax credit (35%);
- the regional tax credit (12.5%);
- the distant location regional tax credit (6%);
- the film training tax credit (3%—see other option below); and
- the digital animation, visual effects and post-production (DAVE) tax credit (17.5%—16% after September 30, 2016).

Note

If you are not eligible for, and do not claim the basic tax credit, you cannot claim the regional, distant location, film training, or the DAVE tax credits.

To claim these credits, file the following with your return for the year:

- the eligibility certificate (or a copy) requested from Creative BC;
- if it applies, the completion certificate (or a copy), and a copy of the audited statement of production costs and notes provided to Creative BC; and
- a completed copy of Form T1196, British Columbia Film and Television Tax Credit, for each eligible production.

If you file your return electronically, send a paper copy of the eligibility certificate requested from Creative BC or, if it applies, of the completion certificate, and a copy of the audited statement of production costs and notes provided to Creative BC, to the appropriate Film Services Unit (FSU). The location of the production corporation's books and records usually determines which FSU will handle the review of your claim. A list of FSUs is available at cra.gc.ca/tx/nrrsdnts/flm/mm-eng.html.

Note

If the books and records are maintained outside Canada your claim will be reviewed by the FSU located at the Fraser Valley and Northern tax services office.

If you file a paper return, send the return and required attachments to your tax centre. A list of the tax centres is available at cra.gc.ca/taxcentre.

You must claim these credits no later than 36 months after the end of the tax year.

On line 671 of Schedule 5, enter the amount you are claiming.

Basic tax credit

The basic tax credit is equal to 35% of the qualified BC labour expenditure for the tax year for the production.

For an interprovincial co-production that started principal photography before January 1, 2012, the 35% basic tax credit is multiplied by the percentage of copyright that the corporation owns.

Regional tax credit

The regional tax credit is equal to one of the following amounts:

- 12.5% of the qualified BC labour expenditure for the production for the tax year, where a minimum of five days and more than 50% of the total principal photography days in British Columbia are outside of the designated Vancouver area; or
- for a production that is intended for television broadcast as a series and that comprises a cycle of at least three episodes, where principal photography of at least three episodes is done in British Columbia outside of the designated Vancouver area, the credit is 12.5% of the qualified BC labour expenditure for the tax year for the qualified episodes done in British Columbia, where a minimum of five days and more than 50% of the total principal photography days in British Columbia are outside of the designated Vancouver area.

The credit is prorated for the number of days of principal photography done in British Columbia outside the designated Vancouver area over the total number of days of principal photography done in British Columbia.

For animated productions that start key animation after June 26, 2015, the regional tax credit is 12.5% of the qualified BC labour expenditure prorated by the BC labour expenditure incurred in BC outside of the designated Vancouver area over the total BC labour expenditure for the animated production incurred in the tax year. There is no minimum number or percentage of principal photography days required, and there is no proration based on principal photography days.

Distant location regional tax credit

The distant location regional tax credit is available when principal photography is done in British Columbia in a distant location. The distant location is that part of British Columbia that is not included within the area that extends from the designated Vancouver area north, up to and including Whistler, and east to include Hope.

For a production with principal photography done in the Capital Regional District, the distant location regional tax credit is only available if principal photography started after February 18, 2014.

The distant location regional tax credit is equal to one of the following amounts:

- 6% of the qualified BC labour expenditure for the production for the tax year, where a minimum of one day of principal photography is in a distant location; or
- for a production that is intended for television broadcast as a series and that comprises a cycle of at least three episodes, where principal photography of at least three episodes is done in a distant location, the credit is 6% of the qualified BC labour expenditure for the tax year for the qualified episodes determined for the regional tax credit, where a minimum of one day of principal photography is in a distant location.

The credit is prorated for the number of days of principal photography done in a distant location, over the total number of days of principal photography done in British Columbia.

For animated productions that start key animation after June 26, 2015, the distant location regional tax credit is 6% of the qualified BC labour expenditure prorated by the BC labour expenditure incurred in a distant location over the total BC labour expenditure for the animated production incurred in the tax year. There is no minimum number or percentage of principal photography days required, and there is no proration based on principal photography days.

The distant location regional tax credit can only be claimed if the corporation is eligible for, and claiming the regional tax credit.

Film training tax credit

The film training tax credit is equal to whichever is less:

- 3% of the qualified BC labour expenditure for the production for the tax year; or
- 30% of the payments (net of assistance) made to the trainees in the tax year while they are participating in the approved training program on the production.

Digital animation, visual effects and post-production (DAVE) tax credit

The digital animation, visual effects and post-production tax credit is equal to 17.5% of BC labour expenditure incurred, directly attributable to prescribed digital animation or visual effects activities.

This credit now also applies to a corporation's BC labour expenditures that are directly attributable to prescribed digital post-production activities where principal photography of the production starts and the labour expenditures are incurred after February 28, 2015.

For productions that start principal photography on or after October 1, 2016, the 17.5% rate is decreased to 16%. If the first episode in a cycle of a television series starts principal photography before October 1, 2016, the 17.5% rate applies to all episodes in that cycle.

British Columbia production services tax credit

The production services tax credits are available to both domestic and foreign producers and there is no Canadian content requirement. To claim these credits, the corporation must have a permanent establishment in British Columbia during the tax year, and throughout the tax year, must have primarily carried on a film or video production business or a film or video production services business.

The production services tax credit cannot be claimed if the film and television tax credit is claimed for that production.

These credits are fully refundable, but must first be applied against total taxes payable.

These credits apply to BC labour expenditures. A BC-based individual is a person who is resident in the province on December 31 of the year preceding the end of the tax year for which the tax credit is claimed.

An accredited production corporation can claim these different credits:

- the basic production services tax credit (33%—28% after September 30, 2016);
- the regional production services tax credit (6%);
- the distant location production services tax credit (6%); and
- the digital animation, visual effects and post-production (DAVE) services tax credit (17.5%—16% after September 30, 2016).

Note

If you are not eligible for, and do not claim the basic production services tax credit, you cannot claim the regional, distant location, or DAVE services tax credits.

To claim these credits, file the following with your return for the year:

- the accreditation certificate (or a copy) requested from Creative BC; and
- a completed Form T1197, British Columbia Production Services Tax Credit, for each accredited production.

If you file your return electronically, send a paper copy of the accreditation certificate requested from Creative BC to the appropriate Film Services Unit (FSU). The location of the production corporation's books and records usually determines which FSU will handle the review of your claim. A list of FSUs is available at cra.gc.ca/tx/nnrstdnts/flm/mm-eng.html.

Note

If the books and records are maintained outside Canada, your claim will be reviewed by the FSU located at the Fraser Valley and Northern tax services office.

If you file a paper return, send the return and required attachments to your tax centre. A list of the tax centres is available at cra.gc.ca/taxcentre.

You must claim these credits no later than 36 months after the end of the tax year.

On line 672 of Schedule 5, enter the amount of credit you are claiming.

Basic production services tax credit

The basic production services tax credit is equal to 33% of the corporation's accredited qualified BC labour expenditure for the tax year.

For productions that start principal photography on or after October 1, 2016, the basic production services tax credit is decreased from 33% to 28%. If the first episode in a cycle of a television series starts principal photography before October 1, 2016, the 33% rate applies to all episodes in that cycle.

Regional production services tax credit

The regional production services tax credit is equal to 6% of the accredited qualified BC labour expenditure for the production for the tax year, where a minimum of five days and more than 50% of the total principal photography days in British Columbia are done outside of the designated Vancouver area.

The credit is prorated for the number of days of principal photography done in British Columbia outside the designated Vancouver area over the total number of days of principal photography done in British Columbia.

For animated productions that start key animation after June 26, 2015, the regional production services tax credit is 6% of the accredited qualified BC labour expenditure, prorated by the accredited BC labour expenditure incurred in BC outside the designated Vancouver area over the total accredited BC labour expenditure incurred in the tax year. There is no minimum number or percentage of principal photography days required, and there is no proration based on principal photography days.

Distant location production services tax credit

The distant location production services tax credit is available when principal photography is done in British Columbia in a distant location. The distant location is that part of British Columbia that is not included within the area that extends from the designated Vancouver area north, up to and including Whistler and east to include Hope.

For a production with principal photography done in the Capital Regional District, the distant location production services tax credit is only available if principal photography started after February 18, 2014.

The distant location production services tax credit is equal to 6% of the accredited qualified BC labour expenditure for the production for the tax year, where a minimum of one day of principal photography is in a distant location.

The credit is prorated for the number of days of principal photography done in a distant location, over the total number of days of principal photography done in British Columbia.

For animated productions that start key animation after June 26, 2015, the distant location production services tax credit is 6% of the accredited qualified BC labour expenditure prorated by the accredited BC labour expenditure incurred in a distant location over the total accredited BC labour expenditure incurred in the tax year. There is no minimum number or percentage of principal photography days required, and there is no proration based on principal photography days.

The distant location production services tax credit can only be claimed if the corporation is eligible for, and is claiming the regional production services tax credit.

Digital animation, visual effects and post-production (DAVE) services tax credit

The digital animation, visual effects and post-production services tax credit is equal to 17.5% of accredited qualified BC labour expenditure incurred, directly attributable to prescribed digital animation or visual effects activities.

This credit now also applies to a corporation's BC labour expenditures that are directly attributable to prescribed digital post-production activities where principal photography of the production starts and the labour expenditures are incurred after February 28, 2015.

For productions that start principal photography on or after October 1, 2016, the 17.5% rate is decreased to 16%. If the first episode in a cycle of a television series starts principal photography before October 1, 2016, the 17.5% rate applies to all episodes in that cycle.

British Columbia mining exploration tax credit

A corporation that has incurred qualified mining exploration expenses in British Columbia may qualify for the British Columbia mining exploration tax credit. The corporation must have maintained a permanent establishment in the province at any time in the tax year.

The expenditures have to be incurred for determining the existence, location, extent, or quality of a mineral resource in British Columbia.

This credit, which was scheduled to expire December 31, 2016, is extended three years to the end of 2019.

Any flow-through mining expenditure renounced under subsection 66(12.6) of the federal Income Tax Act does not qualify for the credit.

This credit also applies to partnerships. Taxpayers who are active members of a partnership, other than specified members (such as limited partners), can each claim their proportionate share of the partnership's tax credit. To claim your proportionate share of the partnership's tax credit, file a completed Form T1249, British Columbia Mining Exploration Tax Credit Partnership Schedule, with your return. For more details, see the schedule.

The credit is equal to 20% of the amount by which:

- the total qualified mining exploration expenses incurred in the tax year;

is more than

- the total assistance for amounts included in the total qualified mining exploration expenses for the tax year.

A corporation can claim an additional 10% of the total qualified mining exploration expenses incurred in prescribed mountain pine beetle affected areas. These expenses must be reduced by the total assistance attributable to them.

The credit is fully refundable, but must first be applied against total taxes payable.

To claim the credit, file a completed Schedule 421, British Columbia Mining Exploration Tax Credit, with your return. You must claim this credit no later than 36 months after the end of the tax year.

Starting January 1, 2017, the period for claiming the credit for a tax year is reduced from 36 to 18 months after the end of that tax year.

For more details, see the schedule. Members of a partnership must also file a completed Schedule T1249.

On line 673 of Schedule 5, enter the amount of credit you are claiming.

British Columbia book publishing tax credit

You can claim this credit if you receive a base amount of Publishing support contributions under the federal Canada Book Fund (CBF) before April 1, 2017.

The recipient must be a Canadian-controlled corporation carrying on business mainly through a permanent establishment in British Columbia with book publishing as its principal business.

You are eligible for a credit of 90% of the base amount of Publishing support contributions received in the tax year. The credit is fully refundable, but must first be applied against total taxes payable.

On line 886 of Schedule 5, enter the base amount of Publishing support contributions received in the tax year and on line 665, enter the amount of the credit you are claiming. You must claim this credit no later than 18 months after the end of the tax year.

British Columbia training tax credit

You can claim a refundable tax credit if you are a taxable corporation with a permanent establishment in the province and you paid salary or wages before January 1, 2018, to an employee who was registered in a prescribed program administered through the BC Industry Training Authority.

The province offers a credit to employers based on the wages paid to an apprentice:

- the basic tax credit for apprentices in the first 24 months of a non-Red Seal program;
- the completion tax credit when an apprentice completes level three or four of either a Red Seal program or a non-Red Seal program; and

- the enhanced tax credit for apprentices who are registered as Indians under the Indian Act or who qualify for the disability amount on their income tax return (all levels of both Red Seal and non-Red Seal programs).

Note

For level three or four of a Red Seal or non-Red Seal program, level has the same meaning as tax credit level. To complete a tax credit level, see “Requirements for Completing Tax Credit Level” in Training Tax Credits: Table of Eligible Programs and Completion Requirements for Employers.

You cannot claim the British Columbia training tax credit if you claim the British Columbia shipbuilding and ship repair industry tax credit in the tax year, except if your tax year straddles October 1, 2012. Special calculations apply to a tax year that includes October 1, 2012. See “British Columbia shipbuilding and ship repair industry tax credit,” page 114, for an example.

You can claim one or more of the following three credits in the year for each qualified employee:

- The basic tax credit is 20% of the salary and wages (net of designated assistance) that were paid to an employee who was in the first 24 months of a non-Red Seal apprenticeship program in the tax year. The maximum basic tax credit you can claim is $4,000, per employee, per year. This credit is not available to Red Seal trades and cannot be claimed if you are claiming the federal apprenticeship job creation tax credit for the same employee (see page 71);
- The completion tax credit is 15% of the salary and wages (net of designated assistance) that was paid to an employee within the 12 month period ending on any day in the month that the employee completed level three or four. The maximum completion tax credit you can claim is $2,500 per employee who has completed level three, and $3,000 per employee who has completed level four. This credit applies to both Red Seal and non-Red Seal trades; and
- The enhanced tax credit applies to employees who are registered as Indians under the Indian Act or qualify for the disability amount on their income tax return. Do not claim the basic tax credit or the completion tax credit if you are claiming the enhanced tax credit as these credits are included in the calculation of the enhanced tax credits. An employer claiming the enhanced tax credit for a qualifying employee should only complete Part 3 when filing Schedule 428, British Columbia Training Tax Credit. The enhanced tax credits are as follows:
 - for the first 24 months of a Red Seal program, 5.5% of the salary and wages (net of designated assistance) that was paid to an employee who was in the first 24 months of a Red Seal apprenticeship program in the tax year. For salary and wages paid before June 3, 2010, the rate is 15%. The maximum tax credit you can claim is $1,000 per employee. You can claim this credit in addition to the federal apprenticeship job creation tax credit for the same employee;
 - for the first 24 months of a non-Red Seal program, 30% of the salary and wages (net of designated assistance) that was paid to an employee who was in the first 24 months of a non-Red Seal apprenticeship program in the tax year. The maximum tax credit you can claim is $6,000 per employee. This credit is not available to Red Seal trades and cannot be claimed if you are claiming the federal apprenticeship job creation tax credit for the same employee;

- for level three or four of a Red Seal or non-Red Seal program, 22.5% of the salary and wages (net of designated assistance) that was paid to an employee within the 12-month period ending on any day in the month that the employee completed level three or four. The maximum tax credit you can claim is $3,750, per employee who has completed level three and $4,500, per employee who has completed level four.

For the completion and enhanced tax credits, the salary and wages can be dually applied to overlapping periods when more than one level is completed during the tax year.

Example

The employer’s tax year runs from January 1 to December 31, 2016.

An employee completes level three on January 31, 2016, and level four on June 30, 2016.

In the tax year, the employer can claim the wages paid from February 1, 2015, to January 31, 2016, for the level three tax credit. In the same tax year, the employer can also claim the wages paid from July 1, 2015, to June 30, 2016, for the level four tax credit. The wages paid from July 1, 2015, to January 31, 2016, are used for both credits.

You can also claim these credits for former qualified employees for the time they were employed by you during an eligible period, even though they were no longer working for you when they completed a specific level of the apprenticeship program.

These credits extend to partnerships. Corporations who are members of a partnership, other than specified members (such as limited partners), can each claim their share of the partnership’s tax credit.

Special rules apply for employers not dealing at arm’s length who wish to claim the training tax credit for the same employee. For more details, see section 125 of the British Columbia Income Tax Act.

To claim these credits, file a completed Schedule 428, British Columbia Training Tax Credit, with your return. You must claim these credits no later than 36 months after the end of the tax year in which you paid the eligible salaries and wages.

On line 679 of Schedule 5, enter the total amount of the credits you are claiming.

British Columbia interactive digital media tax credit

The interactive digital media tax credit is a refundable credit equal to 17.5% of BC eligible salary and wages (net of designated assistance) incurred before September 1, 2018.

You cannot claim this credit if you claim the BC SR&ED tax credit for the year. Also, the corporation must:

- be registered with the BC Ministry of Finance for each tax year for which the tax credit is claimed;
- have a permanent establishment in British Columbia at any time during the tax year;
- be a taxable Canadian corporation throughout the tax year;
- have an amount of eligible salary and wages for the tax year greater than $100,000. This amount is prorated for short tax years; and
- be a corporation whose:
 - principal business in the tax year is the development of interactive digital media products; or
 - all or substantially all of the business in the tax year consists of one or both of the following:
 - the development of interactive digital media products,
 - the provision of eligible activities to a corporation who has a permanent establishment in British Columbia and whose principal business is the development of interactive digital media products.

To claim the credit, file a completed Schedule 429, British Columbia Interactive Digital Media Tax Credit, with your return.

You must claim this credit no later than 18 months after the end of the tax year.

On line 680 of Schedule 5, enter the amount of the credit you are claiming.

British Columbia shipbuilding and ship repair industry tax credit

You can claim a refundable tax credit if you are an eligible employer in the British Columbia shipbuilding and ship repair industry and you paid salary or wages to an employee who was registered in a prescribed program administered through the BC Industry Training Authority.

The British Columbia shipbuilding and ship repair industry tax credit is available for salary and wages paid after September 30, 2012. It applies to Red Seal and non-Red Seal programs.

You can claim one or more of the following three credits in the year for each qualified employee:

- the basic tax credit for employees within 24 months after the employee entered into an industry training agreement;
- the completion tax credit when an employee completes level three or four of an eligible program; and
- the enhanced tax credit for employees who are registered as Indians under the Indian Act or who qualify for the disability amount on their income tax return (all levels of an eligible program).

For each of the basic and completion tax credits, the credit is equal to 20% of the salary and wages (net of designated assistance) that were paid to an employee, up to a maximum of $5,250 per employee per tax year.

These numbers are increased by half when they apply to the enhanced tax credit. This credit is equal to 30% of the salary and wages (net of designated assistance) that were paid to an employee, up to a maximum of $7,875 per employee per tax year.

For the completion and enhanced tax credits, the salary and wages can be dually applied to overlapping periods when more than one level is completed during the tax year.

You cannot claim the British Columbia training tax credit if you claim the shipbuilding and ship repair industry tax credit in the tax year, except if your tax year straddles October 1, 2012.

Special calculations apply to a tax year that includes October 1, 2012. An employer can claim the British Columbia training tax credit for salary and wages paid before October 1, 2012 and must claim its maximum credit amount under the British Columbia training tax credit. The employer can also claim the British Columbia shipbuilding and ship repair industry tax credit for salary and wages paid after September 30, 2012. However, the total amount claimed under the two credits must not be more than $5,250 per employee ($7,875 per employee if eligible for the enhanced tax credit) for the tax year.

Example

The employer's tax year runs from July 1, 2012 to June 30, 2013.

The employer pays salary and wages to an eligible employee registered in a non-Red Seal program of $10,000 from July 1 to September 30, 2012, and $30,000 from October 1, 2012 to June 30, 2013.

For the transition tax year, the employer would be eligible to claim a basic tax credit under the British Columbia training tax credit program of $2,000 ($20\% \times $10,000 = $2,000$, to a maximum of $4,000).

Because the total maximum amount that can be claimed for both the British Columbia training tax credit and the British Columbia shipbuilding and ship repair industry tax credit cannot be more than $5,250 for the transition tax year, the maximum amount that can be claimed under the British Columbia shipbuilding and ship repair industry tax credit for the transition tax year is $3,250 ($5,250 less $2,000 claimed under the British Columbia training tax credit).

The employer would be eligible to claim a basic tax credit under the British Columbia shipbuilding and ship repair industry tax credit of $3,250 ($20\% \times $30,000 = $6,000$, subject to the maximum claim of $3,250).

These credits extend to partnerships. Corporations that are members of a partnership, other than specified members (such as limited partners), can each claim their share of the partnership's tax credit.

Special rules apply for employers not dealing at arm's length who wish to claim the tax credit for the same employee. For more details, see section 126.5 of the British Columbia Income Tax Act.

To claim these credits, file a completed Schedule 430, British Columbia shipbuilding and ship repair industry tax credit, with your return. You must claim these credits no later than 36 months after the end of the tax year in which you paid the eligible salaries and wages.

On line 681 of Schedule 5, enter the total amount of the credits you are claiming.

Yukon

The lower rate of Yukon income tax is 3%.

Income eligible for this lower rate is determined using the Yukon business limit of $500,000.

The higher rate of tax is 15%. This higher rate applies to taxable income earned in the Yukon that does not qualify for the small business deduction.

You can use Schedule 443, Yukon Corporation Tax Calculation, to help you calculate the Yukon tax before the application of credits. You do not have to file it with your return. See the schedule for more details.

On line 245 of Schedule 5, enter the amount of tax calculated.

Yukon political contribution tax credit

You can claim a tax credit on contributions made to a registered political party or to a candidate for an election to the Yukon Legislative Assembly.

For contributions made after 2015, the Yukon political contribution tax credit for corporations matches the federal political contribution tax credit for individuals on an ongoing basis.

Currently, the maximum credit you can claim is $650 and is calculated as follows:

- 75% of the first $400 contributed;

plus

- 50% of the next $350 contributed;

plus

- 33 1/3% of the amount contributed that is more than $750, to a maximum contribution of $1,275.

For contributions made before 2016, the maximum credit you can claim is $500 and is calculated as follows:

- 75% of the first $100 contributed;

plus

- 50% of the next $450 contributed;

plus

- 33 1/3% of the amount contributed that is more than $550.

You do not have to file official receipts with your return. However, keep them in case we ask for them later. We can only accept photocopies if the issuer certifies them as true copies.

On line 897 of Schedule 5, enter the total amount of qualifying contributions. On line 675, enter the amount of the credit you are claiming.

Yukon manufacturing and processing profits tax credit

Corporations that have earned taxable income and manufacturing and processing profits in the Yukon are eligible for this credit.

Schedule 440, Yukon Manufacturing and Processing Profits Tax Credit, is a worksheet to calculate the credit, and it does not have to be filed with your return. For more details, see the schedule.

On line 677 of Schedule 5, enter the amount of the credit you are claiming.

Yukon research and development tax credit

You can claim this credit if you have a permanent establishment in the Yukon at any time in the year and you incurred qualified expenditures in the year for scientific research and experimental development carried on in the Yukon.

The credit is equal to the total of the following amounts:

- 15% of eligible expenditures incurred in the year; and
- 5% of eligible expenditures included above paid or payable to the Yukon College.

The credit is based on the sum of the corporation's qualified expenditures and any eligible repayments.

The credit is fully refundable, but must first be applied against total taxes payable.

To claim the credit, file Schedule 442, Yukon Research and Development Tax Credit, with your return. For more details, see the schedule.

On line 698 of Schedule 5, enter the amount of the credit earned.

Northwest Territories

The lower rate of Northwest Territories income tax is 4%. This lower rate applies to taxable income earned in the Northwest Territories that qualifies for the federal small business deduction.

The higher rate of the Northwest Territories income tax is 11.5%. This rate applies to taxable income earned in the Northwest Territories that does not qualify for the federal small business deduction.

You can use Schedule 461, Northwest Territories Corporation Tax Calculation, to help you calculate the Northwest Territories tax before the credits are applied. You do not have to file it with your return. See the schedule for more details.

On line 250 of Schedule 5, enter the amount of tax calculated.

Northwest Territories political contribution tax credit

You can claim a tax credit on contributions made to a candidate for an election to the Northwest Territories Legislative Assembly. The allowable political contribution tax credit is equal to:

- 100% of the first $100 contributed;

plus

- 50% of the next $800 contributed, to a maximum credit of $500.

You do not have to file official receipts with your return. However, keep them in case we ask for them later. We can only accept photocopies if the issuer certifies them as true copies.

Note

Contributions to a political party do not qualify for this credit.

On line 898 of Schedule 5, enter the total amount of qualifying contributions, and on line 700, enter the amount of the credit you are claiming.

Northwest Territories investment tax credit

You can no longer file a claim for this credit since it expired for investments made after February 29, 2008. Only unused credits that have not expired can be carried forward for up to seven tax years following the tax year in which you made the investments.

To claim the carryforward, file a completed Schedule 460, Northwest Territories Investment Tax Credit, with your return. For more details, see the schedule.

On line 705 of Schedule 5, enter the amount of credit you are claiming.

Nunavut

The lower rate of Nunavut income tax is 4%. This lower rate applies to taxable income earned in Nunavut that qualifies for the federal small business deduction.

The higher rate of Nunavut income tax is 12%. This rate applies to taxable income earned in Nunavut that does not qualify for the small business deduction.

You can use Schedule 481, Nunavut Corporation Tax Calculation, to help you calculate the Nunavut tax before the credits are applied. You do not have to file it with your return. See the schedule for more details.

On line 260 of Schedule 5, enter the amount of tax calculated.

Nunavut political contribution tax credit

You can claim a tax credit on contributions made to a candidate for an election to the Nunavut Legislative Assembly. The allowable political contribution tax credit is equal to:

- 100% of the first $100 contributed;

plus

- 50% of the next $800 contributed, to a maximum credit of $500.

You do not have to file official receipts with your return. However, keep them in case we ask for them later. We can only accept photocopies if the issuer certifies them as true copies.

Note

Contributions to a political party do not qualify for this credit.

On line 899 of Schedule 5, enter the total amount of qualifying contributions. On line 725, enter the amount of the credit you are claiming.

Other credits

Line 780 – Investment tax credit refund

On line 780, enter the amount of the investment tax credit refund. See page 68 for details.

Line 784 – Dividend refund

On line 784, enter the amount of the dividend refund, which you calculated in the “Dividend refund” area on page 7 of your return. See page 62 for details.

Line 788 – Federal capital gains refund

Investment corporations and mutual fund corporations have to file Schedule 18, Federal and Provincial or Territorial Capital Gains Refund, with their returns. Schedule 18 has to contain the following information:

- details about the refundable capital gains tax on hand;
- details of the capital gains redemption for the year; and
- a calculation of the federal capital gains refund for the year.

Use 28% as the percentage to determine the refundable capital gains tax on hand.

The federal capital gains refund for the year is whichever is less:

- 14% of the total of:
 - the capital gains dividends paid in the period starting 60 days after the beginning of the year and ending 60 days after the end of the year; and
 - the capital gains redemption for the year; or
- the refundable capital gains tax on hand at the end of the year.

Complete the appropriate lines on Schedule 18, and enter on line 788 of the return the federal capital gains refund. See the next page for details on the provincial or territorial capital gains refund.

Note

If a corporation is established and maintained mainly to benefit non-residents, it does not qualify as a mutual fund corporation, and it cannot claim the capital gains refund.

Line 796 – Canadian film or video production tax credit refund

A fully refundable tax credit is available to qualified corporations that produce an eligible production certified by the minister of Canadian Heritage to be a Canadian film or video production.

The credit is equal to 25% of qualified labour expenditures for the year for the production. The qualified labour expenditure cannot be more than 60% of the total cost of a production. The tax credit is therefore limited to 15% of the total cost of a production, less any assistance. Labour expenditures in respect of non-residents of Canada (other than Canadian citizens) will not be eligible for the credit.

For more information, see Guide RC4164, Canadian Film or Video Production Tax Credit, or go to cra.gc.ca/filmservices.

To claim the credit, file the following items with your return for the year:

- the Canadian Film or Video Production Certificate (Part A) issued by the Canadian Audio-Visual Certification Office (CAVCO), or a copy;
- if it applies, a Certificate of Completion (Part B) issued by CAVCO, or a copy, and a copy of the audited statement of production costs and notes provided to CAVCO; and
- a completed Form T1131, Canadian Film or Video Production Tax Credit, for each Canadian film or video production.

If you file your return electronically, send a paper copy of the certificate from CAVCO to the appropriate Film Services Unit (FSU). The location of the production corporation's books and records usually determines which FSU will handle the review of your claim. A list of FSUs is available at cra.gc.ca/tx/nnrstdnts/flm/mm-eng.html.

Note

If the books and records are maintained outside Canada your claim will be reviewed by the FSU located at the Fraser Valley and Northern tax services office.

If you file a paper return, send the return and required attachments to your tax centre. A list of the tax centres is available at cra.gc.ca/taxcentre.

On line 796, enter the amount of the credit from Form T1131. If you are filing more than one of these forms, enter the cumulative total.

You cannot claim the Canadian film or video production tax credit if you claim the film or video production services tax credit for that same production for any tax year.

Line 797 – Film or video production services tax credit refund

A fully refundable tax credit is available to eligible production corporations for a film or video production certified by the minister of Canadian Heritage to be an accredited production.

Eligible production corporations do not include those that, at any time in the year, are tax-exempt, are controlled by one or more tax-exempt entities, or are prescribed labour-sponsored venture capital corporations.

The credit is equal to 16% of qualified Canadian labour expenditures for the year.

Note

Qualified Canadian labour expenditure is net of any assistance.

For more information, see Guide RC4385, Film or Video Production Services Tax Credit, or go to cra.gc.ca/filmservices.

To claim the credit, file the following items with your return for the year:

- an Accredited Film or Video Production Certificate, or a copy issued by CAVCO; and
- a completed Form T1177, Film or Video Production Services Tax Credit, for each accredited production.

If you file your return electronically, send a paper copy of the accreditation certificate from CAVCO to the appropriate Film Services Unit (FSU). The location of the production corporation's books and records usually determines which FSU will handle the review of your claim. A list of FSUs is available at cra.gc.ca/tx/nnrstdnts/flm/mm-eng.html.

Note

If the books and records are maintained outside Canada your claim will be reviewed by the FSU located at the Fraser Valley and Northern tax services office.

If you file a paper return, send the return and required attachments to your tax centre. A list of the tax centres is available at cra.gc.ca/taxcentre.

On line 797, enter the amount of the credit from Form T1177. If you are filing more than one of these forms, enter the cumulative total.

You cannot claim the film or video production services tax credit if you claim the Canadian film or video production tax credit for that same production for any tax year.

On line 812, enter the amount of provincial and territorial refundable tax credits calculated on line 255 of Schedule 5 (negative amount).

Line 840 – Tax instalments paid

On line 840, report all instalment payments you made for the tax year.

You can view your interim balance; and if needed, you can transfer payments within a program account and between program accounts of the same nine-digit business number and immediately view updated balances, by using the “Account balance and activities” service through:

- My Business Account at cra.gc.ca/mybusinessaccount, if you are the business owner; or
- Represent a Client at cra.gc.ca/representatives, if you are an authorized representative or employee.

If there is a discrepancy between the amount you report on the return and the interim balance in your business account, we will use the amount in your business account for the tax year being assessed when we process the return.

For information on how to make payments, go to cra.gc.ca/payments or see Guide T7B-Corp, Corporation Instalment Guide. For more information on calculating instalments, go to My Business Account at cra.gc.ca/mybusinessaccount and use the “Calculate instalment payments” service or see Guide T7B-Corp, Corporation Instalment Guide.

Note

Even if you elected to report in a functional currency, you still have to complete line 840 in Canadian currency.

Refund or payment

Your overpayment or balance unpaid is the difference you get after subtracting all the credits on lines 780 to 840 from the total tax payable on line 770.

If your total tax payable (line 770) is less than your total credits (line 890), enter the difference on the overpayment line.

If your total payable (line 770) is more than your total credits (line 890), enter the difference on the balance unpaid line.

Note

After we process your return and apply any interest and/or penalty charges, if the total amount owing at that time is $2 or less, you will not have to pay that amount. If an amount of $2 or less is owed to you, the amount will not be refunded; however, we will apply it to any existing liability you may have.

Line 894 – Refund code

If entitled to a refund, enter one of the following codes on line 894:

- enter “1” or leave this line blank if you want us to refund the overpayment;
- enter “2” if you want us to transfer the overpayment to next year’s instalment account; or
- enter “3” if you want us to apply the overpayment to another liability (such as an expected debit from a reassessment) or to a different account. Attach a letter to your return giving instructions and we will review your request.

Whichever option you choose, we will apply the overpayment to any outstanding liabilities the corporation owes on the same or related business number account. Then, we will refund or transfer the excess overpayment according to the code you enter. We will do this only if all the required returns have been filed on the account and all related accounts.

Note

Under subsection 220(6) of the Income Tax Act a corporation may assign any amount payable under this Act. However, according to Subsection 220(7) the minister of National Revenue “is not required to pay to the assignee, the assigned amount.” As an alternative, we will review a request to send the refund to a “care of” address. However, a refund issued in this manner will still be issued in the name of the corporation (see bullet 3 above).

The payment of refunds and rebates will be withheld until all required returns, of which the minister of National Revenue has knowledge, have been filed.

Payment of balance owing

You can pay your corporation’s balance owing electronically by using your financial institution’s Internet or telephone banking services, or through a third-party service provider. Most financial institutions allow a corporation to schedule a future-dated payment. If you don’t have a bank account at a financial institution in Canada, you can pay by wire transfer. For more information about payments, go to cra.gc.ca/payments or contact your financial institution.

Make your payment online using the Canada Revenue Agency’s My Payment option. For more information, or to use My Payment, go to cra.gc.ca/mypayment.

Pre-authorized debit (PAD) is an online, self-service option. Businesses can authorize the CRA to withdraw a payment or payments to be made from a Canadian bank account to the CRA on a pre-set date to pay an amount owing or make instalment payments. By setting up a PAD through the CRA’s My Business Account, businesses can reduce the risk of misallocated payments and avoid missing deadlines and the resulting penalties and interest charges.

If you have an amount owing, you can view a revised balance that includes interest calculated to a date you select by using the “Account balance and activities” service and selecting the “Calculate future balance” option through:

- My Business Account at cra.gc.ca/mybusinessaccount, if you are the business owner; or
- Represent a Client at cra.gc.ca/representatives, if you are an authorized representative or employee.

You can request that we stop issuing remittance vouchers and the envelope that accompany notices and statements using the “Enquiries service” and selecting the “Change mailing instructions” option through My Business Account at cra.gc.ca/mybusinessaccount or through Represent a Client at cra.gc.ca/representatives.

Direct deposit request

Lines 910 to 918

You can start, update, or stop direct deposit online, and also view direct deposit transactions through:

- My Business Account at cra.gc.ca/mybusinessaccount, if you are a business owner; or
- Represent a Client at cra.gc.ca/representatives, if you are a representative with level 3 (delegated authority) authorization.

Representatives authorized at level 1 or 2 with online access can see direct deposit banking information and transactions at cra.gc.ca/representatives.

Another way to start direct deposit for your corporation’s account, or to change banking information you already gave us, is to complete the “Direct deposit request” at the bottom of page 9 of the return. You do not have to complete this area if you have already signed up for direct deposit and the information you gave before has not changed.

You can also use Form RC366, Direct Deposit Request for Businesses.

You cannot use the Corporation Internet Filing service to start direct deposit or to change your direct deposit information.

For more information, go to cra.gc.ca/directdeposit.

Your direct deposit request will stay in effect until you change the information or cancel the service. However, if your financial institution advises us that you have a new account, we may deposit your payments into the new account. If, for any reason, we cannot deposit a payment into a designated account, we will mail a cheque to you at the address we have on file at the time of the original payment.

Note

The CRA must generate all large-value refunds ($25 million or more) through the Large Value Transfer System (LVTS). To avoid potential delays, you have to be registered for direct deposit and be registered on the LVTS. If you are expecting a large-value refund, arrange for direct deposit and contact your tax centre to make the necessary arrangements.

Mandatory electronic filing for tax preparers

Line 920

Enter the tax preparer’s EFILE number if applicable.

Tax preparers have to file electronically all income tax returns they prepare for a fee, with 2 exceptions: they can file 10 corporation returns and 10 individual returns by means other than electronically. We may charge a penalty to tax preparers who fail to do so.

For more information, go to cra.gc.ca/esrvc-srvce/tx/prprsr/mndtrylctnrcfng-eng.html.

Certification

Lines 950 to 959

Lines 950 to 956 – Complete these lines by giving the required information in the appropriate spaces. Be sure that the person who signs and dates the return is an authorized officer of the corporation.

Line 957 – Tick the appropriate box.

Lines 958 and 959 – If you answer no to line 957, provide the first and last names and telephone number of a contact person. This contact person is responsible for all matters related to the processing of this year’s return, and must be an authorized representative.

Note

If you wish to authorize representatives (including employees) to discuss your corporation income tax return for any year with the CRA, use

My Business Account or complete Form RC59, Business Consent. Please verify if your list of authorized representatives is up-to-date and, if applicable, modify or cancel authorized representatives.

My Business Account allows you to authorize a new representative, and to view, update, and cancel authorizations of existing representatives. For more information, go to cra.gc.ca/mybusinessaccount. For information on how to authorize a representative for a non-resident account, go to cra.gc.ca/tx/nrsdnts/pyr/prtxiii/rpr-nrsdnt-eng.html.

Language of correspondenceLine 990

Indicate in which official language you would like to receive your correspondence by entering the appropriate code:

- 1 for English; or
- 2 for French.

Handling business taxes online

Save time using the CRA's online services for businesses. You can:

- authorize a representative, an employee, or a group of employees, who has registered with Represent a Client, for online access to your business accounts;
- request or delete authorization online through Represent a Client, if you are a representative;
- register for online mail, get email notifications, and view your mail online;
- calculate a balance that includes interest calculated to a future date;
- authorize the withdrawal of a pre-determined amount from your bank account;
- transfer payments and immediately view updated balances;
- request remittance vouchers;
- enrol for direct deposit, update banking information, and view direct deposit transactions;
- request a refund;
- request copies of notices;
- change addresses;
- view answers to common enquiries, and if needed, submit account related enquiries;
- view closing balances (for example, non-capital loss balances);
- view the status of filed returns;
- view the account balance and instalment balance, including the corresponding transactions (for example, payments); and
- do much more.

To register or log in to our online services, go to:

- cra.gc.ca/mybusinessaccount, if you are a business owner; or
- cra.gc.ca/representatives, if you are an authorized representative or employee.

For more information, go to cra.gc.ca/businessonline.

Receiving your CRA mail online

You, or your representative (authorized at a level 2), can choose to receive most of your CRA mail for your business online.

When you or your representative registers for online mail, an email notification will be sent to the email address(es) provided when there is new mail available to view in My Business Account. Correspondence available through online mail will no longer be printed and mailed. To register, select the "Manage online mail" service and follow the steps.

Using our online mail service is faster and easier than managing paper correspondence.

Authorizing the withdrawal of a pre-determined amount from your bank account

Pre-authorized debit (PAD) is an online, self-service, payment option. Through this option, you agree to authorize the CRA to withdraw a pre-determined amount from your bank account to pay tax on a specific date or dates. You can set up a PAD agreement using the CRA's secure My Business Account service at cra.gc.ca/mybusinessaccount. PADs are flexible and managed by you. You can view historical records, modify, cancel, or skip a payment. For more information, go to cra.gc.ca/payments and select "Pre-authorized debit."

Electronic payments

Make your payment using:

- your financial institution's online or telephone banking services;
- the CRA's My Payment service at cra.gc.ca/mypayment; or
- pre-authorized debit at cra.gc.ca/mybusinessaccount.

For more information on all payment options, go to cra.gc.ca/payments.

For more information

What if you need help?

If you need more information after reading this guide, visit cra.gc.ca or call 1-800-959-5525.

For detailed information on topics in this guide, see the provincial, territorial, and federal Income Tax Act and the Income Tax Regulations.

Direct deposit

Direct deposit is a fast, convenient, reliable, and secure way to get your CRA payments directly into your account at a financial institution in Canada. To enrol for direct deposit or to update your banking information, go to cra.gc.ca/directdeposit.

Forms and publications

To get our forms and publications, go to cra.gc.ca/forms or call one of the following numbers:

- from Canada and the United States, 1-800-959-5525;
- from outside Canada and the United States, 613-940-8497. We accept collect calls by automated response. You may hear a beep and experience a normal connection delay.

Electronic mailing lists

We can notify you by email when new information on a subject of interest to you is available on our website. To subscribe to our electronic mailing lists, go to cra.gc.ca/lists.

Teletypewriter (TTY) users

If you have a hearing or speech impairment and use a TTY call 1-800-665-0354 during regular business hours.

Make a service complaint

You can expect to be treated fairly under clear and established rules, and get a high level of service each time you deal with the Canada Revenue Agency (CRA); see the Taxpayer Bill of Rights.

If you are not satisfied with the service you received, try to resolve the matter with the CRA employee you have been dealing with or call the telephone number provided in the CRA's correspondence. If you do not have contact information, go to cra.gc.ca/contact.

If you still disagree with the way your concerns were addressed, you can ask to discuss the matter with the employee's supervisor.

If you are still not satisfied, you can file a service complaint by filling out Form RC193, Service-Related Complaint. For more information, go to cra.gc.ca/complaints.

If the CRA has not resolved your service-related complaint, you can submit a complaint with the Office of the Taxpayers' Ombudsman.

Reprisal complaint

If you believe that you have experienced reprisal, fill out Form RC459, Reprisal Complaint.

For more information about reprisal complaints, go to cra.gc.ca/reprisalcomplaints.

Taxpayer Bill of Rights

The Taxpayer Bill of Rights (TBR) describes and defines 16 rights and builds upon the CRA's corporate values of professionalism, respect, integrity, and cooperation. It describes the treatment you are entitled to when you deal with the CRA. The TBR also sets out the CRA Commitment to Small Business to ensure their interactions with the CRA are conducted as efficiently and effectively as possible.

For more information about your rights and what you can expect when you deal with the CRA, go to cra.gc.ca/rights.

Due dates

When the due date falls on a Saturday, a Sunday, or a public holiday recognized by the CRA, we consider your payment to be on time if we receive it on the next business day. Your return is considered on time if we receive it or if it is postmarked on or before the next business day.

For more information, go to cra.gc.ca/importantdates.

Non-resident corporation enquiries
